Death In Green:

Myths and Memories of the Black Death Ben Dodds, 2021-12-11 This book explores modern representations of the Black Death a medieval pandemic The concept of cultural memory is used to examine the ways in which journalists writers of fiction scholars and others referred to described and explained the Black Death from around 1800 onwards The distant medieval past was often used to make sense of aspects of the present from the cholera pandemics of the nineteenth century to the climate crisis of the early twenty first century A series of overlapping myths related to the Black Death emerged based only in part on historical evidence Cultural memory circulates in a variety of media from the scholarly article to the video game and online video clip and the connections and differences between mediated representations of the Black Death are considered The Black Death is one of the most well known aspects of the medieval world and this study of its associated memories and myths reveals the depth and complexity of interactions between the distant and recent past Unaccustomed Mercy William Daniel Ehrhart, 1989 Every poet in this anthology represents the terrible beauty that Vietnam engendered in sensitive hearts the curious grace with which the human spirit can endow even the ugliest realities No one will get out of this volume without being hammered in the heart and singed in the soul I could touch the tears on page after page Wallace Terry

Crafting Lives Catherine W. Bishir, 2013 From the colonial period onward black artisans in southern cities thousands of free and enslaved carpenters coopers dressmakers blacksmiths saddlers shoemakers bricklayers shipwrights cabinetmakers tailors and others played vital roles in their communities Yet only a very few black craftspeople have gained popular and scholarly attention Catherine W Bishir remedies this oversight by offering an in depth portrayal of urban African American artisans in the small but important port city of New Bern In so doing she highlights the community s often unrecognized importance in the history of nineteenth century black life Drawing upon myriad sources Bishir brings to life men and women who employed their trade skills sense of purpose and community relationships to work for liberty and self sufficiency to establish and protect their families and to assume leadership in churches and associations and in New Bern s dynamic political life during and after the Civil War Focusing on their words and actions Crafting Lives provides a new understanding of urban southern black artisans unique place in the larger picture of American artisan identity Annual Report of the American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society to the Legislature of the State of New York American Scenic and Historic Preservation Society, 1904
