CHAPTER FOURTEEN CALL 911

Oh my God, they're playing Christmas songs on the radio already! I'm gonna need two baskets of Robert's mushrooms and some cold beer tonight," Steven Sawyer said right out loud to himself as he drove his pickup truck through the south end of Hutchinson. "It will be turkey for days on end soon, so I better get me some catfish too."

Steven Sawyer rolled up to the House of Suds in South Hutch like he normally did a few times a week, but this time, something was off. As Sam walked up to the front door, he saw Joe Miller's work truck parked diagonally in front of the bar, but there was something about Miller's truck that was off-kilter. As he approached, he figured it out. The truck was on but not running. He could hear the radio and a buzzer, maybe the seat belt buzzer, and the lights were on, but the engine was not running. And . . . Joe Miller was not sitting at the wheel.

As Sam got a little closer, he saw that Miller was, in fact, sitting at the wheel, but he was slumped over to his right, lying across the console that separated the bucket seats of the Dodge truck.

Steven was trying to come up with a funny little line. "Did you drop your Girl Scout cookies, Joe?" or some such operatic

Cape Cod Henry David Thoreau, 2021-04-04 Wishing to get a better view than I had yet had of the ocean which we are told covers more than two thirds of the globe but of which a man who lives a few miles inland may never see any trace more than of another world I made a visit to Cape Cod in October 1849 another the succeeding June and another to Truro in July 1855 the first and last time with a single companion the second time alone I have spent in all about three weeks on the Cape walked from Eastham to Provincetown twice on the Atlantic side and once on the Bay side also excepting four or five miles and crossed the Cape half a dozen times on my way but having come so fresh to the sea I have got but little salted My readers must expect only so much saltiness as the land breeze acquires from blowing over an arm of the sea or is tasted on the windows and the bark of trees twenty miles inland after September gales I have been accustomed to make excursions to the ponds within ten miles of Concord but latterly I have extended my excursions to the seashore Cape Cod Henry David Thoreau, 2021-05-02 The best editing available Great reading and this version has beautiful pictures Pictures of sea wind sand and coastal climate Cape Cod David Toro's artistic discovery journey along this provocative part of the Massachusetts coastline which at the time found him became entangled between sea and shore He spent his nights at lighthouses fishing huts and secluded farms He spent his days wandering the beaches where he saw a vast expanse of life and death offered by the ocean Through these observations Toro discovered that the only real way to the lake its depth wildness and natural life is to study it from the shore Like his most famous work Walden the code is unique to Toro and has a detailed description But it also has its joys and wonders that it is on a new frontier very close to home where a man may stand and pass all over America

Cape Cod Stories Joseph Crosby Lincoln, 2018-08-15 Cape Cod Stories Large Print Joseph Crosby Lincoln And it was still as could be for a minute and then two or three of the girls begun to squeal and giggle behind their handkerchiefs Jonadab and me went away too We didn't flounce any to speak of I guess a sneak would come nearer to telling how we quit I see the cap'n heading for the stairs and I fell into his wake Nobody said good night and we didn't wait to give em a chance Course we knew we'd put our foot in it somewheres but we didn't see just how Even then we wasn't really onto Phil's game You see when a green city chap comes to the Old Home House and the land knows there's freaks enough do come we always try to make things pleasant for him and the last thing we'd think of was making him a show afore folks So we couldn't believe even now twas done a purpose But we was suspicious a little We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To

Thoreau, 2020-04-28 Based on several trips to the Cape and originally published as a series of articles Henry David Thoreau's Cape Cod is a remarkable work that depicts the natural beauty of Cape Cod and the nature that surrounds it Thoreau a consummate lover of the outdoors and nature is right at home in the Cape and he details his excitement of the area with naturalist portraits of the indigenous species and animals Any lover of nature or of Cape Cod in general will delight in this captivating depiction of the area in the early to mid 1800s Six Months at the Cape Robert Michael

Ballantyne, 2020-04-17 Dear Periwinkle Since that memorable not to say miserable day when you and I parted at Saint Katherine's Docks with the rain streaming from our respective noses rendering tears superfluous if not impossible and the noise of preparation for departure damping the fervour of our farewell since that day I have ploughed with my adventurous keel upwards of six thousand miles of the main and now write to you from the wild Karroo of Southern Africa Cape Cod Henry David Thoreau, 2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1866 edition Excerpt fresh and finally gave place to sand This bar the inhabitants assured us might be wholly removed and the water six feet deep there in two or three days The light house keeper said that when the wind blowed strong on to the shore the waves ate fast into the bank but when it blowed off they took no sand away for in the former case the wind heaped up the surface of the water next to the beach and to preserve its equilibrium a strong undertow immediately set back again into the sea which carried with it the sand and whatever else was in the way and left the beach hard to walk on but in the latter case the undertow set on and carried the sand with it so that it was particularly difficult for shipwrecked men to get to land when the wind blowed on to the shore but easier when it blowed off This undertow meeting the next surface wave on the bar which itself has made forms part of the dam over which the latter breaks as over an upright wall The sea thus plays with the land holding a sand bar in its mouth awhile before it swallows it as a cat plays with a mouse but the fatal gripe is sure to come at last The sea sends its rapacious east wind to rob the land but before the former has got far with its prey the land sends its honest west wind to recover some of its own But according to Lieutenant Davis the forms extent and distribution of sand bars and banks are principally determined not by winds and waves but by tides Our host said that you would be surprised if you were on the beach when the wind blew a hurricane directly on to it to see that none of the drift wood came ashore but all was carried directly northward and parallel with the shore as fast as a man can walk by the inshore current which sets strongly
