Development Practitioners And Social Process Artists Of The Invisible:

Development Practitioners and Social Process Allan Kaplan,2002-04-20 In community development endeavors as in so many other realms says Kaplan reducing complexity to simplified component parts in order to control those parts has not proved particularly effective The task he undertakes here is to inject a different way of thinking into the process He draws from his experience as an organizational consultant but writes for anyone who wants to understand the processes of change in the social organism Distributed by Stylus Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Handbook of Research on Program Development and Assessment Methodologies in K-20 Education Wang, Viktor,2017-11-30 As the educational system continues to evolve it is essential that educators of today devise innovative and strategic approaches to program development and assessment The Handbook of Research on Program Development and Assessment Methodologies in K 20 Education is an essential reference source for the latest terminology and concepts related to program development Featuring extensive coverage on a broad range of topics such as cognitive diagnostic assessments self directed learning and digital education this publication is ideally designed for educators students program designers and librarians seeking current research on inventive strategies and practices to enhance education in the 21st century

Theorising the Practice of Community Development Peter Westoby,2016-02-17 Based on 25 years of community development practice six of which have been lived in South Africa Peter Westoby's ground breaking monograph moves away from dominant normative accounts of community development to provide an appreciative and critical analysis of concrete examples of community development theory and practice By examining community development stories as experienced on the ground Westoby is able to show how the poor are organising themselves using various forms of community development as well as demonstrating how the state and non state actors are attempting to organise engage or accompany the poor through community development The book also breaks new ground in theorising the practice of community development drawing inductively from the stories analysed The diversity of South African contexts and the proliferation of different kinds of community practice make this a hugely difficult task Despite this Westoby argues it is one worth undertaking given the seriousness of the challenges facing the poor and progressive social change agents within South Africa In this undertaking Westoby draws upon a unique analytical framework to help illuminate current community development policy and programme challenges along with practice dilemmas and wisdom

Capacity Development in Practice Alan Fowler,Jan Ubels,2010-09-23 The international development community invests billions of dollars to improve organisational capacity But real life practice is poorly understood and undervalued as a distinct professional domain Written by practitioners this innovative publication is designed to make capacity development more professional and increasingly effective in achieving development goals Practical illustrations draw on experiences from the civic government and private sectors A central theme is to understand capacity as more than something internal to organisations This book shows how capacity also stems from connections between different types of actor and the levels in society at which they operate The content is crafted for a broad audience of practitioners in capacity development consultants managers front line workers trainers facilitators leaders advisors programme staff activists and funding agencies Published with SNV Other: Loving Self, God and Neighbor in a World of Fractures Kester Brewin,2010

Development Methods and Approaches Critical Reflections ,2003 Many aid agencies advocate approaches to development which are people centred participatory empowering and gender fair This volume of essays explores some of the middle ground between such values based approaches and the methods and techniques that the agencies adopt The selection offers critical assessments of fashionable tools such as Participatory Rural Appraisal and Logical Framework It demonstrates how these are linked conceptually and in practice to the wider ideological environment in which they are used and shows how they depend upon the skills of the fieldworker and or organization applying them Contributors argue that tools and methods will contribute to a values based approach only if those using them have a serious commitment to a social agenda which is genuinely transformative Social Inclusion: Bangladesh case study Mahbuba Nasreen,2007 A Resource for NGOs Heather De Wet,2003 Organizations and Development James Taylor,2003 Capacity Building for NGOs Rick James,John M. Hailey,2007 Capacity Building with NGOs provides an overview of trends and current thinking about NGO capacity building the challenges and constraints Rick James and John Hailey analys some of the cultural and contextual constraints that undermine our ability to implement appropriate and effective capacity building interventions Voices of the Transition Edgar A. Pieterse, Frank Meintjies,2004 The Development Change Agent François Theron,2008 The development change agent contextualises the development change agent through his or her relationship with the local beneficiaries of development The focus is on change agents as enablers or facilitators of development at micro or grassroots level and the key theme is the call for the establishment of a partnership in planning between change agents and the beneficiaries of development In most chapters the authors challenge conventional thinking on the particular issue under discussion New options are generated for development change agents the beneficiaries of development policy makers and politicians to consider Popular but contentious development concepts and approaches like holism a people centred approach capacity building empowerment and participation are explained and applied and approaches relevant to social capital indigenous knowledge systems and action research methodology are introduced This title is relevant to a broad range of potential readers students at universities development studies public and development management anthropology sociology social work forestry community health development practitioners development consultants those working for NGOs and CBOs development corporations agencies and politicians and government officials Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2002 Democracy & Development ,2003 Mastery in Coaching Jonathan Passmore,2014 Get the best from your clients with these relevant effective psychological coaching techniques Changing Expectations? INTRAC (Great Britain).
