Household Perspectives on Minority Language Maintenance and Loss Isabel Velázquez, 2018-12-05 This book provides an in depth examination of minority language maintenance and loss within a group of first generation Spanish speaking families in the early 21st century post industrial hyper globalized US Midwest an area that has a recent history of Latino settlement and has a low ethnolinguistic vitality for Spanish It looks specifically at language in the small spaces that is everyday interactions within households and families and gives a detailed account of the gendered nature of linguistic transmission in immigrant households as well as offering insights into the sociolinguistic aspects of language contact dynamics Starting with the question of why speakers choose to use and transmit their family language in communities with few opportunities to use it this book presents the reader with a theoretical model of language maintenance in low vitality settings It incorporates mothers voices and perspectives on mothering their families well being and their role in cultural linguistic transmission and compares the self perceptions motivations attitudes and language acquisition histories of members of two generations within the same household It will appeal to researchers and educators interested in bilingualism language maintenance and family language dynamics as well as to those working in the areas of education immigration and sociology

Relating Events in Narrative Ruth A. Berman, Dan Isaac Slobin, 2013-06-17 This volume represents the culmination of an extensive research project that studied the development of linguistic form function relations in narrative discourse It is unique in the extent of data which it analyzes more than 250 texts from children and adults speaking five different languages and in its crosslinguistic typological focus It is the first book to address the issue of how the structural properties and rhetorical preferences of different native languages English German Spanish Hebrew and Turkish impinge on narrative abilities across different phases of development The work of Berman and Slobin and their colleagues provides insight into the interplay between shared possibly universal patterns in the developing ability to create well constructed globally organized narratives

among preschoolers from three years of age compared with school children and adults contrasted against the impact of typological and rhetorical features of particular native languages on how speakers express these abilities in the process of relating events in narrative This volume also makes a special contribution to the field of language acquisition and development by providing detailed analyses of how linguistic forms come to be used in the service of narrative functions such as the expression of temporal relations of simultaneity and retrospection perspective taking on events and textual connectivity To present this information the authors prepared in depth analyses of a wide range of linguistic systems including tense aspect marking passive and middle voice locative and directional predications connectivity markers null subjects and relative clause constructions In contrast to most work in the field of language acquisition this book focuses on developments in the use of these early forms in extended discourse beyond the initial phase of early language development The book offers a pioneering approach to the interactions between form and function in the development and use of language from a typological linguistic perspective The study is based on a large crosslinguistic corpus of narratives elicited from preschool school age and adult subjects All of the narratives were elicited by the same picture storybook Frog Where Are You by Mercer Mayer An appendix lists related studies using the same storybook in 50 languages The findings illuminate both universal and language specific patterns of development providing new insights into questions of language and thought

Relating Events in Narrative, Volume 2 Ludo Verhoeven, Sven Stromqvist, 2004-02-13

Relating Events in Narrative Volume 2 Typological and Contextual Perspectives edited by Sven Stromqvist and Ludo Verhoeven is the much anticipated follow up volume to Ruth Berman and Dan Slobin's successful frog story studies book Relating Events in Narrative: A Crosslinguistic Developmental Study 1994. Working closely with Ruth Berman and Dan Slobin, the new editors have brought together a wide range of scholars who inspired by the 1994 book have all used Mercer Mayer's Frog Where Are You as a basis for their research. The new book which is divided into two parts features a broad linguistic and cultural diversity. Contributions focusing on crosslinguistic perspectives make up the first part of the book. This part is concluded by Dan Slobin with an analysis and overview discussion of factors of linguistic typology in frog story research. The second part offers a variety of theoretical and methodological perspectives all dealing with contextual variation of narrative construction in a wide sense: variation across medium, modality, speech, writing, signing, genre, variation of the specific frog story narrative compared to other genres, frog story narrations from the perspective of theory of mind and from the perspective of bilingualism and second language acquisition. Several of the contributions to the new book manuscript also deal with developmental perspectives but in distinction to the 1994 book that is not the only focused issue. The second part is initiated by Ruth Berman with an analysis of the role of context in developing narrative abilities. The new book represents a rich overview and illustration of recent advances in theoretical and methodological approaches to the crosslinguistic study of narrative discourse. A red thread throughout the book is that crosslinguistic variation is not merely a matter of variation in form but also in content and aspects of cognition. A recurrent perspective on language and thought is that of Dan Slobin's theory of thinking for speaking: an approach to cognitive consequences of linguistic diversity. The book ends with an epilogue by Herbert Clark: Variations on a Ranarian Theme.

