African Literary Appreciation:

African Literary Appreciation K. M. Lillis, 1975      Theory of African Literature Chidi Amuta, 2017-06-15 This groundbreaking work first published in 1989 was one of the first to challenge the conventional critical assessment of African literature and remains highly influential today Amuta's key argument is that African literature can be discussed only within the wider framework of the dismantling of colonial rule and Western hegemony in Africa In exploring the possibility of a dialectical alternative critical base he draws upon both classical Marxist aesthetics and the theories of African culture espoused by Fanon Cabral and Ngugi From these explorations Amuta derives a new language of criticism which is then applied to works by modern African writers as diverse as Achebe Ousmane Agostinho Neto and Dennis Brutus Amuta's highly original and innovative approach remains relevant not only for assessing the literature of developing countries but for Marxist and postcolonial theories of literary criticism more generally The author's elegance of argument and clarity of exposition makes this a distinguished and lasting contribution to debates around cultural expression in postcolonial Africa

Es'kia Continued Es'kia Mphahlele, 2005      Reading Contemporary African Literature Reuben Makayiko Chirambo, J. K. S. Makokha, 2013 Reading Contemporary African Literature brings together scholarship on critical debates about and examples of reading African literature in all genres poetry fiction and drama including popular culture The anthology offers studies of African literature from interdisciplinary perspectives that employ sociological historical and ethnographic besides literary analysis of the literatures It has assembled critical and researched essays on a range of topics theoretical and empirical by renowned critics and theorists of African literature that evaluate and provide examples of reading African literature that should be of interest to academics researchers and students of African literature culture and history amongst other subjects Some of the essays examine authors that have received little or no attention to date in books on recent African literature These essays provide new insights and scholarship that should broaden and deepen our understanding and appreciation of African literature      Es'kia Es'kia Mphahlele, 2002 The essays and public addresses of scholar teacher philosopher and activist Es'kia Mphahlele are presented in this collection spanning 40 years of recent African history The intellectual and distinctly South African perspective exhibited in these writings is enriched by humor and autobiographical anecdotes Subjects addressed include African literature and literary criticism education in a democratic South Africa relations between Africans and African Americans negritude African identity and African humanism A critical introduction full biography bibliography and brief synopsis of each essay are included      Approaches to the African Novel Charles E. Nnolim, 2010 This Third Edition of Approaches to the African Novel is a child of necessity Because of the unfortunate death of the publisher of Saros International who issued the First Edition and high demand this third enlarged edition has become imperative Three new essays all previously published are added two expectedly on Achebe the father of the African novel and one on Mongp Beti's Mission to Kala which was partially anthologised in Contemporary Literary Criticism Volume 27 1984

Achebe's Things Fall Apart as an Igbo national epic has evoked a spate of reactions from critics of African literature especially the troika Chinweizu et al in Toward the Decolonization of African Literature It was also anthologised in Modern Black Literature edited by S Okechukwu Menu 1971 The essay on Arrow of God whose structure and meaning has been largely avoided by other critics is included here for further airing For gender balance as the previous volume contained no essays on women writers an essay on Flora Nwapa has been added Since the novels discussed in this volume exclusively are on the African literature south of the Sahara the last essay on Peter Abrahams comes in to round out this collection of essays with a study of a south African writer for geographical balance

Routledge Handbook of African Literature

Moradewun Adejunmobi, Carli Coetzee, 2019-03-13 The turn of the twenty first century has witnessed an expansion of critical approaches to African literature The Routledge Handbook of African Literature is a one stop publication bringing together studies of African literary texts that embody an array of newer approaches applied to a wide range of works This includes frameworks derived from food studies utopian studies network theory eco criticism and examinations of the human animal interface alongside more familiar discussions of postcolonial politics Every chapter is an original research essay written by a broad spectrum of scholars with expertise in the subject providing an application of the most recent insights into analysis of particular topics or application of particular critical frameworks to one or more African literary works The handbook will be a valuable interdisciplinary resource for scholars and students of African literature African culture postcolonial literature and literary analysis Chapter 4 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Toward the Decolonization of African Literature Chinweizu, Onwuchekwa Jemie, Ihechukwu Madubuike, 1983 Black African Literature in English 1991-2001 Femi Abodunrin, 2007 The English Association based at the University of Leicester in the UK aims to further knowledge and enjoyment of the English language and literature and to foster good practice in its teaching and learning at all levels They produce an annual review The Year's Work in English published by Oxford University Press a narrative bibliographical review of scholarly work on the English language and literatures including on new literatures in English This book brings together eleven contributions contemporary black African literature in English 1991-2001 Some 120 books and over 300 scholarly and bibliographical essays from journals and periodicals are reviewed

