Death And The Good Life:

Death, Society, and Human Experience Robert Kastenbaum, Christopher M. Moreman, 2024-03-28 The 13th edition of Death Society and Human Experience provides a panoramic overview of the ways that we are touched by death and dying both as individuals and as members of society A landmark text in the field the authors draw on contributions from the social and behavioral sciences as well as the humanities including perspectives offered through history philosophy religion literature and the arts to provide thorough coverage and understanding of topics associated with the end of life and death and dying By approaching the subject from multiple angles the authors explain the various ways that individual cultural and societal attitudes influence both how and when we die and how we live and deal with the knowledge of death and loss Originally written by Robert Kastenbaum a renowned scholar who developed one of the world s first death education courses Christopher M Moreman who has worked in the field of death studies for two decades has updated this edition In addition to infusing his close areas of focus both in afterlife beliefs and experiences and how these might affect how people live their lives he s weaved in new coverage of current affairs including The impact of COVID 19 on experiences of death bereavement mourning and more Expanded legalization of physician assisted dying in the United States and several countries Changes in bereavement rituals and traditions stemming from technology use and social media With additional content and classroom extensions available online Death Society and Human Experience remains a thoughtful exploratory and impressively comprehensive overview for undergraduate and graduate courses in death dying and bereavement A Good Death?

Simon Woods, 2016-03-16 This interdisciplinary collection presents valuable discourse and reflection on the nature of a good death Bringing together a leading judge and other legal scholars philosophers social scientists practitioners and parents who present varying accounts of a good death the chapters draw from personal experience as well as policy practice and academic analysis Covering themes such as patients rights to determine their own good death considering their best interests when communication becomes difficult and the role and responsibilities of health professionals the book outlines how ethical healthcare might be achieved when dealing with assisted suicide by organizations and how end of life services in general might be improved It will be of interest to students and academics working the area of medical law and ethics as well as health professionals and policy makers A Good Death: On The Value Of Death And Dying

Sandman, Lars, 2004-09-01 Sandman highlights how our changing ideas about the value of life shape the concept of a good death He explores the varying perspectives on the good death that come from friends family physicians spiritual carers and others close to the dying person Setting out a number of arguments for and against existing thinking about a good death this book links to the practice of palliative care in several key areas He concludes that it is difficult to find convincing reasons for any one way to die a good death and argues for a pluralist approach The Death Penalty from an African Perspective

Fainos Mangena, Jonathan O. Chimakonam, 2018-01-15 This book is about an African philosophical examination of the death penalty debate In a 21st century world where the notion of human right is primed this book considers the question of the death penalty in two sub Saharan African countries namely Zimbabwe and Nigeria notorious for their poor human right records This edited collection comprises of 11 essays from Zimbabwean and Nigerian philosophers As opinions continue to divide over the retention or abolition of the death penalty these African philosophers attempt to localise this debate by raising the following questions What is the meaning of life in the African place Is it proper to take the human life under any guise at all Who has the right to take the human life Can the death penalty be jutified on the bases of African cultures Why should it be abolished Why should it be retained Indeed this book is the first of its kind to engage the tumultuous issue of capital punishment in the postcolonial Africa and from the African philosophical point of view

Morality, Mortality: Death and whom to save from it Frances Myrna Kamm,1998 Critically examining other philosophers ideas the author of this work explores the thinking behind the distribution of scarce resources such as transplant organs Publisher The Routledge Companion to Death and Dying Christopher Moreman,2017-05-18 Few issues apply universally to people as poignantly as death and dying All religions address concerns with death from the handling of human remains to defining death to suggesting what happens after life The Routledge Companion to Death and Dying provides readers with an overview of the study of death and dying Questions of death mortality and more recently of end of life care have long been important ones and scholars from a range of fields have approached the topic in a number of ways Comprising over fifty two chapters from a team of international contributors the companion covers funerary and mourning practices concepts of the afterlife psychical issues associated with death and dying clinical and ethical issues philosophical issues death and dying as represented in popular culture This comprehensive collection of essays will bring together perspectives from fields as diverse as history philosophy literature psychology archaeology and religious studies while including various religious traditions including established religions like Christianity Judaism Islam Hinduism and Buddhism as well as new or less widely known traditions such as the Spiritualist Movement the Church of Latter Day Saints and Ra lianism The Routledge Companion to Death and Dying is essential reading for students and researchers in religious studies philosophy and literature

Immortality and the Philosophy of Death Michael Cholbi,2015-12-02 Death comes for us all eventually Philosophers have long been perplexed by how we ought to feel about death Many people fear death and believe that death is bad for the person who dies But is death bad for us and if so how is its badness best explained If we do not survive death if death is simply a state of nothingness how can death be bad for us If death is bad for us do we have good reason to live as long as possible Would an immortal life really be a good human life or would even an immortal life eventually become tedious and make us long for mortality This volume presents fourteen philosophical essays that examine our attitudes toward mortality and immortality The topics addressed have become more urgent as scientists attempt to extend the human lifespan perhaps even indefinitely This book invites the reader to critically appraise his or her own attitudes toward death and immortality by exploring the ethical metaphysical and psychological complexities associated with these issues Annals of Saint Joseph ,1902 The Fourth "R," Homer S.