Lorca, Buñuel, Dalí Manuel Delgado, Alice Jan Poust, 2001. This volume of essays commemorates and celebrates the creative works of Federico Garcia Lorca, Salvador Dali and Luis Bunel, three contemporaries and friends. The essays suggest that the artistic creations of Lorca, Dali and Bunel feature theoretical ideas on their contemporary art in general as well as on the particular art form cultivated by each idea that help us to better understand their work as it relates to a wide range of aesthetic theories.

Threatened Amphibians of the World S. N. Stuart, Conservation International, 2008. Amphibians are facing an extinction crisis but getting to the facts has been difficult. Threatened Amphibians of the World is a visual journey through the first ever comprehensive assessment of the conservation status of the world's 6,000 known species of frogs, toads, salamanders and caecilians. All 1,900 species known to be threatened with extinction are covered including a description of threats to each species and an evaluation of conservation measures in place or needed Each entry includes a photograph or illustration of the species where available a distribution map and detailed information on range population and habitat and ecology Introductory chapters present a detailed analysis of the results complemented by a series of short essays written by many of the world s leading herpetologists Appendices include annotated lists of lower risk species and a country by country listing of threatened amphibians pub desc Cuentos de Cuanto Hay Joe Hayes,1998 In the summer of 1931 folklorist J Manuel Espinosa traveled throughout northern New Mexico asking Spanish speaking residents for cuentos de cuanto hay tales of olden times Espinosa s transcriptions were published in Spanish in 1937 Now storyteller Joe Hayes makes them available once again in the original Spanish and now for the first time in English translation To read these stories is to enter a world where the devil may come knocking on your door and ask you to marry him and where your mule can warn you not to accept the devil s offer Macmillan Mil maravillas: lvl. 1-3. Myers, Maureen A. Donnelly,2008 Auyantepui is an immense sandstone table mountain in the Venezuelan Guayana This mesa did not appear on aviation maps and was unknown to the literate world prior to the late 1930s It was explored from the air by Jimmy Angel a bush pilot and colorful soldier of fortune for whom the world s highest waterfall is named Angel Falls at the northern end of Auyantepui About the same time in 1937 Captain Felix Cardona Puig and Gustavo Heny discovered an access crack in the sandstone allowing ascent onto the southern end of the mesa The first scientific exploration followed immediately the 1937 1938 Phelps Venezuelan Expedition of the American Museum of Natural History made the first zoological and general botanical collections Today no tepui other than the Lost World of Cerro Roraima is better known to the general public The summit of Auyantepui has a known fauna of 24 species of amphibians and reptiles including species added by the Robert G Goelet American Museum TERRAMAR Expedition in 1994 This expedition collected 16 species during a month of fieldwork in the dry season February in five camps at elevations of 1700 2100 m above sea level All species known from the summit of Auyantepui are treated in this bulletin illustrations where possible include tadpoles bioacoustic spectrograms and hemipenes Four new species are described two frogs Hypsiboas angelicus n sp Eleutherodactylus auricarens n sp a lizard Arthrosaura montigena n sp and a snake Atractus guerreroi n sp Arthrosaura montigena possesses a hemipenial character not previously described an orifice orificium of unknown function situated in the lobular crotch between the two lobes Attention is called to a probably undescribed snake Liophis miliaris sensu lato from the nearby Gran Sabana The herpetofauna of the Auy n summit comprises 12 families 20 genera and 24 species This is compared with the known herpetofauna of the Chimant massif lying less than 50 km south southeast of Auyantepui Despite the proximity and similar dimensions the summits of Auyantepui and Chimant have in common only 11% of the combined number of species 4 of 36 44% of the genera 11 of 25 and 62% of the families represented 8 of 13 showing that neighboring tepuis may have herpetofaunas very different from one another Nonetheless the adjacent mountains that constitute the more fragmented Chimant massif are relatively close to one another and seem to have a unified herpetofauna Bulletin of the American Museum of Natural History Joel Asaph Allen, 2008
