Against Architecture Denis Hollier,1989 Against Architecture offers the first serious interpretation of this challenging thinker spelling out the profoundly original and radical nature of Bataille s work Bataille Carolyn Bailey Gill,2005-08-04 Georges Bataille s powerful writings have fascinated many readers enmeshed as they are with the themes of sex and death His emotive discourse of excess transgression sacrifice and the sacred has had a profound and notable influence on thinkers such as Foucault Derrida and Kristeva Bataille Writing the Sacred examines the continuing power and influence of his work The full extent of Bataille s subversive and influential writings has only been made available to an English speaking audience in recent years By bringing together international specialists on Bataille from philosophy and literature to art history this collection is able to explore the many facets of his writings The Persistence of Masks Joyce Suechun Cheng,2025-10-07 An examination of surrealism s unofficial ethnography of marginalized subjectivities In interwar Paris the encounter between surrealism and the nascent discipline of ethnology led to an intellectual project now known as ethnographic surrealism In The Persistence of Masks Joyce Suechun Cheng considers the ethnographic dimension of the surrealist movement in its formative years through a close look at the reviews Documents 1929 30 and Minotaure 1933 39 as well as the surrealist writer turned ethnographer Michel Leiris s ethnography of possession Analyzing surrealist aesthetic criticism art poetry and field research in terms of a common interest in marginalized modes of subjectivity Cheng argues that the surrealists used the figures of the mask the veil the hand and the hat to radically reconceive the subject as nonhegemonic nonanthropocentric and feminine identified Though ethnographic surrealism usually refers to the collaboration between professional ethnologists at the Institut de l Ethnologie in Paris and Georges Bataille s so called dissident circle of surrealists Cheng demonstrates that surrealism s unofficial ethnography began long before the founding of the movement Starting with Andr Breton s wartime text Subject 1916 written when he was still a young psychiatric intern treating traumatized soldiers she shows how the future surrealist poet shifted from a clinical to a para ethnographic approach to subjectivity when adopting his patient s first person voice as a textual mask Revealing surrealism to be always implicitly ethnographic Cheng uncovers deep affinities between archrivals Breton and Bataille highlights psychiatry s underacknowledged role in surrealism s lay ethnography and theorizes the surrealists feminine identification as a means of critiquing power By broadening the scope of ethnographic surrealism The Persistence of Masks offers new insights that challenge longstanding beliefs about this multifaceted movement in poetry the arts and culture      The Parisian Avant-Garde in the Age of Cinema, 1900-1923 Jennifer Wild,2023-04-28 The first decades of the twentieth century were pivotal for the historical and formal relationships between early cinema and Cubism mechanomorphism abstraction and Dada To examine these relationships Jennifer Wild s interdisciplinary study grapples with the cinema s expanded identity as a modernist form defined by the concept of horizontality Found in early methods of projection film exhibition and in the film industry s penetration into cultural life by way of film stardom advertising and distribution cinematic horizontality provides a new axis of inquiry for studying early twentieth century modernism Shifting attention from the film to the horizon of possibility around behind and beyond the screen Wild shows how canonical works of modern art may be understood as responding to the changing characteristics of daily life after the cinema Drawing from a vast popular cultural cinematic and art historical archive Wild challenges how we have told the story of modern artists earliest encounter with cinema and urges us to reconsider how early projection film stardom and film distribution transformed their understanding of modern life representation and the act of beholding By highlighting the cultural ideological and artistic forms of interpellation and resistance that shape the phenomenology of a wartime era The Parisian Avant Garde in the Age of Cinema 1900 1923 provides an interdisciplinary history of radical form This book also offers a new historiography that redefines how we understand early cinema and avant garde art before artists turned to making films themselves The first decades of the twentieth century were pivotal for the historical and formal relationships between early cinema and Cubism mechanomorphism abstraction and Dada To examine these relationships Jennifer Wild s interdisciplinary study grapples      "Appropriated Photographs in French Surrealist Periodicals, 1924-1939 " Linda Steer,2017-07-05 The first monograph to analyze the Surrealist gesture of photographic appropriation this study examines found photographs in three French Surrealist reviews published in the 1920s and 1930s La R lution surr iste edited by Andr reton Documents edited by Georges Bataille and Minotaure edited by Breton and others The book asks general questions about the production and deployment of meaning through photographs but addresses more specifically the construction of a Surrealist practice of photography through the gesture of borrowing and re contextualization and reveals something crucial both about Surrealist strategies and about the way photographs operate The book is structured around four case studies including scientific photographs of an hysteric in Charcot s clinic at the Salp i hospital positioned as poetry rather than pathology and one of the first crime scene photographs depicting Jack the Ripper s last victim radically transformed into a work of art Linda Steer traces the trajectory of the found photographs from their first location to their location in a Surrealist periodical Her study shows that the act of removal and re framing highlights the instability and mutability of photographic meaning an instability and mutability that has consequences for our understanding both of photography and of Surrealism in the 1920s and 1930s      Visions of the City David Pinder,2013-11-12 Visions of the City is a dramatic history of utopian urbanism in the twentieth century It explores radical demands for new spaces and ways of living and considers their effects on planning architecture and struggles to shape urban landscapes The author critically examines influential utopian approaches to urbanism in western Europe associated with such figures as Ebenezer Howard and Le Corbusier uncovering the political interests desires and anxieties that lay behind their ideal cities He also investigates avant garde perspectives from the time that challenged these conceptions of cities especially from within surrealism At the heart of this richly illustrated book is an encounter with the explosive ideas of the situationists Tracing the subversive practices of this avant garde group and its associates from their explorations of Paris during the 1950s to their alternative visions based on nomadic life and play David Pinder convincingly explains the significance of their revolutionary attempts to transform urban spaces and everyday life He addresses in particular Constant s New Babylon finding within his proposals a still powerful provocation to imagine cities otherwise The book not only recovers vital moments from past hopes and dreams of modern urbanism It also contests current claims about the end of utopia arguing that reconsidering earlier projects can play a critical role in developing utopian perspectives today Through the study of utopian visions it aims to rekindle elements of utopianism itself A superb critical exploration of the underside of utopian thought over the last hundred years and its continuing relevance in the here and now for thinking about possible urban worlds The treatment of the Situationists and their milieu is a revelation David Harvey Distinguished Professor of Anthropology City University of New York Graduate School

