

Stone Age to the Iron Age

15000 - 10000 BC

The Lascaux Cave in France was thought to contain some of the oldest cave paintings. The paintings had exceptional clarity, despite evidence that the cave is one of the original passages behind them. They may have been part of religious rituals, representations of everyday life, used to mark or record the passing of time, some sort of calendar or part of supernatural behaviour relating to hunting for a good hunt.

15000 - 10000 BC

Several tools in use to make axes. An example from the period has been found in France.

4500 - 3500 BC

People begin to make simple pottery and farming begins to spread.

3000 BC

Construction starts on Stonehenge in Wiltshire. It will take around 1000 years for it to be finished. The purpose of the site is a mystery, however, evidence of ceremonial burials indicates that it was used as a burial ground from time to time. It is now thought to be a ceremonial site, where farmers marked the passing of time, seasons and cycles of life and death. The average height per stone is 25 metres (that is around the height of 25 elephants). The stones originated from the Preseli Hills in South West Wales, but historians are split on whether they transported the stones to the site of Stonehenge.

STONE AGE

BRONZE AGE

8200 BC

The first 'land bridge' from Scandinavia and East Angles to Ireland crosses over by sea levels and eventually by 8000 BC a deep-sea channel and a water way by sea water. This water is a result of the great ice sheets from the last ice age melting.

4000 - 3000 BC

People start to domesticate and use horses. Before this, people could only travel by foot.

3500 - 3350 BC

The earliest well-dated image of a wheeled vehicle is depicted from the period. It was discovered in a clay jar found in Poland.

2500 - 1500 BC

Bronze was first developed which leads to advances in manufacturing techniques.

2800 - 1800 BC

The first 'Beaker Culture' comes in Britain. Sometimes associated to Beaker Culture there were a group of immigrants named for their distinctive decorated pottery. The pottery had bands (and with impressions made from a comb or cord).

AD 43

Augustus Claudius sends the Roman army to Britain. They land at Richborough, Kent.

100 BC

Coin are made for the first time. By 20 BC, silver and bronze are being used in the South East of England.

330 BC

The first written record of the British Isles by a Greek historian and explorer. He described the inhabitants as called 'Britanni', usually considered but identifiable to our island, the United Kingdom, Britain.

800 BC

The first hollow earthenware 'dolmens' were deposited underneath that made use of natural rock in the landscape for different advantages.

IRON AGE

54 BC

In 55 BC, Julius Caesar came from Rome to England on what is thought to be a reconnaissance trip. In 54 BC, he returns with 6 legions (about 25,000 men). His army and a rebellion in Gaul in support of British King Boudicca led to a victory, some to return. He reported that the Britons used their beaver skin and the goat's hair to make and use their clothing and garments except for the upper lip.

200 BC

Earliest known reference to Britain. It listed only a number of the nearby people amongst the Celts. They like a brown skin, have as they do, no signs of civilization. The only reference is a few descriptions of by explorers, artists and authors.

700 - 500 BC

Iron working technology becomes widespread through England, Ireland and Wales. A wide range of tools and weapons have been found. Many of axes, chisels and other everyday tools are very similar to the ones we use today.

Small farms and villages of built were in making. Evidence has been found of simple farming tools, stone and iron as well as the processing of wheat, barley and oats.

Celtic culture and other kingdoms start to emerge and the use of metal work increases. Major settlements were small walled and fortified hill-forts.

1800 BC

The first large copper mines are dug. One of the first known use of Mount Gabriel in County Cork and Great Ovens, North Wales.

Age Of Stone Introduction

In today's digital age, the availability of Age Of Stone books and manuals for download has revolutionized the way we access information. Gone are the days of physically flipping through pages and carrying heavy textbooks or manuals. With just a few clicks, we can now access a wealth of knowledge from the comfort of our own homes or on the go. This article will explore the advantages of Age Of Stone books and manuals for download, along with some popular platforms that offer these resources. One of the significant advantages of Age Of Stone books and manuals for download is the cost-saving aspect. Traditional books and manuals can be costly, especially if you need to purchase several of them for educational or professional purposes. By accessing Age Of Stone versions, you eliminate the need to spend money on physical copies. This not only saves you money but also reduces the environmental impact associated with book production and transportation. Furthermore, Age Of Stone books and manuals for download are incredibly convenient. With just a computer or smartphone and an internet connection, you can access a vast library of resources on any subject imaginable. Whether you're a student looking for textbooks, a professional seeking industry-specific manuals, or someone interested in self-improvement, these digital resources provide an efficient and accessible means of acquiring knowledge. Moreover, PDF books and manuals offer a range of benefits compared to other digital formats. PDF files are designed to retain their formatting regardless of the device used to open them. This ensures that the content appears exactly as intended by the author, with no loss of formatting or missing graphics. Additionally, PDF files can be easily annotated, bookmarked, and searched for specific terms, making them highly practical for studying or referencing. When it comes to accessing Age Of Stone books and manuals, several platforms offer an extensive collection of resources. One such platform is Project Gutenberg, a nonprofit organization that provides over 60,000 free eBooks. These books are primarily in the public domain, meaning they can be freely distributed and downloaded. Project Gutenberg offers a wide range of classic literature, making it an excellent resource for literature enthusiasts. Another popular platform for Age Of Stone books and manuals is Open Library. Open Library is an initiative of the Internet Archive, a non-profit organization dedicated to digitizing cultural artifacts and making them accessible to the public. Open Library hosts millions of books, including both public domain works and contemporary titles. It also allows users to borrow digital copies of certain books for a limited period, similar to a library lending system. Additionally, many universities and educational institutions have their own digital libraries that provide free access to PDF books and manuals.

These libraries often offer academic texts, research papers, and technical manuals, making them invaluable resources for students and researchers. Some notable examples include MIT OpenCourseWare, which offers free access to course materials from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Digital Public Library of America, which provides a vast collection of digitized books and historical documents. In conclusion, Age Of Stone books and manuals for download have transformed the way we access information. They provide a cost-effective and convenient means of acquiring knowledge, offering the ability to access a vast library of resources at our fingertips. With platforms like Project Gutenberg, Open Library, and various digital libraries offered by educational institutions, we have access to an ever-expanding collection of books and manuals. Whether for educational, professional, or personal purposes, these digital resources serve as valuable tools for continuous learning and self-improvement. So why not take advantage of the vast world of Age Of Stone books and manuals for download and embark on your journey of knowledge?
