Again I See The Mountains:

The Way Of The Dragon Martin Avery,2014-06-14 The Way Of The Dragon is an inspirational novel memoir a spiritual autobiography about a Westerner in the East who has a moment of profound epiphanic revelation after climbing Big Monk Mountain and meditating in front of a dragon at an ancient Taoist temple compound in Dalian China

Apparitions of Asia Josephine Park,2008-02-05 Walt Whitman called the Orient The Past the Past the Past but East Asia was remarkably present for the United States in the twentieth century Apparitions of Asia reads American literary expressions during a century of U S East Asian alliances in which the Far East is imagined as both near and contemporary Commercial and political bridges across the Pacific generated American literary fantasies of ethical and spiritual accord Park examines American bards who capitalized on these ties and considers the price of such intimacies for Asian American poets | | The book begins its literary history with the poetry of Ernest Fenollosa who called for The Future Union of East and West From this prime instigator of the Gilded Age Park newly considers the Orient of Ezra Pound who turned to China to lay the groundwork for his poetics and ethics Park argues that Pound s Orient was bound to his America and she traces this American East Asian nexus into the work of Gary Snyder who found a native American spirituality in Zen The second half of Apparitions of Asia considers the creation of Asian America against this backdrop of trans pacific alliances Park analyzes the burden of American Orientalism for Asian American poetry and she argues that the innovations of Lawson Fusao Inada offer a critique of this literary past Finally she analyzes two Asian American poets Theresa Hak Kyung Cha and Myung Mi Kim who return to modernist forms in order to reveal a history of American interventions in East Asia

Song of Mind Master Sheng-Yen,2004-11-09 No words can explain enlightenment says the seventh century Zen classic Xin Ming or Song of Mind yet paradoxically this poem is a masterpiece of expressing the inexpressible In his commentary on it Chan Master Sheng Yen takes a practical approach opening up the language of the Xin Ming to show students how to approach meditation how to deal with problems that arise in their spiritual practice and how to accomplish the imperative task of integrating this practice into every aspect of one s life True understanding comes only with direct experience according to Master Sheng Yen These lectures the Buddhist sutras songs poems and commentaries are useful only insofar as they encourage you to practice and incorporate the Dharma teachings into your daily life The book takes the form of a week long retreat with Master Sheng Yen with each chapter in the form of an evening talk given on a particular section of the Song of Mind text giving this book a far more intimate and accessible feel than most commentaries on Zen texts and creating a feeling of being right there with the master as he brings the text to life