Maternal Fictions Maryline Lukacher, 1994 Stendhal George Sand Rachilde Georges Bataille Forgoing the patronym with its weight of meaning these modern French writers renamed themselves in their work Their use of pseudonyms as Maryline Lukacher demonstrates in this provocative study is part of a process to subvert the name of the father and explore the suppressed relation to the figure of the mother Combining psychoanalytic criticism feminist theory and literary analysis Maternal Fictions offers a complex psychological portrait of these writers who managed at once to challenge patriarchal authority and at the same time attempt to return to the maternal Through readings of Armance Le Rouge et le noir La Vie de Henry Brulard and Les Cenci Lukacher exposes Stendhal s preoccupation with his dead mother who is obsessively retrieved throughout his work George Sand s identity is in effect divided between two mothers her biological mother and her grandmother and in Histoire de ma vie Indiana and Mauprat we see the writer s efforts to break the impasse created by this divided identity In the extraordinary but too little known work of Rachilde Marguerite Eymery Lukacher finds the maternal figure identified as the secret inner force of patriarchal oppression This resistance to feminism continues in the pseudonymous work of Georges Bataille In Ma m re Le coupable and *L Exp rience int rieur*e Lukacher traces Bataille s representation of the mother as a menacing ever subversive figure who threatens basic social configurations Maternal Fictions establishes a new pseudonymous genealogy in modern French writing that will inform and advance our understanding of the act of self creation that occurs in fiction

Strangely Familiar Andrew Blauvelt, 2003 This book features over forty innovative projects from the fields of architectural product furniture fashion and graphic design It includes essays on the tactics of formlessness and its impact on everyday consumption

Women Artists at the Millennium Carol M. Armstrong, M. Catherine de Zegher, 2006 More than thirty years after the birth of the modern women's movement and the beginnings of feminist art making and art history the time is ripe to examine the legacies of those revolutions In Women Artists at the Millennium artists art historians and critics examine the differences that feminist art practice and critical theory have made in late twentieth century art and the discourses surrounding it In 1971 when Linda Nochlin published her essay Why Have There Been No Great Women Artists in a special issue of Art News there were no women's studies no feminist theory no such thing as feminist art criticism there was instead a focus on the mythic figure of the great male artist through history Since then the woman artist has not simply been assimilated into the canon of greatness but has expanded art making into a multiplicity of practices with new parameters and perspectives In Women Artists at the Millennium artists including Martha Rosler and Yvonne Rainer reflect upon their own varied practices and art historians discuss the innovative work of such figures as Louise Bourgeois Lygia Clark Mona Hatoum and Carrie Mae Weems And Linda Nochlin considers changes since her landmark essay and looks to the future writing We will need all our wit and courage to make sure that women's voices are heard their work seen and written about

