The Dialogue in Early Modern France, 1547-1630 Colette H. Winn, 1993 This collection of essays is the first to combine in depth both theory and practice and to offer close readings of French texts written in dialogue form between 1547 and 1630 It seeks to determine why dialogue was used so widely in the Renaissance who the dominant authorities were for mid and late sixteenth century France how the dialogue related to other forms of discourse what the rules of the genre were and whether dialogue should even be regarded as a genre Contributors Donald Gilman Colette H Winn Joan A Buhlmann Cathy Yandell Ann Rosalind Jones Paula Sommers Eva Kushner

Images of Kingship in Early Modern France Adrianna E. Bakos, 1997 Adrianna Bakos uses the changing nature of Louis XI's historical reputation to explore the intellectual and political climate of early modern France offering new more complex interpretations of its ideological landscape

The Poetics of Literary Transfer in Early Modern France and England Hassan Melehy, 2016-02-24 Examining both familiar and underappreciated texts Hassan Melehy foregrounds the relationships that early modern French and English writers conceived with both their classical predecessors and authors from flourishing literary traditions in neighboring countries In order to present their own avowedly national literatures as successfully surpassing others they engaged in a paradoxical strategy of presenting other traditions as both inspiring and dead Each of the book's four sections focuses on one early modern author Joachim Du Bellay Edmund Spenser Michel de Montaigne and William Shakespeare Melehy details the elaborate strategies that each author uses to rewrite and overcome the work of predecessors His book touches on issues highly pertinent to current early modern studies among these are translation the relationship between classicism and writing in the vernacular the role of literature in the consolidation of the state attitudes toward colonial expansion and the New World and definitions of modernity and the past

Speaking of Love: The Love Dialogue in Italian and French Renaissance Literature Reinier Leushuis, 2017-03-27 Re-evaluating the dialogue's place in the literary landscape of the Italian and French Renaissance Speaking of Love presents the love dialogue at the intersection of a revival of the form and the period's philosophies of love and desire Between 1540 and 1580 authors such as Speroni Tullia d'Aragona the Venetian poligrafi Tyard Le Caron Pasquier Taillemont Marguerite de Navarre and Louise Labé feature interlocutors not only deliberating on love but imitating the experience of love in their dynamics of speaking These love dialogues allow early modern ideologies and discourses of love to be imitated by the reader and rival lyric poetry in conveying amorous experience validating dialogue as an authentic literary form rather than a tool of philosophical thinking

From Mother and Daughter Madeleine Roches, Catherine Roches, 2007-11-01 Among the best known and most prolific French women writers of the sixteenth century Madeleine 1520-87 and Catherine 1542-87 des Roches were celebrated not only for their uncommonly strong mother-daughter bond but also for their bold assertion of poetic authority for women in the realm of belles lettres The Dames des Roches excelled in a variety of genres including poetry Latin and Italian translations

correspondence prose dialogues pastoral drama and tragicomedy collected in From Mother and Daughter are selections from their celebrated oeuvre suffused with an engaging and enduring feminist consciousness Madeleine and Catherine spent their entire lives in civil war torn Poitiers where a siege of the city vandalism and desecration of churches fueled their political and religious commentary Members of an elite literary circle that would inspire salon culture during the next century the Dames des Roches addressed the issues of the day including the ravages of religious civil wars the weak monarchy education for women marriage and the family violence against women and the status of women intellectuals Through their collaborative engagement in shared public discourse both mother and daughter were models of moral political and literary agency

Decadence, Radicalism, and the Early Modern French Nobility Chad Denton, 2016-12-01 The image of the debauched French aristocrat of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries is one that still has power over the international public imagination from the unending fascination with the Marquis de Sade to the successes of the film Ridicule Drawing on memoirs letters popular songs and pamphlets and political treatises The Enlightened and Depraved Decadence Radicalism and the Early Modern French Nobility traces the origins of this powerful stereotype from between the reign of Louis XIV and the Terror of the French Revolution The decadent and enlightened noble of early modern France the libertine was born in a push to transform the nobility from a warrior caste into an intelligentsia Education itself had become a power through which the privileged could set themselves free from old social and religious restraints However by the late eighteenth century the libertine noble was already falling under attack by changing attitudes toward gender an emphasis on economic utility over courtly service and ironically the very revolutionary forces that the enlightened nobility of the court and Paris helped awaken In the end the libertine nobility would not survive the French Revolution but the basic idea of knowledge as a liberating force would endure in modernity divorced from a single class
