Devil And Commodity Fetishism In South America:

The Devil and Commodity Fetishism in South America Michael T. Taussig, 2010-03-15 In this classic book Michael Taussig explores the social significance of the devil in the folklore of contemporary plantation workers and miners in South America Grounding his analysis in Marxist theory Taussig finds that the fetishization of evil in the image of the devil mediates the conflict between precapitalist and capitalist modes of objectifying the human condition He links traditional narratives of the devil pact in which the soul is bartered for illusory or transitory power with the way in which production in capitalist economies causes workers to become alienated from the commodities they produce A new chapter for this anniversary edition features a discussion of Walter Benjamin and Georges Bataille that extends Taussig's ideas about the devil pact metaphor

The Devil and Commodity Fetishism in South America Michael T. Taussig, 1980 Michael Taussig explores the social significance of the devil in the folklore of contemporary plantation workers and miners in South America Grounding his analysis in Marxist theory Taussig finds that the fetishization of evil in the image of the devil is an image which mediates the conflict between precapitalist and capitalist modes of objectifying the human condition

On Violence Bruce B. Lawrence, Aisha Karim, 2007-12-06 An interdisciplinary collection of primary texts on the subject of violence from Freud to Gramsci to Foucault from Ghandi to Osama bin Laden The editors introductions frame the texts within questions of how violence is generated and perpetuated in so

The Fetish of Theology Colby Dickinson, 2020-03-26 By delving into the history of the fetish object among both modern and contemporary commentators this book highlights the fetish object's role as a philosophical and religious concept of the highest significance Historically fetishes are implicated in specific struggles for sovereign political and or religious hierarchical power with their interwoven symbols defined as the primary location for transcendence in our world This book defines the political consequences of fetish objects within a western cultural and primarily theological context through a comparative approach of various literatures on fetish objects anthropological to the psychological Marxist to the theological It reconceives of fetishes as a form of resistance to oppressive structures something which motivated Christians themselves historically and shaped our western understanding of the sacraments far more than has been acknowledged Taking up this conversation likewise holds forth the possibility of reconceptualizing how fetish objects and sacramental presences both speak profoundly to our late modern selves

