António Nóvoa, M. Lawn

A European Education:

Austerity and the Remaking of European Education Anna Traianou, Ken Jones, 2019-06-13 Austerity and the Remaking of European Education offers historically and empirically grounded accounts of national educational formations in Europe at a specific time in their reshaping through encounters with global policy frameworks and social and economic developments The authors explore these issues in the context of different pressures that impact on European education systems from the constraints established by the European Central Bank and the European Commission across Southern Europe to the 2008 financial crisis and the increased migration The book provides a rigorous theoretical approach to European and national policies combined with detailed analyses of national educational contexts in England France Greece Hungary and Sweden These in depth studies identify major issues of national education policymaking and explore the complexities of global national relationships The economic crisis the rise of the Left in Greece and of the populist Right in many countries in Europe questions of cultural and religious diversity tensions between marketization and inclusion are all brought into focus offering findings that are of great interest to researchers of education policy politics and sociology of education alike In the final section of the book the authors explore policy alternatives as embodied in the activities of both governments and non state actors such as trade unions and social movements

Fabricating Europe António Nóvoa, M. Lawn, 2007-05-08 Fabricating Europe has within it a core idea a crucial but imprecise idea that of a European educational space which transnational governance networks and cultural and economic projects are creating now Yet the perceptible creation of this contemporary space of European policy making and networking has not been a subject of study It appears offstage in studies of national systems in which national and professional identity political organization policy formation and public private markets are all viewed as contained within the borders of the state Fabricating Europe is concerned with the new possibilities to be discerned and imagined in the European public and institutional spaces and discourses in education and the lack of impetus within the broad area of educational studies to meet the task of creating analyses and responses

Towards a European Education Policy Commission of the European Communities, 1977

Shaping of European Education Martin Lawn, Romuald Normand, 2014-09-15 The range speed and scale of Europeanizing effects in education and their complexity has produced a relatively new field of study Using scholarship and research drawn from sociology politics and education this book examines the rise of international and transnational policy and the flow of data and people around Europe to study Europeanizing processes and situations in education Each chapter creates a space for policy research on European education involving a range of disciplines to develop empirical studies about European institutions networks and processes the interplay between policy makers stakeholders experts and researchers and the space between the European and the national The volume investigates the construction of European education exploring the consideration of the role of think tanks and consultancies international organizations researcher mobilities standards indicators of higher education and cultural metaphor Bringing together international contributors from a variety of disciplines across Europe the book will be of key value to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education studies politics and sociology

Education for Life: A European Strategy Kari Kairamo,2014-05-20 Education for Life A European Strategy critiques the educational system in European countries and offers suggestions for its improvement as well as solutions for its problems The book is divided into six parts Part I deals with topics such as the revitalization of education the cooperation of industry and education and the training of some companies Part II is concerned with the present trends major issues the thrust of positive action and industry involvement in the education of the youth Part III talks about the higher education in Europe its comparison with other educational systems and proposals of action for its problems Part IV covers vocational education the new technologies and occupations it offers and the businesses involved in training and education Part V tackles management education management development practices and the European management model while Part VI discusses lifelong learning and adult education the restructuring of industry and work open learning and the obstacles to progress in adult education The text is recommended for those in the education department especially those in European countries who are making studies on education and the approaches to its problems

Problems and Prospects in European Education

Francois Orivel,Jürgen Schriewer,Elizabeth S. Swing,2000-06-30 Written by scholars and professionals from such organizations as the Council of Europe and the European Community this volume provides a comprehensive examination of education throughout Europe The particularities of national educational systems are of necessity within its purview but overall organization of the volume reflects such thematic and regional concerns as the impact of social and economic integration on education the modification of educational structures and curricula following the demise of communism in Eastern Europe degree equivalency the financing of educational change privatization the impact of migration and immigration national concerns intercultural education and multiculturalism The volume s experts discuss European education s common heritage and the distinct national traditions it preserves They deal with the interpretations of European education systems put forward in the shape of educational theories or reform oriented programs policies and ideologies as well as with the social actors forces and movements that have fuelled reform The book s chapters also address the challenges European education has to face as a consequence of processes of change occurring at multiple levels at the levels of cultural values socio political reconstruction intercultural migration supra national integration and ongoing global interconnection

