The Ground We Share Robert Aitken, David Steindl-Rast, 1996-06-18 These dialogues between Robert Aitken Roshi one of the first American born Zen masters and Brother David Steindl Rast the Roman Catholic monk and hermit took place during a week long retreat the two old friends undertook in 1991 in a remote part of the island of Hawaii Their aim was to approach the dialogue between Buddhism and Christianity in a fresh way one that takes as its starting point a comparison of the personal experiences of the dialoguers as a Buddhist and as a Christian respectively rather than abstract concepts The result is the discovery of a surprising amount of common ground the kind of shared experience that forms a solid foundation for further dialogue

One Christ--Many Religions S. J. Samartha, 2015-06-29 Here is a wise radical and illuminating book on the obstacles that a rigid interpretation of orthodox christological doctrines presents to dialogue with persons of other faiths One Christ Many Religions examines religious pluralism today and in the light of its implications for the global community suggests the contours of a revised christology more credible to Christians and their neighbors of other faiths Samartha argues that the problem with the christological dogmas of the first Ecumenical Councils is not their truth so much as their interpretation and the un Christian zealotry they seem to engender in Christians Sensitive to charges of sentiments of racial and cultural superiority that stem from Christians believing themselves uniquely authorized agents of God Samartha challenges us to admit the truth of these accusations and to revise our understanding of Jesus Without such christological revisions Samartha fears Christianity may cease to be Christian may become enfeebled in the pursuit of justice for the oppressed alienated from the deeper challenge of Jesus sealed off from the truths of other religions and ultimately may be barred from experiencing the rich and mysterious encounter of God
