New SCM Dictionary of Christian Spirituality Philip Sheldrake, 2013-05-20 This dictionary attempts to give direct access to the development of Christian Spirituality It is a series of pieces written by experts to provide instant accurate and thought provoking information of high scholarship

New Wine, New Wineskins William C. Mattison III, 2005-06-03 The growing shift in Catholic moral theology from reflecting on rules alone to focusing on the identity and formation of persons as moral agents prompts a further question What impact do recent changes in the identity and formation of Catholic moral theologians themselves have on how that discipline is practiced Young Catholic moral theologians experience a sharply different professional formation and a changed location of ongoing professional life than prior generations of moral theologians How do these differences influence the field of moral theology as a whole New Wine New Wineskins A Next Generation Reflects on Key Issues in Catholic Moral Theology addresses these questions and more by offering a snapshot of how a new generation of Catholic moral theologians understands not only topics in the field but the effects of their own identity and formation on their treatment of those topics The distinctive contribution of this volume is the interweaving of three key concerns all of which arise out of a critical self reflection on the task of moral theology today the character and adequacy of training and ongoing formation in the field of Catholic moral theology the purpose and nature of teaching Catholic moral theology and the fittingness of methodological debates with regard to the needs of the Christian life Each essay makes a contribution to its specific area of interest ranging from economic ethics to Patristic rhetoric to the nature and development of practical reasoning while probing what exactly young Catholic moral theologians are doing and how they can do what they do better

Darkness Receding Marion L. S. Carson, 2026-02-24 How can the Bible inform the pastoral care of people with mental health challenges This book suggests that many if not most readers of Scripture adopt a foundationalist hermeneutic which runs the risk of reducing Scripture to a book of instructions and pastoral care to a matter of dispensing advice For people suffering from mental health challenges in general and depression in particular however this approach can be counterproductive adding to spiritual and mental distress rather than helping to alleviate it Here Marion Carson offers an alternative way of reading Scripture for pastoral care that draws on the work of biblical studies as well as pastoral theology Focusing on Rom 5:1-5 in which suffering and hope are explicitly linked she argues that a hermeneutic based on character ethics can help Christian communities of faithful hopeful and loving people to develop sensitive and nuanced approaches to pastoral care and so to be agents of hope to those who are feeling hopeless because of severe depression

Hospitable Witnessing Priscilla Sun Kyung Oh, 2018-06-18 Drawing on her own experience of befriending a person suffering from a long term mental health challenge Priscilla Oh reflects on the meaning of care and friendship theologically Using autoethnography she goes beyond the personal experience and examines various issues surrounding mental health Hospitable Witnessing candidly takes readers into the everyday life of being with a mentally ill person There are emotional challenges and contingencies in sustaining friendship and caring for a person with a long term mental health problem Oh points out that those who care for a loved one during a long term illness inevitably experience burnout resulting from the constant care requirements Under such an enormous disruption we need to be compassionate toward another s suffering and be willing to be present and available for them This book suggests our need of one another and identifies three important Christian practices caring as we are being made in the image of God compassion as being present with the sufferer and lament as to revitalize our faith and hope

Hope in Counselling and Psychotherapy Denis O'Hara,2013-06-04 This book represents a major contribution to the literature of several professions Presenting an account both rich and broad the author provides a summary and overview of hope from philosophical nursing psychotherapeutic and research perspectives Ian Townsend Associate Lecturer in Counselling Blackburn College Engendering hope is at the heart of counselling and psychotherapy but until now little attempt has been made to actually explain howand why it may be fostered Understanding the central role of hope in healing and personal growth is an essential element of counsellor training and practice It forms the basis of the therapeutic relationship and is integral to the very aims and motivation of counselling Keeping theory firmly grounded in real life practice this book explores The nature of hope and how it is conceptualised from different theoretical perspectives The common psychotherapeutic practices which engender hope and how they translate into effective practice The role of the counsellor in the process How to manage expectations and work effectively with clients suffering with severe and enduring psychological challenges Hope measures and how to be a research informed practitioner Packed full of case examples practical exercise and points for reflection this book is essential reading for any training or practising healthcare professional looking to understand the role of hope in the process of change
