

How To Play Drums

Proudly Written By Pro-Percussionist, Sam Jowett

1 Warm Up
Playing the drums is just as physical as playing sports. Play through some warm up exercises as a practice routine.

2 Drum Heads
Quality drum heads not only have better sound but will also last longer. A great pair of sticks make a difference too!

4 Metronome
Practice slow and fast but make sure you are right on top of that click. Break the groove down & add in the hands.

3 Good Technique
Work on your technique from the outset and lay a solid foundation for everything else to build on.

5 Counting Rhythms
If you can count it, you can play it. You might not have seen lots of different rhythms so this is a very good thing to learn.

7 Reading & Hearing
Learn how to read notation and also by ear. You will find that having lessons with a professional will help you with these skills.

9 Good Posture
Get as comfy as you can and make sure the instrument is in the right place at the right height before you start playing.

6 Regular Practice
Practice the bit you can't yet play instead of the bit you can play, you'll be playing those songs much sooner if you do!

8 Watch Drummers
There are loads of things we can pick up by watching other drummers play, no matter how small, or even how good!

10 Proper Setup
Make sure you have set up your drum kit properly. How does your favourite drummer lay out their kit?
