Afrikaans Teach Yourself Languages S:

Language Narratives and Shifting Multilingual Pedagogies Belinda Mendelowitz, Ana Ferreira, Kerryn Dixon, 2022-12-15 Winner of the UKLA Academic Book Award 2024 This book challenges monoglossic ideologies traditional language pedagogies and dominant forms of knowledge construction by foregrounding multilingual and multicultural students language narratives repertoires and identities The research is based on a sixteen year longitudinal study of a sociolinguistics course at an English language university and the language narratives produced by the first year education students The study was borne out of a need to create a critically inclusive course that would engage a cohort of students from socially and linguistically diverse backgrounds in contemporary South Africa Drawing on data from over 5 000 students who have journeyed through this course this book shows how a narrative heteroglossic pedagogy harnesses students multilingual strengths A close analysis reveals complex identity work by students located in the Global South The authors argue that decolonising language education is about reconceptualising language reconfiguring what knowledges are valued in the classroom and reshaping pedagogy

Syntactic Analysis and Description David Lockwood, 2005-12-07 This book is designed to teach undergraduate and beginning graduate students how to understand analyse and describe syntactic phenomena in different languages The book covers every aspect of syntax from the basics to more specialised topics such as clitics which have grammatical importance but cannot be used in isolation and negation in which a construction contradicts the meaning of a sentence The approach taken combines concepts from different theoretical schools which view syntax differently These include M A K Halliday s systemic functional linguistics the stratificational school advocated by Sydney Lamb and Kenneth L Pike s tagmemic model The emphasis of the book is on syntactic structures rather than linguistic meaning and the book stresses the difference between a well formed sentence and a meaningful one The final chapter brings these two aspects together to show the connections between syntax and semology Each chapter concludes with exercises from a diverse range of languages and a list of major technical terms The book also includes a glossary as an essential resource for students approaching this difficult subject for the first time

Tomaselli,2022-09-19 The San hunter gatherers and Khoe herders of southern Africa were dispossessed of their land before during and after the European colonial period which started in 1652 They were often enslaved and forbidden from practicing their culture and speaking their languages In South Africa under apartheid after 1948 they were reclassified as Coloured which further undermined Khoe and San culture forcing them to reconfigure and realign their identities and loyalties Southern Africa is no longer under colonial or apartheid rule the San and Khoe however continue in the struggle to maintain the remnants of their languages and cultures and are marginalised by the dominant peoples of the region The San in particular continue to command very extensive research attention from a variety of disciplines from anthropology and linguistics to genetics They are however usually studied as static historical objects but they are not merely peoples of the past as is often assumed they are very much alive in contemporary society with cultural and language needs This book brings together studies from a range of disciplines to examine what it means to be Indigenous Khoe and San in contemporary southern Africa It considers the current constraints on Khoe and San identity language and culture constantly negotiating an indeterminate social positioning where they are treated as the inconvenient indigenous Usually studied as original anthropos but out of their time this book shifts attention from the past to the present and how the San have negotiated language literacy and identity for coping in the period of modernity It reveals that Afrikaans is indeed an African language incubated not only by Cape Malay slaves working in the kitchens of the early Dutch settlers but also by the Khoe and San who interacted with sailors from passing ships plying the West coast of southern Africa from the 14th century The book re examines the idea of literacy its relationship to language and how these shape identity The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies

Russell H Kaschula,2021-08-23 African countries and South Africa in particular being multilingual and multicultural societies make for exciting sociolinguistic and applied language analysis in order to tease out the complex relationship between language and identity This book applies sociolinguistic theory as well as critical language awareness and translanguaging with its many facets to various communicative scenarios both on the continent and in South Africa in an accessible and practical way Africa lends itself to such sociolinguistic analysis concerning language identity and intercultural communication This book reflects consciously on the North South debate and the need for us to create our own ways of interpretation emanating from the South and speaking back to the North and on issues that pertain to the South including southern Africa Aspects such as language and power language planning policy and implementation culture prejudice social interaction translanguaging intercultural communication education gender and autoethnography are covered This is a valuable resource for students studying African sociolinguistics language and identity and applied language studies Anyone interested in the relationship between language and society on the African continent would also find the book easily accessible
