Islam Robert Crotty, Terence Lovat,2016-06-30 Terrorism is the threat of the age or so we are told and inevitably associated with it is the word Islam The notion of the Muslim terrorist has become a colloquialism in Western media Interestingly in all the history books about the Second World War the phrase Christian fascist is rarely seen in spite of the fact that skewed Christian theologies were used liberally by the Nazis to further their hatred This points to a blind spot in Western understanding about the ways in which religious and non religious ideology can be mutilated to serve hateful ends We think we see it in Islam but we can't see it in ourselves This book is dedicated to uncovering the many understandings of Islam we lack and the many misunderstandings we need to overcome Islam Claire Woodward,2002 Islam Background

Anthropomorphism in Islam Livnat Holtzman,2018-03-07 More than any other issue in Islamic theology anthropomorphism tashbih stood at the heart of many theological debates and was mostly discussed within the circles of traditionalist Islam The way a scholar interpreted the anthropomorphic descriptions of God in the Qur'an or the Hadith for instance God's hand God's laughter or God's sitting on the heavenly throne often reflected his political and social stature as well as his theological affinity This book presents an in depth literary analysis of the textual and non textual elements of ahadith al sifāt the traditions that depict God and His attributes in an anthropomorphic language It goes on to discuss the inner controversies in the prominent traditionalistic learning centres of the Islamic world regarding the way to understand and interpret these anthropomorphic traditions Through a close contextualized and interdisciplinary reading in Hadith compilations theological treatises and historical sources this book offers an evaluation and understanding of the traditionalistic endeavours to define anthropomorphism in the most crucial and indeed most formative period of Islamic thought Islam, Women and the Challenges of Today Farzana Hassan Shahid,2006 Wingless Chickens, Bayou Catholics, and Pilgrim Wayfarers L. Lamar Nisly,2011 Flannery O'Connor Tim Gautreaux and Walker Percy are all Catholic writers from the South and seem to embody very fully both parts of that label Yet as quickly becomes clear in their writing their fiction employs markedly different tones and modes of addressing their audience O'Connor seems intent on shocking her reader whom she anticipates will be hostile to her deepest beliefs Gautreaux gently and humorously engages his reader inviting his expected sympathetic audience to embrace the characters needed moral growth Percy satirically lampoons an array of social ills and failings in the Church as he tries to get his audience laughing with him while he makes his deadly serious point about the flaws he finds in the church and larger culture Why do these three writers assume such divergent images of their audience Why do texts by three writers who each embrace their Southern locale and their Catholic beliefs seem to have so little in common To answer these questions Nisly helps readers understand these authors fiction by examining the role that place and time had in shaping each author's idea of an audience and by extension his or her manner of addressing that audience More specifically Nisly focuses on each author's experience of Catholic community and each author's placement in relation to the Second Vatican Council Linking together biographical information and a reading of their fiction Nisly argues that O'Connor's Gautreaux's and Percy's sense of audience has been shaped in significant ways by each author's own local experience of Catholicism in his or her home region as well as the larger global changes of Vatican II that transformed Roman Catholicism The Writers Directory ,2013 West's Federal Supplement ,1995 American Book Publishing Record ,2006 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,2004 Historical Questions with Answers, Embracing
