The New Brazilian Mediascape Eli Lee Carter,2025-02-25 In this book Eli Carter explores the ways in which the movement away from historically popular telenovelas toward new television and internet series is creating dramatic shifts in how Brazil imagines itself as a nation especially within the context of an increasingly connected global mediascape

Deinstitutionalizing Art of the Nomadic Museum Eva Marxen,2020-04-23 Deinstitutionalizing Art of the Nomadic Museum explores the possibility of the nomadic museum to facilitate social and political resistance through engagement with critical art practices and imagery Grounded in a decade long art therapy project in a contemporary art museum setting this book offers a theoretically rich conceptualization of this experience The text establishes an institutional critique of both the dominant psychopathology discourse and the instrumentalizations of art practices Innovative in its approach the results are analyzed in the framework of subjects such as hegemony subalternity subjectivity resistance the nomadic critical art practices narratives and minor language deinstitutionalization anti psychiatries as well as institutional therapy With a special focus on Latin America international artists writings and works are intersected with the thoughts of curators and museum decision makers The inevitable connection of the arts with social and political fields is highlighted enabling the exploration of the intersections of art critical analysis social science psychoanalysis and political philosophy This text will be of great interest to graduate and postgraduate students academics researchers libraries and museums curators in the fields of art therapy psychoanalysis contemporary art social cultural anthropology and political philosophy

Madness and Social Change Paulo Amarante,2022-09-06 In this book the history of the Brazilian Psychiatric Reform is told by one of its main protagonists In the early 1980s there were about 80 thousand people admitted to psychiatric hospitals in Brazil with average lengths of hospital stay of approximately 25 years The psychiatric reform process that took place in the country was responsible for closing more than 60 thousand beds in mental asylums most of them characterized by conditions of violence and abandonment The Brazilian Psychiatric Reform was inspired by the psychosocial care model introduced by psychiatrist Franco Basaglia in Italy and was marked by the broad participation of social movements such as the anti asylum movement and other human rights movements This process gave rise to a model of mental health care based on open door territorial mental health services guided by the principle of treatment in liberty in addition to other strategies of deinstitutionalization More than a proposal to restructure or modernize the mental health care model the objective of the Brazilian Psychiatric Reform was the construction of a new social place for the diverse and singular subjective experience of madness By intending to produce new imaginaries new social representations and new meanings for these experiences the Brazilian Psychiatric Reform led to one of the larger experiences of deinstitutionalization in the world and to the large scale implementation of a new model of mental health care in which the old asylum centric paradigm was replaced by a new democratic psychosocial care model

Doubles and Hybrids in Latin American Gothic Antonio Alcalá González, Ilse Marie Bussing López, 2019-09-25 Doubles and Hybrids in Latin American Gothic focuses on a recurrent motif that is fundamental in the Gothic the double This volume explores how this ancient notion acquires tremendous force in a region Latin America which is itself defined by duplicity indigenous European autochthonous religions Catholic Despite this duplicity and at the same time because of it this region has also generated mestizaje or forms resulting from racial mixing and hybridity This collection then aims to contribute to the current discussion about the Gothic in Latin America by examining the doubles and hybrid forms that result from the violent yet culturally fertile process of colonization that took place in the area

Fathers, Masculinity, and Authoritarianism in Latin American Cinema Irina Dzero, 2025-08-26 Through an analysis of twenty first century films created in Latin America this book makes the case that contemporary filmmakers are using the figure of the father as a metaphor for political leadership and that their work reflects a growing rejection of predatory and coercive authority in the region
