Development Of Written Estonian:

The Development of Written Estonian George Kurman, 1997
Kurman, 1968 The Making and Breaking of Classification Models in Linguistics Jane Klavan, 2024-06-04 The book provides a methodological blueprint for the study of constructional alternations using corpus linguistic methods in combination with different types of experimental data The book looks at a case study from Estonian This morphologically rich language is typologically different from Indo European languages such as English Corpus based studies allow us to detect patterns in the data and determine what is typical in the language Experiments are needed to determine the upper and lower limits of human classification behaviour They give us an idea of what is possible in a language and show how human classification behaviour is susceptible to more variation than corpus based models lead us to believe Corpora and forced choice data tell us that when we produce language we prefer one construction Acceptability judgement data tell us that when we comprehend language we judge both constructions as acceptable The book makes a theoretical contribution to the what why and how of constructional alternations Causation, Permission, and Transfer Brian Nolan, Gudrun Rawoens, Elke Diedrichsen, 2015-01-14 This book offers a comprehensive investigative study of the argument realisation of the concepts of causative purpose permit let allow and transfer in a broad cross linguistic typologically diverse mix of languages with GIVE GET TAKE PUT and LET verbs This volume stands as the first systematic exploration of these verbs and concepts as they occur in complex events and clauses This book brings together scholars and researchers from a variety of functionally inspired theoretical backgrounds that have worked on these verbs within one language or from a cross linguistic perspective The objective is to understand the linguistic behaviour of the verbs and their inter relationships within a contemporary cognitive functional linguistic perspective The languages represented include Irish German Slavic West Slavic Polish Czech Slovak and Sorbian and Western South Slavic Slovenian and Bosnian Croatian Serbian Germanic Romance Gan Chinese Yichun dialect Mori Bohairic Coptic Shaowu Chinese Hebrew English Lithuanian Estonian the Australian dialects Pitjantjatjara and Yankunytjatjara Italian and Persian Topics discussed include argument structure and the encoding of arguments under causation permission and transfer verbs their lexical semantics and event structure The Uralic Languages Daniel Abondolo, Riitta-Liisa Valijärvi, 2023-03-31 The Uralic Languages second edition is a reference book which brings together detailed discussions of the historical development and specialized linguistic structures and features of the languages in the Uralic family The Uralic languages are spoken today in a vast geographical area stretching from Dalarna County in Sweden to Dudinka Taimyr Russia There are currently approximately 50 languages in the group the largest one among them being the state languages Finnish Estonian and Hungarian other Uralic languages covered in the book are South Saami Skolt Saami Vro Moksha Mordvin Mari Udmurt Zyrian Komi Mansi Khanty Nganasan Forest and Tundra Enets Nenets and Selkup The book also contains a chapter on Finnic languages the reconstruction of Uralic the history of Uralic studies connections of Uralic to other language families and language names demographics and degrees of endangerment This second and thoroughly revised edition updates and augments the authoritative accounts of the first edition and reflects recent and ongoing developments in linguistics and the languages themselves as well as our further enhanced understanding of the relations and patterns of influence between them Each chapter combines modern linguistic analysis and documentary linguistics a relatively uniform structure allows for easy typological comparison between the individual languages Written by an international team of experts The Uralic Languages will be invaluable to students and researchers within linguistics folklore and Siberian studies

Aspects of Grammaticalization Daniel Olmen, Hubert Cuyckens, Lobke

Ghesquière, 2016-12-19 This volume advances our understanding of two highly debated aspects of grammaticalization its relation to inter subjectification and its directionality These aspects are studied with respect to such phenomena as auxiliaries discourse markers conjunctions prepositions and pronouns Bringing together a wide range of languages the collection provides insight into the crucial dimensions of grammaticalization research

Languages in the Lutheran

Reformation Mikko Kauko, Miika Norro, Kirsi-Maria Nummila, Tanja Toropainen, Tuomo Fonsén, 2025-10-01 This collection of essays charts the influence of the Lutheran Reformation on various northern European languages and texts written in them The central themes of Languages in the Lutheran Reformation Textual Networks and the Spread of Ideas are how the ideas related to Lutheranism were adapted to the new areas new languages and new contexts during the Reformation period in the 16th and 17th centuries and how the Reformation affected the standardization of the languages Networks of texts knowledge and authors belong to the topics of the present volume The contributions look into language use language culture and translation activities during the Reformation but also in the prelude to the Reformation as well as after it in the early modern period The contributors are experts in the study of their respective languages including Czech Dutch English Estonian Finnish High German Icelandic Latvian Lithuanian Low German Norwegian Polish and Swedish The primary texts explored in the essays are Bible translations but genres other than biblical are also discussed

Language Policy and the Internationalization of Universities Josep Soler, 2019-01-14 Many universities around the world are actively engaged in the process of the internationalization of their higher education systems trying to become more competitive in all possible respects especially in the areas of research and teaching Language naturally plays a central role in this process but this is not always explicitly recognized as such As a result key sociolinguistic challenges emerge for both individuals and groups of people Most prominently the question of whether English constitutes an opportunity or a threat to other national languages in academic domains is a controversial one and remains unresolved The analysis featured in this book aims at addressing this question by looking at language policy developments in the context of Estonian higher education Adopting a discourse approach the book emphasises the centrality of language not only as a site of struggle but as a tool and a resource that agents in a give field utilize to orient themselves in certain positions The book will be of interest to language policy scholars linguistic anthropologists and critical sociolinguists Education scholars interested in discourse studies will also find it useful
