Selected Poems Nathaniel Tarn, 2002-04 Finalist for the PEN Center USA s Literary Award in Poetry 2003 For some forty years Nathaniel Tarn has been celebrated as an extraordinary figure in American writing His work in a variety of scholarly and literary genres has ranged from Maya ritual to Jewish mysticism the monasteries of Burma to the arctic seas of Alaska One of the founders of ethnopoetics he has brought to poetry an almost limitless range of interests and a remarkable dexterity in both open and closed forms As Eliot Weinberger has written What holds it together is Tarn s ecstatic vision his continuing enthusiasm for the stuff of the world Atitlan Nathaniel Tarn, Janet Rodney, 1979 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1981 American Poetry Since 1950 Eliot Weinberger, 1993 Since Whitman and Dickinson most of the major poetry in the United States has been written against the literary establishments and prevailing canons of taste and often far from the cultural centers This is the first anthology in many years to gather the work from this continuing tradition of innovators and outsiders presenting poets and poems that are still excluded from the academic collections Opening with the last poems of the Modernist masters Ezra Pound William Carlos Williams and H D the book follows through four generations of writers who have been the primary figures of the new poetics and poetics since 1950 With a historical afterword complete bibliographies and generous selections from each of the thirty five poets this anthology is the only available introduction to the poets connected with such groups and movements as the Objectivists the Beats Black Mountain the New York School the San Francisco Renaissance and ethnopoetics American Poetry Since 1950 is a new map of the territory an array of known and unknown contemporary classics It is full of strange texts and startling procedures histories and natural histories high lyricism and extended meditations extraordinary works that challenge our notions of what a poem ought to be Shearsman ,1982 Subject Catalog, 1980 Library of Congress, 1980 The Buckley-Little Catalogue of Books Available from Authors ,1985 Subject Catalog Library of Congress, National Union Catalog ,1981 Includes entries for maps and atlases American Poetry ,1984 Weekly Record ,1980 Nathaniel Tarn Lee Bartlett, 1987 Contemporary Authors ,1998 National Union Catalog, 1980 ,1981 Gondwana Nathaniel Tarn, 2017-06-27 A new collection by America s internationalist poet a vision both original and universal Octavio Paz Gondwana an ancient supercontinent long dispersed into fragments in the Southern Hemisphere Contemplating this once massive landmass at the the end of the world while looking out at the ethereal blue ice of Antarctica Nathaniel Tarn writes They said back then there was a frozen continent in those high latitudes encircling the globe are you moving toward it The various parts of Gondwana cohere into a unified whole that celebrates bird flight waves and innervating light while warning against environmental calamity Some poems celebrate the New Mexican desert as it becomes a place of protest against the invasion of Afghanistan in another the rising and falling stairs at Fez in Morocco meld into a meditation on marriage empire and the origins of climbing Elsewhere the heroic fighter pilot Lydia Litvyak is personified as Eurydice speaking to her Captain as Orpheus and in the final long section Exitus Generis Humani lines pour over the reader in slow mournful yet often humorous song revealing the poet's heart as the world's heart as the human race ends and whole armies sink into the earth yearning for mother love Celebrated as a poet where inquiry and ethical action are imperative Joseph Donahue Jacket2 Nathaniel Tarn has lifted up a mind heart mirror of our contemporary existence in Gondwana and warns us of a definitive ending if we do not demand radical change

Ins and Outs of the Forest Rivers Nathaniel Tarn, 2008 Nathaniel Tarn's newest collection of poems Ins and Outs of the Forest Rivers dives deep into the spiritual and physical sufferings of our global age After a moving overture the book unfolds in five sections Of the Perfected Angels with its lucid meditation on Issenheim altarpiece by Matthias Gr newald Dying Trees written out of the horrible loss of hundreds of thousands of trees throughout the American West in recent years War Stills an engagement with the ongoing atrocities in Iraq Movement North of the Java Sea taking flight from Maui to Bali to Papua New Guinea and the final section Sarawak snaking its way through the river and indigenous anguish of Borneo where Tarn as poet anthropologist surveyed the loss of forest lands and its effects on tribal peoples

Una Antología de la poesía norteamericana desde 1950 Eliot Weinberger, 1992 The Embattled Lyric Nathaniel Tarn, 2007 This book has two main subjects which are interwoven the attitudes of selected poets including Neruda Rilke Breton Celan and Artaud to the primitive and the archaic studied from an anthropologist's viewpoint and a model of the processes whereby poetry is produced and received built on the author's successful careers as both poet and anthropologist The book includes detailed biographical information about how Tarn went from being a French to an English to an American poet It also reveals the effect of a double career and of these moves on a unique body of poetry and theoretical work An extremely substantial interview serving also as an introduction to and discussion of the essays demonstrates that there is nothing like this work to be found elsewhere
