Black Student White Counselor Developing Effective Relationships:

Black Student/white Counselor Alvin S. Bynum,1991 Knowledge and practical techniques are provided to help the white college counselor develop relationships with black students that can help the students reach their full potential A sociocultural and historical overview of the black student s world with a review of important literature in the field gives background that white counselors can use to create supportive environments and help students adjust to higher education A holistic approach is advocated to recognize the influence of black family ties and the impact of black culture and tradition A racial distance index is included to help counselors recognize and manage their own racial biases Counselors are urged to construct a personal action plan by following suggestions for changing attitudes and working through the five case studies that are included It is concluded that empathetic understanding plus a good knowledge of client social sciences will provide a springboard for effective relationship development even when the differing conditions of race or culture enter the counseling session Attachments present the following items 1 a 113 item bibliography 2 an annotated resource list of 16 works 3 an outline of procedures for establishing a list of community resources 4 an outline of a holistic counseling process 5 an outline of a personal action plan and 6 a subject and author index SLD Resources in Education ,1992 Academic Advising

Higher Education Abstracts: Fall 1991, Volume 27, Number 1 ,1991 Resources in Education ,1996 First-year Academic Advising M. Lee Upcraft,Gary L. Kramer,1995 This monograph is designed to provide a blueprint to educators on how to improve academic advising for first year college students New Dimensions in Thinking Edward Frank Shrader,1974 Academic Advising ,1994-05-25 The literature about academic advising has proliferated at a rapid rate during the past decade This volume cites and annotates some 350 items on that topic While most of the works were published in the 1980s and 1990s a few classic books and articles from the past have also been included Entries are grouped in topical chapters and each overviews the contents of the work cited Academic advising is one of the most important services on campuses today No longer viewed as simple course scheduling this subject is seen as a vital process that assists students in setting goals and negotiating the college experience in a positive way Advising has evolved as a critical function because of the increasing complexity of curricula the competitiveness of the job market and the changing nature of the student population The literature on academic advising has consequently proliferated during the past decade and this book provides valuable guidance in that area It contains some 350 entries for books and articles on academic advising and closely related topics Entries are grouped in topical chapters and each includes a short annotation While most of the works cited were published in the 1980s and 1990s a few classic articles and books from the past have also been included to give the collection an historical perspective Education Manitoba ,1993 African American Children Carolyn M. Tucker,1999 The major purpose of this book is to offer a new culturally sensitive socioeconomic sensitive research based practical approach to challenges faced by African American children and their teachers and care givers This approach is anchored in self empowerment theory which suggests that African American children must receive encouragement in self motivation self praise and adaptive skills that will spur academic and social success
