Left Behind Act of 2001 by promoting evidence based educational methods designed to improve student learning Behavioral scientists have been refining these instructional methods for decades before the current call for evidence based education Precision Teaching Direct Instruction Computerized Teaching Personalized System of Instruction and other unique applications of behavior analysis are all informed by the scientific principles of learning have been tested in the laboratory and are often shown to have significant success in field applications This book details each of these approaches to education based on the principles of behavior analysis Individuals and agencies responsible for instruction that leaves no child behind will find this compendium an important resource for meeting that challenge and young educators will greatly benefit from this text as they will see a blueprint of the evidence based education systems being planned for the future The education literature is replete with fly by night ideas and unresearched opinions about how to teach children This book has none of that The reader is given researched educational methods In fact some methods draw on 3 or 4 decades of experimental data The whole book is cohesive not just a patchwork of different educators opinions All of the chapters are built on basic scientific principles of behavior and all of the methods can be used with one another This is a book by scientist practitioners but not for scientists only A parent can read many of these chapters see the merit in the methods and convey the need and the process for each of the methods No book stands alone but is connected to a greater literature base The reader is shown where other information can be found about these methods The only thing better than scientific data is scientific data supported by consumer testimonial

Program Evaluation of the Direct Instruction Reading Interventions Nita M. Jarvis, 2016 The purpose of this program evaluation was to evaluate the Direct Instruction programs Reading Mastery and Corrective Reading from SRA McGraw Hill Publishing Company which were being used as a school wide reading intervention These programs were implemented at a small elementary school in the piedmont area of North Carolina beginning in the 2012 2013 school year This elementary school had not been able to meet state mandated reading proficiency requirements for more than 10 years and hoped the Direct Instruction reading program intervention would improve student reading proficiency scores as evidenced by end of grade test scores in reading and Diagnostic Reading Assessments The CIPP Context Input Process Product Model was used as the evaluation tool for this program evaluation Research questions were related to the Context of the problem for which the program was addressing the Input or resources available to address the problem and any strategies that had been tried the Process or implementation of the program and the Product or outcomes of the program This program evaluation was made available to the elementary school s administrators to use in determining the effectiveness of the reading interventions on their students reading abilities Information from the evaluation could be used to make decisions regarding the continuation of the program or the consideration of changes within the program s implementation Other elementary school administrators who may be considering the use of Reading Mastery Corrective Reading or other programs within their own schools may also use results from this study to determine appropriate
