Bosnian Counterpoint:

Bosnian Counterpoint Borka Tomljenovic, 1994 Bosnian Counterpoint evokes childhood memories of a Bosnia in which diverse ethnic and religious groups lived in mutual respect and tolerance Bosnian Counterpoint was translated into Swedish and published in Lund as Bosnisk Corsvaeg in 1996 Subsequently it was published in Serbo Croatian in Tuzla Bosnia as Bosanski Kontrapunkt in 1999

Bosnia and Herzegovina Francine Friedman, 2013-10-15 First published in 2007 Emerging from communism in the early 1990s the new state of Bosnia and Herzegovina was immediately embroiled in devastating ethnonationalist conflict Now an international protectorate the choices of its elites may well propel Bosnia either to a stable future integrated into an expanding European entity or to a future filled with insecurity conflict and adversity This volume assesses current conditions in Bosnia as well as the prospects for stability in a country torn between nationalistic elites on the one hand and the desires of important regional actors for control of Bosnia on the other with a fractious international community overseeing the matter Friedman controversially denies that the wars of Yugoslavia's dissolution are a necessary product of ancient ethnic hatreds contending that Bosnia and Herzegovina was once the quintessential multi ethnic multireligious community and could be again Containing chapters on the country's history economics international relations and politics this book will provide social scientists with an accessible overview of contemporary Bosnia and Herzegovina

The A to Z of Bosnia and Herzegovina Ante Cuvalo, 2010-04-08 Diversity has always been at the heart of Bosnia and Herzegovina's character even its dual name and physical geography display a particular heterogeneity The medieval Bosnian state never enjoyed lasting political and ideological unity as its feudal regional and religious rifts pulled at the country's seams Furthermore because of its location and by a quirk of history three major world religious and cultural traditions Catholicism Islam and Orthodoxy became cohabitants in this small Balkan country Recently the rebirth of its statehood has been exceptionally bloody and its diversity has been shaken Even 11 years after the guns were silenced the country is still under the benevolent protection of the international community whose officials are keeping the state building process in perpetual suspense with no final result in sight The A to Z of Bosnia and Herzegovina sheds light on the uncertain situation Bosnia and Herzegovina faces while providing essential background information This is accomplished through a chronology an introduction a bibliography and more than 300 cross referenced dictionary entries on individual topics spanning Bosnia and Herzegovina's political economic religious and social system along with short biographies on important figures Bosnia and the Destruction of Cultural Heritage Dr Helen Walasek, 2015-04-28 The massive intentional destruction of cultural heritage during the 1992-1995 Bosnian War targeting a historically diverse identity provoked global condemnation and became a seminal marker in the discourse on cultural heritage. It prompted an urgent reassessment of how cultural property could be protected in times of conflict and led to a more definitive recognition in international humanitarian law that destruction of a people's cultural heritage is an aspect of genocide. Yet surprisingly little has been published on the subject. This wide-ranging book provides the first comprehensive overview and critical analysis of the destruction of Bosnia-Herzegovina's cultural heritage and its far-reaching impact. Scrutinizing the responses of the international community during the war, including bodies like UNESCO and the Council of Europe, the volume also analyses how, after the conflict ended, external agendas impinged on heritage reconstruction to the detriment of the broader peace process and refugee return. It assesses implementation of Annex 8 of the Dayton Peace Agreement, a unique attempt to address the devastation to Bosnia's cultural heritage, and examines the treatment of war crimes involving cultural property at the International Criminal Tribunal for the former Yugoslavia (ICTY). With numerous case studies and plentiful illustrations, this important volume considers questions which have moved to the foreground with the inclusion of cultural heritage preservation in discussions of the right to culture in human rights discourse and as a vital element of post-conflict and development aid. Bosnian Memory Enes Kujundžić, 2003 Slavic Review, 2005 Time, 1995 Scar on the Stone Chris Agee, 1998 Scar on the Stone is the first anthology of Bosnian poetry in English to have appeared since the outbreak of war and genocide following the independence of Bosnia-Herzegovina in 1992. It brings together fourteen of the country's most distinguished poets, chosen on the basis of artistic merit alone but drawn from all creeds: Muslim, Orthodox, Catholic, and none, and from all three jurisdictions of the new federation. The book begins with one of the greatest modern poets of the Balkans, Mak Dizdar (1917-1971), and ends with a selection of younger poets whose work emerged powerfully during the siege of Sarajevo. The result is a Janus-faced volume of rare breadth, one which evokes both the hidden peacetime Bosnia of Yugoslav Communism and the land ravaged by the worst war crimes on European soil since the Second World War. In a compelling introduction, editor Chris Agee relates literature to history, setting Scar on the Stone in the context of the rich, complex polyphony that is Bosnia. The translators are themselves leading poets from Britain, Ireland, and America, including Harry Clifton, David Constantine, Nuala Ní Dhomhnaill, Ted Hughes, Kathleen Jamie, Ruth Padel, Charles Simic, Ken Smith, and John Hartley Williams. Mak Dizdar and some of the younger poets are translated by Francis R. Jones, whose translations of Ivan V. Lalić and Vasko Popa have been widely acclaimed. Bosnia and Herzegovina Alojz Benac, Ivan Lovrenović, 1980 Banja Luka United States Congress, Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe, 1996 Banja Luka United States Congress.

Commission on Security and Cooperation in Europe,1996 Gračanički glasnik ,2003 Stanford Journal of International Law ,1997 Vermeer in Bosnia Lawrence Weschler,2004 From the author of Pulitzer Prize finalist Mr Wilson s Cabinet of Wonder comes this much anticipated new collection of more than 20 pieces from his museum of fascinating cultural delights Illustrations Visual Images and Foreign Policy David D.
