Buying A Fishing Rod For My Grandfather:

Buying a Fishing Rod for My Grandfather Gao Xingjian, 2009-10-13 Precisely detailed and delicately suggestive the best work of Gao's yet to appear in English translation Kirkus Reviews A collection of six exquisite short stories from Gao Xingjian the first Chinese writer to win the Nobel Prize in Literature These beautifully translated stories take as their themes the fragility of love and life and the haunting power of memory In The Temple the narrator's acute and mysterious anxiety overshadows the delirious happiness of an outing with his new wife on their honeymoon In The Cramp a man narrowly escapes drowning in the sea only to find that no one even noticed his absence In the title story the narrator attempts to relieve his homesickness only to find that he is lost in a labyrinth of childhood memories Everywhere in this collection are powerful psychological portraits of characters whose unarticulated hopes and fears betray the never ending presence of the past in their present lives

Buying a Fishing Rod for My Grandfather Xingjian Gao, 2004 From China's first ever winner of the Nobel Prize in Literature comes an exquisite new book of fictions none of which has ever been published before in English A young couple on honeymoon visit a beautiful temple up in the mountains and spend the day intoxicated by the tranquillity of the setting a swimmer is paralysed by a sudden cramp and finds himself stranded far out to sea on a cold autumn day a man reminisces about his beloved grandfather who used to make his own fishing rods from lengths of crooked bamboo straightened over a fire Blending the crisp immediacy of the present moment with the soft afterglow of memory and nostalgia these stories hum with simplicity and wisdom and will delight anyone who loved Gao's bestselling novels Soul Mountain and One Man's Bible

Memory, Trauma, Asia Rahul K. Gairola, Sharanya Jayawickrama, 2021-01-28 The contributors to this volume re-think established insights of memory and trauma theory and enrich those studies with diverse Asian texts critically analyzing literary and cultural representations of Asia and its global diasporas They broaden the scope of memory and trauma studies by examining how the East West binary delimits horizons of trauma by excluding Asian texts Are memory and trauma always reliable registers of the past that translate across cultures and nations Are supposedly pan human experiences of suffering disproportionately coloured by eurocentric structures of region reason race or religion How are Asian texts and cultural producers yet viewed through biased lenses How might recent approaches and perspectives generated by Asian literary and cultural texts hold purchase in the 21st century Critically meditating on such questions and whether existing concepts of memory and trauma accurately address the histories present states and futures of the non Occidental world this volume unites perspectives on both dominant and marginalized sites of the broader Asian continent Contributors explore the complex intersections of literature history ethics affect and social justice across East South and Southeast Asia and on Asian diasporas in Australia and the USA They draw on yet diverge from Orientalism and Area Studies given today's need for nuanced analytical methodologies in an era defined by the COVID 19 global pandemic This book will be of great interest to students and scholars invested in memory and trauma studies comparative Asian studies diaspora and postcolonial studies global studies and social justice around contemporary identities and 20th and 21st century Asia Ink Dances in Limbo Jessica Yeung,2008-07-01 In this pioneering study of the entire written works of Gao Xingjian China's first winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature Jessica Yeung analyses each group of his writing and argues for a reading of Gao's writing as a phenomenon of cultural translation his adoption of Modernism in the 1980s is a translation of the European literary paradigm and his attempt at postmodernist writing in the 1990s and 2000s is the effect of an exilic nihilism expressive of a diasporic subjectivity struggling to translate himself into his host culture Thus Dr Yeung looks at Gao's works from a double perspective in terms of their relevance both to China and to the West Avoiding the common polarized approaches to Gao's works her dual approach means that she neither extolls them as the most brilliant works of contemporary Chinese literature eligible for elevation to the metaphysical level nor dismisses them as nothing more than elitist and misogynist mediocre writings rather she sees this important body of work in a more nuanced way This book is suitable for all readers who are interested in contemporary Chinese culture and literature It is particularly valuable to students who are keen to engage with the issue of contemporary China West cultural relationships Polyphony

Embodied - Freedom and Fate in Gao Xingjian's Writings Michael Lackner,Nikola Chardonnens,2014-07-28 Like artists important writers defy unequivocal interpretations Gao Xingjian winner of the Nobel Prize in literature is a cosmopolitan writer deeply rooted in the Chinese past while influenced by paragons of Western Modernity The present volume is less interested in a general discussion on the multitude of aspects in Gao's works and even less in controversies concerning their aesthetic value than in obtaining a response to the crucial issues of freedom and fate from a clearly defined angle The very nature of the answer to the question of freedom and fate within Gao Xingjian's works can be called a polyphonic one there are affirmative as well as skeptical voices But polyphony as embodied by Gao is an even more multifaceted phenomenon Most important for our contention is the fact that Gao Xingjian's aesthetic experience embodies prose theater painting and film Taken together they form a Gesamtkunstwerk whose diversity of voices characterizes every single one of them Detours Jean Stein,2003 In Grand Streets upcoming issue digressions detours and deviations prove more fruitful than the beaten path
