An Ethics Of Place

Gary Backhaus

An Ethics Of Place:

An Ethics of Place Mick Smith, 2001-03-29 Adopts ecological theory to critique confront and suggest solutions for contemporary cultural problems ETHICS OF PLACE. JEFF. MALPAS, 2019 Philosophies of Place Peter D. Herschok, Roger T. Ames, 2019-06-30 Humanity takes up space Human beings like many other species also transform spaces What is perhaps uniquely human is the disposition to qualitatively transform spaces into places that are charged with distinctive kinds of intergenerational significance There is a profound felt difference between a house as domestic space and a home as familial place or between the summit of a mountain one has climbed for the first time and the same rock pinnacle celebrated in ancestral narratives Contemporary philosophical uses of the word place often pivot on the distinction between space and place formalized by geographer philosopher Yi fu Tuan who suggested that places incorporate the experiences and aspirations of a people over the course of their moral and aesthetic engagement with sites and locations While spaces afford possibilities for different kinds of presence physical emotional cognitive dramatic spiritual places emerge as different ways of being present fuse over time and saturate a locale with distinctively collaborative patterns of significance This approach to issues of place however is emblematic of what Edward S Casey has argued are convictions about the primacy of absolute space and time that evolved along with the progressive dominance of the scientific imagination and modern imaginations of the universal The recent reappearance of place in Western philosophy represents a turn away from abstract and a priori reasoning and back toward phenomenal experience and the primacy of embodied and emplaced intelligence Places are enacted through the sustainably shared practices of mutually responsive and mutually vulnerable agents and are as numerous in kind as we are divergent in the patterns of values and intentions The contributors to this volume draw on resources from Asian European and North American traditions of thought to engage in intercultural reflection on the significance of place in philosophy and of the place of philosophy itself in the cultural social economic and political domains of contemporary life The conversation of place that results explores the meaning of intercultural philosophy the critical interplay of place and personal identity the meaning of appropriate emplacement the shared place of politics and religion and the nature of the emotionally emplaced body

The Freudian Wish and Its Place in Ethics Edwin Bissell Holt, 1915 The problem of good conduct both in practice and in ethical theory ought to receive some clarification one would suppose from a science that studies the mind and the will in their actual operation If in the past psychology has not materially contributed to this problem it is possibly owing to the incompetence of psychology to tell us much that is either true or useful about the essential nature of mind or will or of the soul I believe that such has been the case and that now for the first time and largely owing to the insight of Dr Sigmund Freud a view of the will has been gained which can be of real service to ethics In presenting this I shall disregard the current comments on Freud which have become so familiar for he deserves neither the furious dispraise nor the frantic worship which have been accorded him He is a man of genius simply more sagacious and more perspicacious than his detractors and far more sane than many of his followers Freud's contribution to science is notable and in my opinion epoch making for a reason which has hardly ever been mentioned And this reason is that he has given to the science of mind a causal category or to put it less academically he has given us a key to the explanation of mind This key to the mind which Freud calls the wish is the subject of the present volume And we shall consider more particularly the bearing which this wish psychology may have on ethics Preface p v

Emotion, Place and Culture Mick Smith, Liz Bondi, 2016-05-06 Recent years have witnessed a rapid rise in engagement with emotion and affect across a broad range of disciplines in the humanities and social sciences with geographers among others making a significant contribution by examining the emotional intersections between people and places Building on the achievements of Emotional Geographies 2005 the editors have brought together leading scholars such as Nigel Thrift Alphonso Lingis and Frances Dyson as well as young up and coming academics from a diverse range of disciplines to investigate feelings and affect in various spatial and social contexts environments and landscapes The book is divided into five sections covering the themes of remembering understanding mourning belonging and enchanting

