The Amnesia Countdown Alan Oirich, 2003-09-01 The Jewish Hero Corps is a refreshingly new comic book series that features the world's only Jewish superhero team. The Hero Corps consists of Magen David Menorah Man, Dreidel Meidel, Shabbos Queen, Minyan Man, Matzah Woman, and Kipa Kid. Volume 1, The Amnesia Countdown, introduces all the characters and takes the reader on a worldwide race against time to stop the evil Fobots from launching their missile, which will wipe out Jewish memories around the world. Written and created by Alan Oirich and illustrated by Ron Randall, whose dazzling artwork has graced the pages of DC and Marvel comics, this comic book will amaze and delight children of all ages and teach them about their Jewish heritage in the process.

'Racing cracks': Memory and Time in "Midnight's Children" of Salman Rushdie Nora Scholtes, 2009-06-12 Seminar paper from the year 2008 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works grade 1 University of Kent language English abstract The inexorable ticktock as soon as Saleem's narration starts the countdown is set off and will not come to an end until the final full stop of Midnight's Children. MC 82 Throughout the story Saleem, being a child of ticktock, is remorselessly rushed on MC 533. Towards what one might ask: His childhood memory of a fisherman's pointing finger on a picture hanging on his bedroom wall haunts Saleem throughout his narration as a reminder of his inescapable destiny. MC 167 More precisely the fisherman is pointing towards a letter sent by India's first Prime Minister on the occasion of Saleem's birth, which coincided with the birth of India as an independent nation. With this letter Nehru proclaims that Saleem's life will be the mirror of the life of all Indians. MC 167 From his birth Saleem thus carries the burden of being a reflection of his country and its people. With this enormous responsibility imposed on him, he is pushed on through his narrative. Literally Saleem is racing against increasingly destructive cracks that threaten to destroy his body. On a metaphorical level, he is fighting against a force beyond his power, a force that ultimately is going to win time. Saleem's narrative is drenched with a sense of fatalism of it being too late. The race is already lost, but at least he must resist his defeat as long as he can, that is until he has brought his narrative to an end. And all the way through we hear the threatening tick tock, always aware that the final point zero is approaching fast and could surprise us along with Saleem at any moment. Interestingly, however, where conventional story tellers build their narratives up towards one big countdown, one decisive climax, Saleem provides us with numerous countdowns. The first one leading up to Saleem's birth coinciding with India's independence and partition, followed by a countdown leading up to Saleem's amnesia. The birth of his son and his final annihilation constitute the two last countdowns. However, these countdowns do not grant his narrative any disclosure or release, but they seem to be endlessly renewed. Once a countdown is up, a new one begins, each promising a final purpose and meaning, but each time leaving us unsatisfied.
