Biological Control And Insect Pest Management Bulletin 1911:

Handbook of Biological Control T. W. Fisher, Thomas S. Bellows, L. E. Caltagirone, D. L. Dahlsten, Carl B. Huffaker, G. Gordh, 1999-09-20 For many years the use of chemical agents such as pesticides and herbicides has been effective in controlling the many varieties of pests that infest both agricultural crops and backyard gardens However these pests are gradually becoming resistant to these agents because the agents themselves are acting as selective factors making the pests better and better able to resist and persist As a result the use of biological controlling agents is increasing This book is a comprehensive and authoritative handbook of biological control Handbook of Integrated Pest Management for Turf and Ornamentals Anne R. Leslie, 1994-06-23 This essential reference provides complete coverage of integrated pest management IPM With more than 40 recognized experts the book thoroughly details the rationale and benefits of employing an IPM plan and provides technical information on each aspect from cultural practices to choosing when and how to use chemicals It also brings together research work on pest problems with information on the practical implementation of the tools Case studies of successful operations are provided as well Environmentalism and Economic Justice Laura Pulido, 1996-02 Ecological causes are championed not only by lobbyists or hikers While mainstream environmentalism is usually characterized by well financed highly structured organizations operating on a national scale campaigns for environmental justice are often fought by poor or minority communities Environmentalism and Economic Justice is one of the first books devoted to Chicano environmental issues and is a study of U S environmentalism in transition as seen through the contributions of people of color It elucidates the various forces driving and shaping two important examples of environmental organizing the 1965 71 pesticide campaign of the United Farm Workers and a grazing conflict between a Hispano cooperative and mainstream environmentalists in northern New Mexico The UFW example is one of workers highly marginalized by racism whose struggle as much for identity as for a union contract resulted in boycotts of produce at the national level The case of the grazing cooperative Ganados del Valle which sought access to land set aside for elk hunting represents a subaltern group fighting the elitism of natural resource policy in an effort to pursue a pastoral lifestyle In both instances Pulido details the ways in which racism and economic subordination create subaltern communities and shows how these groups use available resources to mobilize and improve their social economic and environmental conditions Environmentalism and Economic Justice reveals that the environmental struggles of Chicano communities do not fit the mold of mainstream environmentalism as they combine economic identity and quality of life issues Examination of the forces that create and shape these grassroots movements clearly demonstrates that environmentalism needs to be sensitive to local issues economically empowering and respectful of ethnic and cultural diversity Beneficial Insects and Mites Tess Henn, 1990 Extension Circular, 1989 Organic Tree Fruit Management Linda Edwards, 1998 Affordable Housing Tess Henn, Rick Weinzierl, 1989 A Directory of Farmers' Innovations in Ohio Kamyar Enshayan, Deb Stinner, Benjamin R.