Ideas and European Education Policy, 1973-2020 Marina Cino Pagliarello,2022-04-26 This book analyses the transformation of European Education Policy from 1973 to 2020 In doing so it offers a unique insight into the changes of European education from a predominantly national concern to a supranational policy framework driven by an economic discourse concerning productivity and employability The book shows that the idea of the Europe of Knowledge did not originate in the Lisbon Strategy of 2000 but rather was the result of a gradual development that started in the mid 1980s

This begun with the establishment of a specific problem definition of education as a solution for Europe's lack of competitiveness a definition that was incrementally constructed by the European Commission and the European business community Highlighting significant and unexplored questions such as the role of European transnational business in education and the role of the problem entrepreneur in defining policy issues this book will provide a comprehensive perspective on European Education Policy that will be of interest to all students of European Politics Education Policy and Public Policy

Austerity and the Remaking of European Education Anna Traianou, Ken Jones, 2019-06-13 Austerity and the Remaking of European Education offers historically and empirically grounded accounts of national educational formations in Europe at a specific time in their reshaping through encounters with global policy frameworks and social and economic developments The authors explore these issues in the context of different pressures that impact on European education systems from the constraints established by the European Central Bank and the European Commission across Southern Europe to the 2008 financial crisis and the increased migration The book provides a rigorous theoretical approach to European and national policies combined with detailed analyses of national educational contexts in England France Greece Hungary and Sweden These in depth studies identify major issues of national education policymaking and explore the complexities of global national relationships The economic crisis the rise of the Left in Greece and of the populist Right in many countries in Europe questions of cultural and religious diversity tensions between marketization and inclusion are all brought into focus offering findings that are of great interest to researchers of education policy politics and sociology of education alike In the final section of the book the authors explore policy alternatives as embodied in the activities of both governments and non state actors such as trade unions and social movements

A European Politics of Education Romuald Normand, Jean-Louis Derouet, 2016-06-10 A European Politics of Education proposes a sociology of education establishing connections between empirical data coming from European scale comparative surveys normative assumptions structuring actors representations and interpretative judgements and a specific focus on Lifelong Learning policy areas It invites readers to think about the place of standards expertise and calculations in the European space from a common perspective supported by a tradition of critical sociology and European political studies The book Addresses an important agenda how the policies and politics of supranational Europe are making a European educational space Contains a response to the emergence of new epistemic governance and instruments at European level Contains contributions from the EU and the UK which give a comprehensive selection of perspectives and analysis of the field as it concerns Europe The complexity of the contemporary European education policy space is addressed here with new lines of inquiry as well as a reflexive outlook on standardization policy making and actor engagement Students and researchers of European policy studies education policy analysts and theorists will all be particularly interested readers

Europeanisation in Teacher Education Vasileios Symeonidis, 2020-11-26 This book explores the phenomenon and process of Europeanisation in the field of teacher education Drawing on comparative case studies in Austria Greece and Hungary it examines empirical data and analyses key themes around the continuum of teacher education the development of teacher competence frameworks and the support to teacher educators The book is the first of its kind to systematically research the landscape of European teacher education exploring the interactions between national and European influences in the trajectory of teacher education policy and practice Chapters offer an original and in depth understanding of European influences that draw on evidence from policy documents and interviews with relevant stakeholders It argues that teacher education systems are being Europeanised although at different speeds and directions for each country Factors such as the socio political and economic contexts historical traits and policy actors preferences at both national and institutional levels determine the translation process This book will be of great interest for academics educational researchers practitioners and policymakers in Europe and beyond informing wider discussions about the emerging European context in teacher education education policy and what it means to be a European teacher

