problem a merry go round has an initial angular velocity of 10 2 rpm at the end of the ride the brakes are applied giving it a constant angular deceleration of 0 032 rad s² as the ride slows to a stop rotational kinematics in the section on uniform circular motion we discussed motion in a circle at constant speed and therefore constant angular velocity however there are times when angular velocity is not constant rotational motion can speed up evaluate problem solving strategies for rotational kinematics just by using our intuition we can begin to see how rotational quantities like θ ω and α are related to one another for example if a motorcycle wheel has a large angular acceleration for a fairly long time it ends up spinning rapidly and rotates through many revolutions the are only true if the angular acceleration is constant but if it is constant these are a convenient way to relate all these rotational motion variables and you can solve a ton a problems using these rotational kinematic formulas
