Rewriting Franco's Spain Samuel O'Donoghue, 2017-10-18 Rewriting Franco's Spain Marcel Proust and the Dissident Novelists of Memory proposes a new reading of some of the most culturally significant and closely studied works of Spanish memory fiction from the past seventy years It examines the influence of French writer Marcel Proust on fiction concerning the Spanish Civil War and Franco's dictatorship by Carmen Laforet Juan Goytisolo Juan Benet Carmen Martín Gaité Jorge Semprún and Javier Marías It explores the ways in which la recherche du temps perdu has been instrumental in these authors' works galvanizing their creative impetus shaping their imaginative act and guiding their adversarial stance toward Franco's regime This book illustrates how these writers use Proustian themes and techniques and thereby enhances our understanding of the function of memory and fictional creation in some of the most important milestones in contemporary Spanish literature

Rewriting Franco's Spain argues that an appreciation of Proust's pervasive influence on Spanish memory writing obliges us to reconsider the notion that Franco's regime maintained a rigid stranglehold on imported culture. Capturing the richness of Spanish novelists' contact with literature produced outside of Spain, it challenges the prevailing scholarly tendency to focus on the novelists' immediate sociopolitical concerns. There is more to these texts than a simple testimony of the brutality and hardship of the civil war and life under Franco. By illuminating the subversive nature of Spanish novelists' use of a Proust-inspired practice of self-writing, Rewriting Franco's Spain seeks to readjust some of the ways we view the role of novelists living during the regime and in its wake. It advocates a conception of novelists as dissidents, teasing out the seditious undercurrent of their cultivation of self-writing and examining how they disputed the regime's ideas about what culture should look like. The preconception that the development of Spanish literature under Franco was stunted because Spaniards were prevented from reading works considered an affront to National Catholic sensibilities is cast aside, as is the notion that Spain was isolated from narrative developments elsewhere. Rewriting Franco's Spain ultimately reveals the centrality of Proust's monumental novel in the evolution of contemporary Spanish literature.

Rosi Song, 2005 Exposing two general perspectives both manifestations of an authoritarian past that still holds a relationship with the present, this collection reveals the ideological legacy of the past and its experience as a distressing conditioner of the present. The dissonant elements of post-Franco discourse critically analyzed by our contributors challenge the seamless narrative that tells the successful story of the Spanish transition to democracy. Gaula María Elena Soliño, 2001 Although the three authors studied—Ana María Matute, Carmen Martín Gaité, and Esther Tusquets—are sophisticated intellectuals, they have chosen fairy tales and texts from other marginalized genres originally for female consumption, such as the novela rosa and the Hollywood women's picture, as the major intertexts in their novels for adults as well as in their fictions for children. Against the backdrop of feminist theory and recent critical studies of fairy tales and children's literature, Soliño studies the works of these authors as gendered texts. Soliño's book opens with a chapter that traces the historical development of the fairy tale genre, examines their didactic intent, and critiques the images of women in fairy tales. The second chapter explores the manners by which fairy tales were used as a tool for indoctrination during the formative years of the three authors under consideration. These introductory chapters are followed by individual chapters devoted to Martín Gaité, Matute, and Tusquets, in which Soliño explores the connections between the literature these authors published for children and the novels they penned for an adult readership. Agricultor, 1916 Autobiography &

Postmodernism Kathleen M. Ashley, Leigh Gilmore, Gerald Peters, 1994 Exploring the connections between autobiography and postmodernism this book addresses self representation in a variety of literatures Native American British Chicana immigrant and lesbian among others in genres as diverse as poetry naming confession photography and the manifesto The essays examine how different writers respond to the culturally specific pressures of genre how these constraints are negotiated and what self representation reveals about the politics of identity

The "strange Girl" in Twentieth Century Spanish Novels Written by Women Ellen Cecilia Mayock, 2004 With an eye to the rather insular particular development and definition of feminism in Spain the author recognizes that the twentieth century has been a period of great change for peninsular women authors Her study of the creative compromises wrought by severe oppression followed by relative liberation all within the context of Spain's specific religious and regional influences illustrates the unique positioning of these women writers as shown through their female characters While this is reflection of the current scholarship in Women's Studies examining the feminist resonance of the construction of female identity through texts written by women about women it is one that is in its first stages of development in Spanish criticism and has been primarily author specific Ellen C Mayock's research provides a more panoramic view so to speak facilitating an overview of progression between trends as opposed to a singular progression of a single author within the context of era a very positive move that allows for full comprehension