Change and Harmonization in European Education Robert Beck,1971-01-01 Change and Harmonization in European Education was first published in 1971 Minnesota Archive Editions uses digital technology to make long unavailable books once again accessible and are published unaltered from the original University of Minnesota Press editions Changes are taking place in European education changes which in many respects point to a trend toward harmonization or integration of educational policies among various countries of Europe Professor Beck surveys these developments in secondary and higher education in both Western and Eastern Europe and shows how common challenges and goals are being identified and met The study is based on extensive travel and research As the author explains Europeans whether they live in England or in the Soviet Union are committed to such goals as equality of educational opportunity whatever one s sex place of residence or family background At the same time Europeans are aware of such common problems as the difficulty of providing places in colleges or universities for all who would like to attend them There is a common awareness among the different nationals of the desirability of making vocational technical education more prestigious than it has been in the past and of the need to temper the chauvinism that has characteristically run through much of the teaching until recently Changes in the educational systems of West Germany and Sweden receive especially close scrutiny in this study and there is emphasis on the influence which several international agencies and organizations have exerted on the process of educational harmonization among them the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development the Council for Cultural Cooperation of the Council of Europe the European Institute for University Studies and the Comparative Education Society in Europe

Education in a Single Europe Dr Colin Brock,Colin Brock,Withold Tulasiewicz,2002-03-11 Nothing else out there covering the same ground in such specific detail Countries represented individually by chapter Research like this in demand for masters courses more setting up all the time Has new countries in it that have become members of the EU since fist edition was published

The Western European Idea in Education V.

Mallinson,2014-06-28 A textbook on education in Western Europe this book is designed for students of both education and European studies It compares and contrasts education ideals and practice and cultural aspirations in different countries and generations and then goes on to consider how Western Europe will react to future challenge and change both from within and beyond its own confines European Education and Teachers Digumarti Bhaskara Rao,2003 European countries have different educational set ups and varied teacher education programmes As much literature is not available on education and teachers of European countries to the people of developing states this book is prepared in order to give all information in nutshell about the European Education the present status and the strategies that are in action to enhance the quality of education and the status and competencies of teachers This book also explains the political scenario the expenditure on education the educational reforms the programmes for future the aspects to be considered in teacher education and teacher recruitment etc This book will add many things to our present teacher education and general education programmes and policies Towards a European Education Policy European Communities Commission,1977 Education and Solidarity in the European Union Sarah K. St. John,2020-12-19 This book tells the story of the European Movement s mission to create through education a European spirit in order to secure the success of European integration This book draws links between the crisis of solidarity experienced by the European Union today and the difficulties faced throughout European integration to develop a fully fledged EU education policy It makes the case that education has not been a stable mechanism for fostering spirit due to its national attachment to identity and nation building Without education it has been difficult to foster the spirit needed to establish a strong citizen wide sense of European solidarity to overcome the crises the EU faces today Exploring the connection between education and solidarity through the notion of spirit the book presents an interdisciplinary study that avoids the compartmentalisation of education studies philosophy and political science to bring ideas together that shed fresh light on contemporary debates currently under the spotlight A European Education Harvey Mudd,1986-04-08 Challenges to European Education Thyge Winther-Jensen,1996 Special Reports on Educational Subjects Great Britain. Board of Education,1905 The Education Systems of Europe Wolfgang Hörner,Hans Döbert,Botho von Kopp,Wolfgang Mitter,2007-05-03 Education is a paradoxical phenomenon On the one hand it is universal as since the period of Enlightenment it has been declared universal good for everybody Mo over we learnt by historical research following the ideas of world system theory that since this time as far as its main structures are concerned compulsory state education given by professional teachers in classrooms it took even universal traits However on the other hand the fact that education became state education organised or at least controlled by the state was the beginning of another tradition line education in the form of state organised educational institutions became a means of creating national identity Universal inclusion as for the light of reason shining for everybody is opposed to more or less nationalist exclusion of all the others shaping the feature of a particular nation state with a particular educational system This fundamental dialectical tension between the universal and the particular was one of the important motives to make this handbook. One of the central issues of the country studies is precisely to display the relationship between universal values and the search for national identity. Another motive is given by the European dimension of the handbook.