Being Human Anna L. Peterson, 2001-05-26 Being Human is one of the few books that begins to integrate theological narratives with scientific ones looking for a compelling correlation between them where modern and religious sensibilities might both be affirmed This is a unique work Bron Taylor Professor and Director of Environmental Studies University of Wisconsin Oshkosh and author of Ecological Resistance Movements The Global Emergence of Radical and Popular Environmentalism Being Human succeeds at accounting for people's conception of humanness and human's relationship with nature no easy task but one that is a crucial starting point for any discussion of environmental ethics Kay Read Associate Professor of Comparative Ethics and Native American Religions DePaul University and author of Time and Sacrifice in the Aztec Cosmos Anna Peterson's Being Human is a stellar work of integration Peterson argues that the ideology of human exceptionalism and disconnection from the rest of nature is a major source of social and ecological harm She draws together cultural constructionist Asian Native American feminist and evolutionary thought to present a view of the human as both an integral part of nature and a creator of culture called to develop an ethic of interrelationality for the sake of the wellbeing of the whole earth community Rosemary Radford Ruether Garrett Theological Center author of Gaia and God An Ecofeminist Theology of Earth Healing In the postmodern academic climate of slice and dice take no prisoners analysis and critical theory Anna Peterson's book is a welcome breath of fresh air She positions her discussion as a development of rather than a deconstructive triumph over earlier work in the field of environmental philosophy Peterson takes up the themes that are absolutely central to the field the nature of nature human nature and the appropriate relationship between the two Her conclusions are well informed well reasoned reasonable and last but not least beautifully and engagingly expressed Baird Callicott Professor of Philosophy and Religion Studies University of North Texas and author of Earth's Insights A Multicultural Survey of Ecological Ethics from the Mediterranean Basin to the Australian

Outback California 1997 In Defense of the Land Essays in Environmental Philosophy and Beyond the Land Ethic More Essays in Environmental Philosophy Peterson challenges us to think critically about the ideas about nature and humanity that shape our ethical behavior She also brings into critical dialogue insights from a wide variety of religious traditions Buddhist Taoist Navaho Koyukon Catholic and Protestant Peterson helps us think creatively and critically about the task of comparative ethics and the imperatives of environmental ethics This book is a must read for any one concerned with environmental ethics and with comparative ethics Sharon Welch Professor of Religious Studies at the University of Missouri Columbia and author of A Feminist Ethic of Risk Sweet Dreams in America Making Ethics and Spirituality Work and Communities of Resistance and Solidarity A Feminist Theology of Liberation

Architecture, Ethics, and the Personhood of Place Gregory Caicco, 2007 Architecture and environmental design are among the last professional fields to develop a sustained and nuanced discussion concerning ethics Hemmed in by politics and powerful clients on one side and the often unscrupulous practices of the construction industry on the other environmental designers have been traditionally reluctant to address ethical issues head on And yet the rapid urbanization of the world's population continues to swell into new megacities each less healthy welcoming secure or environmentally sustainable than the next Green carbon reduced and sustainable building practices are important ways architects have recently responded to the symptoms of the crisis but are these efforts really addressing the core issues Taking the Dine Navajo Hogan Song a song used to protect and nourish the personhood of newly constructed dwellings as their inspiration the architects philosophers poets and other contemporary scholars contributing to this volume demonstrate that a deeper more radical change in our relationship to the built world needs to occur While offering a careful critique of modernist corporate or techno enthralled design practices these essays investigate an alternative relational ecology whose wisdom draws from ancient and often marginalized voices if not the whisperings of the earth itself Contributors include Richard Kearney Alberto Perez Gomez Juhani Pallasmaa Karsten Harries Edward Casey Susan Stewart David Abram Stacy Alaimo Jace and Laura Weaver Philip Sheldrake and Sebnem Yucel Young

Interpreting Nature Brian Treanor, Martin Drenthen, David Utsler, 2013-11-11 Modern environmentalism has come to realize that many of its key concerns wilderness and nature among them are contested territory viewed differently by different people Understanding nature requires science and ecology to be sure but it also requires a sensitivity to history culture and narrative Thus understanding nature is a fundamentally hermeneutic task

New Visions of Nature Martin A. M. Drenthen, F.W. Jozef Keulartz, James Proctor, 2009-07-23 New Visions of Nature focuses on the emergence of these new visions of complex nature in three domains The first selection of essays reflects public visions of nature that is nature as it is experienced encountered and instrumentalized by diverse publics The second selection zooms in on micro nature and explores the world of contemporary genomics The final section returns to the macro world and discusses the ethics of place in present day landscape philosophy and environmental ethics The contributions to this volume explore perceptual and conceptual boundaries between the human and the natural or between an out there and in here They attempt to specify how nature has been publicly and genomically constructed known and described through metaphors and re envisioned in terms of landscape and place By parsing out and rendering explicit these divergent views the volume asks for a re thinking of our relationship with nature
