Atlantic Provinces:

The Atlantic Provinces in Confederation Ernest R. Forbes, Delphin A. Muise, 1993-12-15 Canada's four easternmost provinces while richly diverse in character and history share many elements of their political and economic experience within Confederation. In this volume thirteen leading historians explore the shifting tides of Atlantic Canada's history beginning with the union of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick with Ontario and Quebec to form the Dominion in 1867. Continuing on through Prince Edward Island's entry into Confederation six years later and Newfoundland's in 1949 they take the story of Atlantic Canada up to the 1980s. Collectively their work sheds light on the complex political dynamic between the region and Ottawa and reveals the roots of current social and economic realities. Fragmentation versus integration, plenty versus scarcity, centre versus periphery and other models inform their analysis. The development of regional disparity and responses to it form a major theme. The tradition of regional protest by Maritimers and later Atlantic Canadians runs deep so does their commitment to the idea of an integrated Canadian nation. Protests over the decades have primarily been expressions of frustration at perceived exclusion from the full benefits of national union. The creation of national markets for labour, capital and goods often operated to their detriment and political decisions at the national level frequently reinforced rather than alleviated the regional predicament. More than an account of the wealthy and powerful, this book often places ordinary men and women at the centre of the story. Above all it reveals the resilience of Atlantic Canadians as they have struggled to overcome their problems and to share in the benefits of life in the Canadian community.

The Atlantic Provinces in Confederation E. R. Forbes, Ernest R. Forbes, Delphin Andrew Muise, Bill Parenteau, 1993-01-01 The Atlantic Provinces cover New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

C. Wilkinson, Commission for Environmental Cooperation (Montréal, Québec), 2009 Describes and maps the North American oceanic and coastal waters classifying them into 24 marine ecoregions according to oceanographic features and geographically distinct assemblages of species. Descriptive profiles of the ecoregions describe their key features in terms of physical oceanographic and biological characteristics as well as human impacts. The book is intended to provide a framework for collecting and organizing information on these regions and to encourage a sense of joint responsibility and a collaborative strategic approach to dealing with the challenges of conserving the regions' shared oceans.

Canadian Reference Sources Mary E. Bond, Martine M. Caron, 1996 This bibliography cites those Canadian and foreign reference sources that describe Canadian people, institutions, organizations, publications, art, literature, languages and history. It lists books of a general nature as well as works in the disciplines of history and the humanities. These large divisions are then broken down by subject genre type of document and province or territory Titles of national provincial territorial or regional interest are included in every subject area when available The contents of the book are indexed four ways by name title French subject and English subject And to facilitate browsing the major reference books those dealing with more than one subject or a large geographical region are also cross referenced Two entries have been created for each bilingual document in order to provide access and bibliographical descriptions in both of Canada's official languages Entries for unilingual works include citation in the language of the publication and a bilingual annotation The annotations are descriptive and provide information on the content arrangements and indexing of works the availability of non print formats previous editions and title changes and related works Canadian Reference Sources will be an invaluable reference tool for future scholars and researchers
