Scientific Inquiry Cycle: Review

Science helps communities solve problems by applying knowledge and inventing things. Often "solved" with a local "fix" such as water recycling or waste management, using natural or man-made resources. However, important to be aware of the limits of the solution and the impact of the solution on the environment and the community.

Designing solutions requires considering various constraints, such as budget, time, and safety concerns. Constraints represent limits on what can be done. Constraints can be natural or man-made. Constraints can be a solution maker's understanding of the problem, the resources available, or the time and space of use. Constraints influence the effectiveness of the solution.

After identifying a solution, documenting how it works, what constraints affected it, and any compromises that have already been or should be made on the idea. The process of sharing findings locally encourages responsible decision-making and helps communities thrive.
