Female Art and Agency in Yugoslavia, 1971-2001 Anja Foerschner,2024-05-30 Despite having become marginalized on the map of contemporary art since the wars of the 1990s the regions of former Yugoslavia continue to be a hub of creative activity Especially noteworthy is the strong presence of women artists scholars and activists whose deeply personal yet highly political artwork is rooted in a long legacy of female artistic agency Building on existing scholarship as well as original research this book highlights how female figures through art and exhibition making writing mentorship and activism have shaped the alternative art scene in former Yugoslavia and placed the region firmly on the map of the international post avantgarde Using the founding of the Student Cultural Center Belgrade in 1971 as a starting point the book details the pioneering work of women in the realm of curation where they developed radical exhibition concepts and programs that furthered the development of the New Art Practice and embedded Yugoslavia firmly on the map of the international postwar avantgardes It highlights the agency of female artists in the then novel realms of performance art video art and new media art and shows how their work has helped these disciplines to gain the impact they retain until the present day What is more it shows how female cultural workers have courageously used their work to further the discourse on gender sexuality and the female body and at a time when they saw themselves stripped of basic rights by the chauvinist nationalist regimes emerging after Yugoslavia s breakup formed a strong artistic and activist opposition Highlighting the role of women in the diversification of the ex Yugoslavia states and its highly unique cultural and political landscape this book addresses the noticeable gap in art historical scholarship that exists not only around Yugoslavia and its successor states but especially on its female representatives Work in Progress Rieke Jordan,2019-05-02 Work in Progress Curatorial Labor in Twenty First Century American Fiction interrogates contemporary texts that showcase forms of reading practices that feel anachronistic and laborious in times of instantaneity and short buffering times Objects of analysis include the graphic narrative Building Stories by Chris Ware the music album Song Reader by the indie rock artist Beck Hansen and the computer game Kentucky Route Zero by the programming team Cardboard Computer These texts stage their fragmentary nature and alleged unfinishedness as a quintessential part of both their narrative and material modus operandi These works in and of progress feel both contemporary and retro in the 21st century They draw upon and work against our expectations of interactive art in the digital age incorporating and likewise rejecting digital forms and practices This underlines the material and narrative flexibilities of the objects for no outcome or reading experience is the same or can be replicated It becomes apparent that the texts presuppose a reader who invests her spare time in figuring these texts out diagnosing a contorted work leisure dichotomy working these stories out is a significant part of the reading experience for the reader curatorial labor This conjures up a reader who as the author argues is turned into a curator and creative entity of and in these texts for she implements and reassembles the options made available
