Big Sleep 1978:

Creatures of Darkness Gene D. Phillips, 2014-07-11 More than any other writer Raymond Chandler 1888 1959 is responsible for raising detective stories from the level of pulp fiction to literature Chandler's hard-boiled private eye Philip Marlowe set the standard for rough brooding heroes who managed to maintain a strong sense of moral conviction despite a cruel and indifferent world Chandler's seven novels including The Big Sleep 1939 and The Long Goodbye 1953 with their pessimism and grim realism had a direct influence on the emergence of film noir Chandler worked to give his crime novels the flavor of his adopted city Los Angeles which was still something of a frontier town rife with corruption and lawlessness In addition to novels Chandler wrote short stories and penned the screenplays for several films including Double Indemnity 1944 and Strangers on a Train 1951 His work with Billy Wilder and Alfred Hitchcock on these projects was fraught with the difficulties of collaboration between established directors and an author who disliked having to edit his writing on demand Creatures of Darkness is the first major biocritical study of Chandler in twenty years Gene Phillips explores Chandler's unpublished script for Lady in the Lake examines the process of adaptation of the novel Strangers on a Train discusses the merits of the unproduced screenplay for Playback and compares Howard Hawks's director's cut of The Big Sleep with the version shown in theaters Through interviews he conducted with Wilder Hitchcock Hawks and Edward Dmytryk over the past several decades Phillips provides deeper insight into Chandler's sometimes difficult personality Chandler's wisecracking Marlowe has spawned a thousand imitations Creatures of Darkness lucidly explains the author's dramatic impact on both the literary and cinematic worlds demonstrating the immeasurable debt that both detective fiction and the neo noir films of today owe to Chandler's stark vision The Encyclopedia of Film James Monaco, 1991 An alphabetical reference on the major film figures stars producers directors writers et al past and present Each entry provides a substantial career biography and a complete listing of all films the individual has been involved with Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR curriculum construction the role of technology and the importance of collaboration Including a series of case studies and classroom experiences the authors explore the relationship between adaptation and related disciplines such as history media and translation The book also includes a series of case studies from the world of cinema showing how collaboration and social interaction lies at the heart of successful film adaptations By looking beyond the classroom Raw and Gurr demonstrate how adaptation studies involves real world issues of prime importance not only to film and theater professionals but to all learners Covering a wide range of material including film history educational theory and literary criticism Adaptation Studies and Learning offers a radical repositioning of the way we think about adaptation both inside and outside academia