The Identity of Liberation in Latin American Thought Mario Saenz, 1999-02-24 Through a close examination of philosopher Leopoldo Zea's historicist phenomenology Mario Saenz offers fresh insights into the role of Mexican intellectuals in the creation of a Latin American philosophy of liberation While this philosophy of liberation has been widely recognized as the most intellectual political ideology to emerge from Latin America this century few scholars have specifically explored the Mexican roots of this movement Saenz redresses this imbalance by placing Zea and his contemporary intellectuals firmly within the context of post revolutionary Mexico a political and social landscape that fostered criticisms of colonial and neo colonial structures of dependence Senz demonstrates how Zea s philosophy was informed by a sense of Mexico s distinctive social and cultural identity Cultures of Darkness Bryan D. Palmer,2000-11 The book reveals hidden psycho social spaces where darkness conceals acts of brutalizing terror or provided refuge solace or freedom Using the night as metaphor and unifying theme the author looks at dissident or oppositional cultures and movements and shows how they were fueled and shaped by the rise and transformation of capitalism The Hammer and the Flute Mary Keller,2005-04-14 Award for the Best First Book in the History of Religions from the American Academy of Religion Feminist theory and postcolonial theory share an interest in developing theoretical frameworks for describing and evaluating subjectivity comparatively especially with regard to non autonomous models of agency As a historian of religions Mary Keller uses the figure of the possessed woman to analyze a subject that is spoken through rather than speaking and whose will is the will of the ancestor deity or spirit that wields her to engage the question of agency in a culturally and historically comparative study that recognizes the prominent role possessed women play in their respective traditions Drawing from the fields of anthropology and comparative psychology Keller brings the figure of the possessed woman into the heart of contemporary argument as an exemplary model that challenges many Western and feminist assumptions regarding agency Proposing a new theoretical framework that re orients scholarship Keller argues that the subject who is wielded or played the hammer or the flute exercises a paradoxical authority instrumental agency born of their radical receptivity their power derives from the communities assessment that they no longer exist as autonomous agents For Keller the possessed woman is at once hammer and flute paradoxically powerful because she has become an instrument of the overpowering will of an ancestor deity or spirit Keller applies the concept of instrumental agency to case studies providing a new interpretation of each She begins with contemporary possessions in Malaysia where women in manufacturing plants were seized by spirits seeking to resacralize the territory She next looks to wartime Zimbabwe where female spirit mediums the Nehanda mhondoro declared the ancestors will to fight against colonialism Finally she provides an imaginative rereading of the performative power of possession by interpreting two plays Euripides Bacchae and S Y Ansky s The Dybbuk which feature possessed women as central characters This book can serve as an excellent introduction to postcolonial and feminist theory for graduate students while grounding its theory in the analysis of regionally and historically specific moments of time that will be of interest to specialists It also provides an argument for the evaluation of religious lives and their struggles for meaning and power in the contemporary landscape of critical theory Blackness in Latin America and the Caribbean: Eastern South America and the Caribbean Norman Earl Whitten (Jr.),Arlene Torres,1998 If we are to understand the meanings of blackness in the Africandiaspora and elsewhere we must critically examine the paradigms that have emerged from Euro American racism and black liberation over the past five centuries Soargue the editors of these foundational volumes which add immeasurably to our understanding of black experiences in Central America South America and the Caribbean In their introduction to this extensive collection the editors discuss historical forces and provide a critical interpretive theory of structures of domination and processes of liberation in the Black Americas By dealing with racist concepts from the dual standpoints of nation state and ethnic bloc they clarify many issues of cultural representation and social identity in Latin America and the Caribbean Sexual Imaginings Lisa Z. Sigel, 1996 Female Fetishism Lorraine Gamman, Merja Makinen, 1994 In recent years the Freudian construction of a passive female sexuality has been severely criticised by feminists This is the first book to tackle the question of female fetishism and to document women's engagement with this form of sexuality Most psychoanalytic theory excludes the very possibility of the existence of female fetishism In the face of the wealth of material about fetishistic practices gathered in this book the authors suggest that Freudian phallocentrism has prevented analysts from seeing the evidence before their eyes A Refuge in Thunder Rachel E. Harding, 2000 Drawing principally on primary sources such as police archives Harding describes the development of the religion as an alternative space in which subjugated and enslaved blacks were able to cultivate a sense of individual and collective identity that stood in opposition to the subaltern status imposed upon them from the dominant society BOOK JACKET Studies in Latin American Popular Culture, 1984 Gold in the Americas Musée de la civilisation (Québec), 2008 Step into the passionate world of gold in the Americas from the moment Christopher Columbus and the Spanish conquistadors fell under its spell and ventured forth to discover colonize and exploit the New World and its resources right up to the present day and recent explorations for gold deposits in northern Quebec Gold's natural properties are every bit as surprising as the powers attributed to the mineral which is why gold could engender the brutal but extraordinarily productive encounter of the peoples who built the Americas of today The Indians Africans Europeans and Mestizos all contributed through the alchemy of time and passion to forging the face of the nations and the landscapes of the vast territory of the Americas From pre Hispanic treasures to technological marvels of the twenty first century the ways in which gold has been used are as limitless as the human imagination Let yourself succumb to gold fever and discover the Americas as you have never before seen them Handbook of Latin American Studies, 2000 Contains scholarly evaluations of books and book chapters as well as conference papers and articles published worldwide in the field of Latin American studies Covers social sciences and the humanities in alternate years Undisciplined Theory Gary Genosko, 1998-06-18 In this work the author argues that whilst institutionalized social theory persists in following a rigid canon and supporting clear visions the vital questions in theory are interdisciplinary Region and Power Margaret Ann Villanueva, 1991 Confronting Historical Paradigms Frederick Cooper, 1993 Confronting Historical Paradigms argues that confrontation with major paradigms of world history has marked the fields of African and Latin American history during the last quarter century and that the process has dramatically restructured historical and theoretical understanding of peasant labour and the capitalist world system Moreover it maintains the intellectual reverberations within and across the African and Latin American fields constitute a challenging and under appreciated counterpoint to laments that contemporary historical knowledge has suffered a splintering so extreme that it undermines larger dialogue and meaning The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1991 Reconciling Heaven and Earth Karl-Wilhelm Westmeier,1986 Bogot is a city of migrants who come from the poverty stricken country areas in search of a better opportunity structure But their adjustment to city life is accompanied by severe tensions and insecurity caused by the conflict between traditional and modern ways of life In this urban predicament of emotional polation and economic insecurity the experience of Spirit ecstasy is of particular importance It locks deeply into aboriginal patterns of religiosity and also provides the migrant with the inner security for which he craves Thus in this ambient of rampant change the new city dweller finds a way to live a better a more victorious and successful life
