Bioconversion Fuels From Biomass:

Bioconversion, Fuels from Biomass E. E. Robertson, 1977 Bioconversion The origins of biomass History of the use of biomass as an energy source Bioconversion energy elements and processes

Biological Conversion of Biomass for Fuels and Chemicals Jianzhong Sun, Shi-You Ding, Joy D Peterson, 2013-11-04 This book is divided into two parts The first covers biomass modification to facilitate the industrial degradation processing and other characteristics of feedstocks These include reduction in the general recalcitrance of plant cell wall and downstream processing costs The second focuses on cutting edge technologies for the conversion of lignocelluloses into biofuels and other products It describes the most up to date advances in natural biomass utilization systems such as wood feeding termites and animals that efficiently degrade lignocellulosic substrates Consolidated bioprocessing CBP integrates cellulase production and cellulose hydrolysis with pentose and hexose fermentation in a single step This replicates what happens in the digestive systems of animals such as termites and cows that effectively degrade lignocellulosic substrates CBP has the potential to reduce production costs and lower capital investment whilst increasing conversion efficiency Currently there are no CBP enabling micro organisms suitable for industrial applications Consequently this book presents technologies which integrate the lignocellulolytic systems of insects and other animals to advance CBP strategy for cellulosic biofuels It covers the progress made and challenges faced with the utilisation of gene catalyst and other unique mechanisms from cellulose eating animals as well as cutting edge technologies developed to reduce the general recalcitrance of feedstocks for processing This volume makes essential reading for academics and industrial groups concerned with overcoming the challenges inherent in the biological conversion of biomass into fuels and chemicals

Introduction to Biomass Energy Conversions Sergio Capareda, 2013-07-09 The potential that biomass energy has to supplement traditional fuels and reduce greenhouse gas emissions has put it front and center in the plan to replace fossil based fuels with renewable fuels While much has been written about biomass conversions no single textbook contains all the information needed to teach a biomass conversion course until Biotechnology of Biomass Conversion Morris Wayman, Sarad R. Parekh, 1990 An overview of the conversion of renewable resources such as wood wastes agricultural crops and crop residues into useful products such as fuel alcohol or animal feed by the process of fermentation Explains the underlying scientific principles both biological and technological describes the industrial applications and discusses economic considerations Written on an undergraduate level but also useful as an introduction for graduates or professionals in biotechnology Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Technologies for Converting Biomass to Useful Energy Erik Dahlquist, 2013-04-16 Officially the use of biomass for energy meets only 10 13% of the total global energy demand of 140 000 TWh per year Still thirty years ago the official figure was zero as only traded biomass was included While the actual production of biomass is in the range of 270 000 TWh per year most of this is not used for energy purposes and mostly it is not used very efficiently Therefore there is a need for new methods for converting biomass into refined products like chemicals fuels wood and paper products heat cooling and electric power Obviously some biomass is also used as food our primary life necessity The different types of conversion methods covered in this volume are biogas production bio ethanol production torrefaction pyrolysis high temperature gasification and combustion This book covers the suitability of different methods for conversion of different types of biomass Different versions of the conversion methods are presented both existing methods and those being developed for the future System optimization using modeling methods and simulation are analyzed to determine advantages and disadvantages of different solutions Many international experts have contributed to provide an up to date view of the situation all over the world These global perspectives and the inclusion of so much expertise of distinguished international researchers and professionals make this book unique This book will prove useful and inspiring to professionals engineers researchers and students as well as to those working for different authorities and organizations

Recent Advances in Thermochemical Conversion of Biomass Ashok Pandey, Thallada Bhaskar, Michael Stöcker, Rajeev Sukumaran, 2015-01-28 This book provides general information and data on one of the most promising renewable energy sources biomass for its thermochemical conversion During the last few years there has been increasing focus on developing the processes and technologies for the conversion of biomass to liquid and gaseous fuels and chemicals in particular to develop low cost technologies This book provides date based scientific information on the most advanced and innovative processing of biomass as well as the process development elements on thermochemical processing of biomass for the production of biofuels and bio products on biomass based biorefinery The conversion of biomass to biofuels and other value added products on the principle biorefinery offers potential from technological perspectives as alternate energy The book covers intensive R D and technological developments done during the last few years in the area of renewable energy utilizing biomass as feedstock and will be highly beneficial for the researchers scientists and engineers working in the area of biomass biofuels biorefinery Provides the most advanced and innovative thermochemical conversion technology for biomass Provides information on large scales such as thermochemical biorefinery Useful for researchers intending to study scale up Serves as both a textbook for graduate students and a reference book for researchers Provides information on integration of process and technology on thermochemical conversion of biomass

Baskar, Shikha Baskar, Ranjit S. Dhillon, 2012-05-08 The consumption of petroleum has surged during the 20th century at least partially because of the rise of the automobile industry Today fossil fuels such as coal oil and natural gas provide more than three quarters of the world's energy Unfortunately the growing demand for fossil fuel resources comes at a time of diminishing reserves of these nonrenewable resources The worldwide reserves of oil are sufficient to supply energy and chemicals for only about another 40 years causing widening concerns about rising oil prices The use of biomass to produce energy is only one form of renewable energy that can be utilized to reduce the impact of energy production and use on the global environment Biomass can be converted into three main products such as energy biofuels and fine chemicals using a number of different processes Today it is a great challenge for researchers to find new environmentally benign methodology for biomass conversion which are industrially profitable as well This book focuses on the conversion of biomass to biofuels bioenergy and fine chemicals with the interface of biotechnology microbiology chemistry and materials science An international scientific authorship summarizes the state of the art of the current research and gives an outlook on future developments