"The Beautiful Language of My Century" Tom McDonough, 2007 In postwar France the aesthetics of appropriation and collage gave cultural form to a struggle over meaning A new wave of avant garde experimentation used or stole plagiarized and expropriated elements from advertising journalism literature art and other sources of common discourse the ironically named beautiful language of this book's title itself an appropriation from Guy Debord's collaged Mémoires Redeployed often in startling or pointed juxtapositions these elements took on newly oppositional meanings A famous photograph taken inside the occupied Sorbonne in May 1968 for example shows a massive academic painting altered by a clever cartoonish speech bubble that transforms the painting into a parody of itself and memorializes an event very different from the one captured by the original artist The Beautiful Language of My Century describes the various forms of critical culture that culminated in the events of May 1968 and investigates the ways those forms have come down to us today McDonough explores the montage practice developed by Guy Debord and his situationist colleagues under the name of dé-tournement and its expression in the later fifties as a form of cultural theft He addresses the influence of colonialism on these practices examining a 1961 exhibit of torn posters of the Algerian War La France déchirée e Godard's early film Le Petit Soldat and Christo's Project for a Temporary Wall of Steel Drums He discusses the French left's adoption in the mid sixties of the end of art as a theoretical position and describes the leftist idea of the féte as a Rabelaisian and revolutionary upwelling of everything that is low This influential conception inspired equally by the American urban revolts of the sixties and the writings of theorists Marcel Mauss and Georges Bataille coalesced into a new image of revolution a new model of contestation in the events of May 1968 when the struggle over language and culture

merged with a broader resistance to capitalist modernization

Approaches to Teaching Pynchon's *The Crying of Lot 49 and Other Works Thomas Schaub, 2008-01-01 As teachers well know the elements that make Thomas Pynchon exciting to read and study the historical references the multilayered prose and the postmodern integration of high and low cultures and science and literature often constitute hurdles to undergraduate and graduate readers alike The essays gathered in this volume turn these classroom challenges into assets showing instructors how to make the narratives frustration of reader expectations not only intellectually rewarding but also part of the joy of reading The Crying of Lot 49 Gravity's Rainbow Mason to use the texts to explore racial and gender politics and legacies of colonialism and to make Pynchon's elaborate prose style accessible to students Teachers will also find sample syllabi for courses solely on Pynchon as well as suggestions for incorporating his work into graduate and undergraduate classrooms at a range of institutions

Writing in Pain Vaheed Ramazani, 2007-08-15 Bringing poststructuralist theories of discourse into dialogue with biologically and culturally informed models of pain and affect this book explores the representation of traumatic historical events such as war and revolution in literary texts by Flaubert Baudelaire and Zola Focusing on the rising industrial capitalism of early modern France Vaheed Ramanzani considers how the patterns of thought and practice developed during that period inflect a contemporary culture of denial and critiques the symbiosis between everyday forms of language and mass eruptions of violence

City Gorged with Dreams Ian Walker, 2002 The author analyses how the Surrealists utilised the tactics of documentary and how Surrealist ideas in turn influenced the development of documentary photography This is a study of what Louis Aragon called surrealist realism the exploration of the real life surreality of the city

Male Matters Calvin Thomas, 1996 According to Calvin Thomas maybe he shouldn't Maybe he should embrace his abjection his cast off humiliated and discounted status as a way of renegotiating his identity and of interrupting the historical displacement of that status onto the feminine or the marginalized other This embrace of abjection says Thomas begins as a confrontation with the issue of the male body The straight man unfamiliar and unfriendly and uncomfortable with his body the excretory urinary and seminal aspects of his body in particular will find that Thomas's Male Matters explores the complicated relationships between masculinity and the male body revealing the act and production of writing as a bodily material process that transgresses the boundaries of gender
