Death Of A Dissident:

Death of a Dissident Alex Goldfarb, Marina Litvinenko, 2012-12-25 The first reports seemed absurd A Russian dissident formerly an employee of the KGB and its successor the FSB had seemingly been poisoned in a London hotel As Alexander Litvinenko's condition worsened however and he was transferred to hospital and placed under armed guard the story took a sinister turn On 23 November 2006 Litvinenko died apparently from polonium 210 radiation poisoning He himself in a dramatic statement from his deathbed accused his former employers at the Kremlin of being responsible for his murder Who was Alexander Litvinenko What had happened in Russia since the end of the Cold War to make his life there untenable and even in severe jeopardy in Britain How did he really die and who killed him In his spokesman and close friend Alex Goldfarb and widow Marina we have two people who know more than anyone about the real Sasha Litvinenko and about his murder Their riveting book sheds astonishing light not just on these strange and troubling events but also on the biggest crisis in relations with Russia since the fall of the Berlin Wall

Death of a Dissident Alexander Goldfarb, Marina Litvinenko, 2007-01-01 The assassination of former Russian intelligence officer Alexander Litvinenko in November 2006 poisoned by the rare radioactive element polonium caused an international sensation Within a few short weeks the fit 43 year old lay gaunt bald and dying in a hospital the victim of a tiny nuclear bomb Suspicions swirled around Russia's FSB the successor to the KGB and the Putin regime But what really happened What did Litvinenko know And why was he killed The full story of Litvinenko's life and death is one that the Kremlin does not want told Ever since 1998 when Litvinenko denounced the FSB for ordering him to assassinate tycoon Boris Berezovsky he had devoted his life to exposing the FSB's darkest secrets He investigated everything and he denounced his former employers in no uncertain terms Litvinenko dedicated his life to exposing this truth it took his diabolical murder for the world to listen From publisher description

Women and Peace in the Islamic World Yasmin Saikia, Chad Haines, 2015-01-20 How realistic is the prospect of peace in the Muslim world This question is the predominant focus for global analysis today but its debate frequently ignores the cultural and social complexity of the Muslim world reducing it into a system of states and select actors This book addresses such a failing by exploring how the everyday interactions of women in accordance with Islamic personal ethics can offer the world a new interpretation of peace In particular it focuses on the women in Islamic societies from Aceh to Bosnia Morocco to Bangladesh initiating a dialogue on the role of these women in peacemaking This concentration upon the complex issues of the everyday both enables a detailed exploration of how people conceptualise peace and opens up new frameworks for conflict resolution The discussions that emerge lead to a critical questioning of assumptions about peace as a state policy and cessation of violence Drawing upon original research from different parts of the Middle East North Africa and Asia including Iran India Afghanistan Bangladesh Bosnia Egypt and Sudan the contributors offer a refreshing new look at Muslim women as peacemakers challenging any assumptions of Islam as an inherently violent religion Such a timely work provides new and important analyses on the role of Muslim women in forging new pathways of peace in the contemporary world Who Lives, Who Dies, Who Decides?
