Blacks In Communications Journalism Public Relations And Advertising:

Blacks in Communications: Journalism, Public Relations, and Advertising Meyer L. Stein, 1972 The Media in Black and White Everette Dennis, 2020-03-24 The media's treatment of and interaction with race like race itself is one of the most sensitive areas in American society. Whether in its coverage and treatment of racial matters or racial connections inside media organizations themselves, mass communication is deeply involved with race. The Media in Black and White brings together twenty journalists and scholars of various racial backgrounds to grapple with a controversial issue: the role that media industries, from advertising to newspapers to the information superhighway, play in helping Americans understand race. Contributors include Ellis Cose, a contributing editor for Newsweek; Manning Marable, chairman of Columbia University's African American Research Center; William Wong, a columnist for the Oakland Tribune; Lisa Penalzoza, a University of Illinois professor; and Melita Marie Garza, a Chicago Tribune reporter. Among the topics discussed are the quality of reporting on immigrant issues; how sensationalism may be deepening the chasm of misunderstanding between the races; how the coverage of America's drug wars has been marked by racism; and whether politically correct language is interfering with coverage of vital issues and problems. The contributors of The Media in Black and White hope to broaden the narrow vision of the United States and the world beyond with their contributions to the debate over race and the media. The commentary found in this important work will be of interest to sociologists, communication specialists, and black studies scholars. CAS. Curriculum Advisory Service Quarterly, 1971 Madison Avenue and the Color Line Jason Chambers, 2008 Until now most works on the history of African Americans in advertising have focused on the depiction of blacks in advertisements. Madison Avenue and the Color Line breaks new ground by examining the history of black advertising agency employees and agency owners. Catalog of the Communications Library, University of Illinois University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Library, 1975 Communications Media and Africa African Bibliographic Center, 1973 The Publishers Weekly, 1972 The Dictionary Catalog of the Vivian G.
