A Concordance To The Poems Of Samuel Johnson:

A Concordance to the English Poems of Samuel Johnson ... Fred Chappell, 1964 A Concordance to the Poems of Samuel Johnson Helen Harrold Naugle, 1973 A Concordance to the Poems of Samuel Johnson. Edited by Helen Harrold Naugle, in Collaboration with Peter B. Sherry Helen Harrold NAUGLE, 1973 A Reference Guide for English Studies Michael J. Marcuse, 2023-11-15 The Latin & Greek Poems of Samuel Johnson Samuel Johnson, Barry Baldwin, 1995

As well as such famous works as London and The Vanity of Human Wishes both owing much to Juvenal Samuel Johnson wrote many poems in Latin and several in Greek He also translated a large batch of epigrams from the Greek Anthology into Latin to while away the sleepless nights of the last winter before he died His subjects vary from religious themes and the quality of Pembroke College beer to a motto for a goat that circumnavigated the globe to his own ill health Some pieces are entertaining squibs others disclose his complex emotions towards people and places Samuel Johnson and the Art of Sinking 1709-1791 Freya Johnston, 2005-02-17

The traditional view of Samuel Johnson as hostile to particulars trifles and aesthetic mediocrity only half explains his authorial character Samuel Johnson and the Art of Sinking 1709 1791 argues that in a period dominated by social and literary hierarchies Johnson s works reveal a defining interest in little mean or low topics and people Freya Johnston moves away from a critical emphasis on what literature of this period excludes to consider its modes of including recalcitrant material Of necessity finite any piece of writing is informed by the subject matter it omits or to which it indirectly alludes How can we identify the peripheral topics or characters purportedly excluded from a text unless it provides compelling inferences that oblige us to supply the omission In which case something subtler is at work than barefaced proscription Rehearsing the comparative merits of great and little things Johnson and his contemporaries tested the opposing claims of pagan and Christian authority Ancient criticism and its eighteenth century adherents held that each subject required an appropriate style little matters call for the low lofty ones for the high Yet Gospel writers stressed Christ s incarnation as a praiseworthy and imitable descent to the humanly little one that is compatible with the most sublime style Through a series of close readings this book examines how Johnson conceived of his relationships to and with the margins of writing and of society It proposes that his literary and critical practice is neither inclusive nor exclusive in its attitudes towards peripheral things Folk-taxonomies in Early English Earl R. Anderson, 2003

A folk taxonomy is a semantic field that represents the particular way in which a language imposes structure and order upon the myriad impressions of human experience and perception Thus for example the experience of color in modern English is structured around an inventory of twelve basic color terms but languages vary in the number of basic color terms used from thirteen or fourteen terms to as few as two or three Anthropological linguists have been interested in the comparative study of folk taxonomies across contemporary languages and in their studies they have sometimes proposed evolutionary models for the development and elaboration of these taxonomies The evolutionary models have implications for historical linguistics but there have been very few studies of the historical development of a folk taxonomy within a language or within a language family Folk Taxonomies in Early English undertakes this task for English and to some extent for the Germanic and Indo European language families The semantic fields studied are basic color terms seasons of the year geometric shapes the five senses the folk psychology of mind and soul and basic plant and animal life forms Anderson s emphasis is on folk taxonomies in Old and Middle English and also on the implications of semantic analysis for our reading of early English literary texts
