New Music at Darmstadt Martin Iddon, 2013-04-18 New Music at Darmstadt explores the rise and fall of the so called Darmstadt School through a wealth of primary sources and analytical commentary Martin Iddon's book examines the creation of the Darmstadt New Music Courses and the slow development and subsequent collapse of the idea of the Darmstadt School showing how participants in the West German new music scene including Herbert Eimert and a range of journalistic commentators created an image of a coherent entity despite the very diverse range of compositional practices on display at the courses The book also explores the collapse of the seeming collegiality of the Darmstadt composers which crystallised around the arrival there in 1958 of the most famous and notorious of all post war composers John Cage an event Carl Dahlhaus opined swept across the European avant garde like a natural disaster

Revisiting the Historiography of Postwar Avant-Garde Music Anne-Sylvie Barthel-Calvet, Christopher Brent Murray, 2022-07-29 This collection of essays delves into the historiographical traditions that have dominated how the stories of European postwar avant garde music are told seeking to approach commonplaces of that history writing from new perspectives The contributors revisit subjects as varied as the impact of long playing records on the emergence of open works Messiaen's interest in non European musical traditions Xenakis's turn to information theory Kagel's strategic invention of a new genre Berio's dependence on funding from American foundations and the ways in which figures like Boulez Stockhausen Pousseur and Nono constructed their musical ancestries Leading experts in their respective fields the volume's authors have sought to rethink the historiography of European experimental music of the 1950s 1960s and 1970s in ways that resituate that small but influential milieu in broader historical and cultural contexts In doing so they suggest new directions and insights for students and specialists of twentieth century music and music historiography

New Music, New Allies Amy C. Beal, 2006-07-04 New Music New Allies documents how American experimental music and its practitioners came to prominence in the West German cultural landscape between the end of the Second World War in 1945 and the reunification of East and West Germany in 1990 Beginning with the reeducation programs implemented by American military officers during the postwar occupation of West Germany and continuing through the cultural policies of the Cold War era this broad history chronicles German views on American music American composers pursuit of professional opportunities abroad and the unprecedented dissemination and support their music enjoyed through West German state subsidized radio stations new music festivals and international exchange programs Framing the biographies of prominent American composer performers within the aesthetic and ideological contexts of the second half of the twentieth century Amy C Beal follows the international careers of John Cage Henry Cowell Earle Brown Morton Feldman David Tudor Frederic Rzewski Christian Wolff Steve Reich Pauline Oliveros Conlon Nancarrow and many others to Donaueschingen Darmstadt Cologne Bremen Berlin and Munich

Schoenberg and the New Music Carl Dahlhaus, 1987 This book is a collection of essays by the leading German musicologist of our day on one of the most controversial and influential composers of our century Arnold Schoenberg Schoenberg is considered here as a historical figure as a thinker and theoretician and as a composer whose works may be subjected to technical analysis and or examined in relation to the history of ideas Above all he is considered in the context of the New Music the historical and cultural movement of the first two decades of this century which embrace musicians such as Webern Schreker and Scriabin all of whom are allotted individual essays as well as Schoenberg himself In addition to historical and analytical essays there are essays of a broader cultural historical and even sociological import which should interest all those involved with twentieth century music and ideas
