well referenced and well worth the read Some may get mad about what it states others may just blow it off But is your life worth losing when others make decisions that should never be made They ll blame you no matter what right wrong or indifferent This book is well worth the money to read to get you thinking more about your safety Safety as Priority One are hollow words that are uttered all the time If it was true we would not have had 588 deaths from burnover and entrapment over the years I took seven multiple death fires since 1994 and studied them in depth You would be amazed what I found From South Canyon to Yarnell Hill there are eerie similarities The book is dedicated to all that have lost their lives fighting wildfire but more importantly to the Granite Mountain Hotshots they never had a chance Brother Man Eden