Issues in African Literature E. Nnolim, 2010-12-01 The multitudinous nature of African literature has always been an issue but really not a problem although its oral base has been used by expatriate critics to accuse African literature of thin plots superficial characterisation and narrative structures African literature also it is observed is a mixed grill it is oral it is written in vernacular or tribal tongues written in foreign tongues English French Portuguese and within the foreign language in which it is written pidgin and creole further bend the already bent language giving African literature a further taint of linguistic impurity African literature further suffers from the nature of its newness and this created problems for the critic Because it is new and because its critics are in simultaneous existence with its writers we confront the problem of instant analysis Issues in African Literature continues the debate and tries to clarify contemporary burning issues in African literature by focussing on particular areas where the debate has been most concerned or around which it has hovered and been persistent

Remapping African Literature Olabode Ibirode, 2018-02-12 This book is an exploration of the material conditions of the production of African literature Drawing on the archives of Heinemann's African Writers Series it highlights the procedures relationships demands ideologies and counterpressures engendered by the publication of three major authors Chinua Achebe Wole Soyinka and Ngugi wa Thiongo As a study of the history and techniques of African literary texts this book advances a theory of reciprocity of effects what it terms auto heteronomy to describe the dynamic of formalist activism by which texts anticipate and shape the forces of literary production in advance It serves as a departure from the death of the author thesis by reconsidering the role of the author in African literature and culture industry as well as the influence of African publics on writers aesthetic choices and on the overall processes of production This work is a major contribution to African literary history literary criticism and book history

African Literature Tejumola Olaniyan, Ato Quayson, 2007-07-10 This is the first anthology to bring together the key texts of African literary theory and criticism Brings together key texts that are otherwise hard to locate Covers all genres and critical schools Provides the intellectual context for understanding African literature Facilitates the future development of African literary criticism

Negritude and Literary Criticism Belinda E Jack, 1996-02-13 The first thorough study to consider the history of the criticism of Negro African literature in French exploring the complex relationship between how literatures are named and how they are evaluated

A Prescience of African Cultural Studies Handel Kashope Wright, 2004 In A Prescience of African Cultural Studies Handel Kashope Wright makes an argument for undertaking a necessary paradigm shift from literature studies in Africa to African Cultural Studies There are several major themes in this text in particular it rejects mainstream notions of literature as self deceptively apolitical and decidedly non utilitarian As an alternative Wright proposes African Cultural Studies as an African centered discourse and praxis that incorporates written oral and performance forms and overtly addresses political and sociocultural issues He articulates African Cultural Studies in relation to existing cultural studies its taken for granted British origin and genealogy and its global trajectories Finally Wright elaborates on African Cultural Studies by reconceptualizing drama emphasizing performance over written text incorporating film and electronic media and exploring the potential contribution African cultural studies could make to both the discourse and process of development in Africa

Black Africa V. Klima, K.F. Ruzicka, P. Zima, 1976 In October 1972 our Czech written book Literary scene of Africa was published in Prague presenting a survey of an extensive field The publication which was signed at that time by all three authors differed from most contemporary introductions to the study of African literatures in a threefold way The authors attempted to cover various literary and literary efforts in the area roughly delimited by Senegal in the west Kenya in the east Lake Chad in the north and the Cape in the south We were well aware even at that time that neither technically nor linguistically would it be possible to cover all literary efforts within that area We did try however to include in our survey both the literacies and literatures written in the Indo European linguae francae English French Portuguese and in at least several of the major African languages of the area We did not attempt an exhaustive description but wished rather to show the mutual relationships which emerge if the literatures of thii area written either in the major linguae francae or in the African languages are studied not as isolated phenomena but as mutually complementary features b As two of us were linguists and one was a literary historian we did not limit our analysis of the developing literacies and literatures to the purely cultural and literary aspects Our intention waR to deal whcre and if it was relevant not only with the process of African literary development but also with the simultaneous complementar Marxism and African Literature Georg M. Gugelberger,1986 African Literature Jonathan P. Smithe,2002 African literature like the continent itself is enormous and diverse East Africa s literature is different from West Africa s which is quite different from South Africa s which has different influences on it than North Africa s Africa s literature is based on a widespread heritage of oral literature some of which has now been recorded Arabic influence can be detected as well as European especially French and English Legends myths proverbs riddles and folktales form the mother load of the oral literature This book presents an overview of African literature as well as a comprehensive bibliography primarily of English language sources Accessed by subject author and title indexes African Literature for Whom? Rand Bishop,1973* Stylistic Criticism and the African Novel Emmanuel Ngara,1982 The Theory of African Literature Chidi Amuta, Ideological formations in the criticism of African literature Traditionalism and the quest for an African literary aesthetic Marxism and African literature A dialectical theory of African literature categories and springboards Issues and problems in African literature A dialectical revision History and the dialectics of narrative in the African novel Drama and revolution in Africa Poetry and liberation politics in Africa Beyond decolonization
