The concept of Ecriture Feminine in Helene Cixous's "The Laugh of the Medusa" Simon Wortmann, 2013-04-15 Essay from the year 2012 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 7 Christian Albrechts University of Kiel language English abstract In the year 1975 the French feminist author Helene Cixous published an essay called The Laugh of the Medusa In it she develops an entirely new theoretical concept with the aim of giving rise to feminist voice The central ideas of Ecriture Feminine literally women s writing are going to be presented in this paper In the first part a brief description of Cixous s intellectual milieu is given in order to show the actual reason that led her to come up with a new notion of liberating women from patriarchy In this context an elaboration on poststructuralism the philosophical current

Cixous belonged to follows Closely related to that is the authors skepticism towards Sigmund Freud s language philosophy Specifically speaking Freud s statements on the penis envy theory Primary attention is paid to the theory of phallogocentrism which can be seen as one of the main reasons for Cixous s writings For a better understanding of this term the concept of logocentrism is also explained as well Logocentrism can be seen as a pillar of the theory of phallogocentrism and therefore it deserves to be mentioned at this point In the second part we deal with the question of what is actually meant by women s writing Furthermore we will analyze which role the female body and sexuality plays in this context This excursion is highly interesting as it is crucial for the understanding of her concept Since the female body is considered a key for women to resist masculinist thinking and hence the systematic repression of women Apart from that we try to show whether features of Écriture Feminine are evident in the The Laugh of the Medusa Moreover a different viewpoint on Cixous s theory is shown in the chapter Criticism in which arguments for and against her theory are shown In point five Conclusion the main aspects of this paper are summed up When writing this paper the main source of information were essays on women s writing and French feminist writing dating from 1987 to 1986 Besides secondary literature on literary and cultural theory as well as feminist practice and poststructuralist theory were used Recent research on Cixous s work however could not be found The only source dealing particularly with her writings dates from 1991 Dreams of lost humanity? A Marxist analysis of "Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep?" by Philip K. Dick Martin Lausten, 2016-06-07 Seminar paper from the year 2016 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Literature Works grade A course Literary History and Theory language English abstract Published in 1968 Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep by Philip K Dick the novel is set in a post apocalyptic near future America which is falling apart after a nuclear war called World War Terminus Animals are almost extinct and keeping and owning animals have become an obsession for the remaining society The worst thing a human can do is to harm an animal or to feel nothing at the idea of harming an animal Thus caring for an animal has become symbol of one s humanity However because genuine animals are extremely expensive very few people can afford them and so most people are forced towards the much cheaper electric animals to keep up the pretence To own a real animal is a sign of distinction and prestige Before the story s beginning Deckard owned a genuine sheep but it died and Deckard had to replace it with an electric one Deckard s electric sheep leaves him discontent as he yearns for the prestige that would come with the ownership of a real animal The novel is arguably as influential and relevant today as when it came out Its social commentary and critique of a twenty first century America in the grip of soul crushing hyper capitalism can be said to be poignant still The works of Philip K Dick and in particular Do Androids Dream has attracted a small army of scholars and theorist who have applied everything from psychoanalytical criticism to postmodernism However a Marxist criticism has not been applied to Do Androids Dream so far Such a reading is the focus of this paper as I find that there are several reference to Marxist theory Throughout the novel Dick provides a profound social commentary through the vision of a near future dystopian society Dick vividly demonstrates how consumerism and capitalism can create a society loaded with socialist elements even in a world that has suffered nuclear war Through Deckard who contemplates his place in society via his disdain of his electric sheep Dick forces the reader to consider the importance of material possessions and how they can affect social status One would assume that material things would have less significance in a world that has suffered a nuclear holocaust however Do Androids Dream shows the opposite namely a scenario where one's possessions in society are of the utmost importance To illustrate how a dystopian society would still hold material possessions in such high regard Dick embeds numerous Marxist elements into his work as h

Coherence and the Textual Function in "The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-time" Marieke Jochimsen, 2010-04 Seminar paper from the year 2008 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 2 0 University of Münster Englishes Seminar course Systemic Functional Linguistics language English abstract Wherever we look we see language constituting the world not just reflecting it For instance the words for colours make a reality they don't just name things which are there the spectrum isn't divided into seven primary colours all the colours merge into one another According to structural linguistics by using language we are not reflecting a given reality but are rather construing one Systemic functional grammar developed by M A K Halliday states just this construal feature of language as well That language functions to make meanings and not to only refer to the outside world But furthermore elaborates on how a text makes those meanings It focuses therefore on the functional description of language The basic assumption is that language use is always functional people do not just talk or just write 2 but rather any use of language serves a specific purpose namely to make meanings The primary concern of systemic functional linguistics can therefore be summed up under the questions How is language structured for use 3 How does it make meanings According to Halliday language makes meanings on three different levels simultaneously on the experiential level because it represents experience on the interpersonal level because language is used to interact with each other and on the textual level because we organize our message somehow This research paper will focus on the textual metafunction of language which is the theory of the clause being organized as a message The aim is to show that text itself construes the context by involving meaningful choices concerning what to put in thematic position and by means of cohesion Thus context is not only created through coherence i e the outside knowl

The Empire laughs back. Humour and Irony in the New Literatures in English Margherita Zelante, 2025-07-09 Thesis M A from the year 2005 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2 0 University of Frankfurt Main language English abstract This study analyzes four novels and one short story in English all of which assign a special role to irony and humor The purpose of this analysis is to showcase the richness of irony and examine its impact on the reader To support this some of the most influential works on laughter and humor are discussed including Bergson's Das Lachen Freud's Der Witz und seine Beziehung zum Unbewussten and Bachtin's Literatur und Karneval These theories illustrate how irony and humor can serve as powerful tools for social critique By engaging their audience through laughter authors are able to deliver a more or less bitter commentary on their world challenging taboos and clichés without offending the sensibilities of their communities

Deconstruction of Stereotypes in "East is East" and "Ae Fond Kiss" Marieke Jochimsen, 2010-04 Seminar paper from the year 2008 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 2.0 University of Münster Englishes Seminar course Asian British Culture on Film and TV language English abstract Oh East is East and West is West and never the twain shall meet Till Earth and Sky stand presently at God's great Judgement Seat But there is neither East nor West Border nor Breed nor Birth When two strong men stand face to face though they come from the end of the earth 1 Stereotypes exist everywhere around us and are a natural means to be able to talk about the world However they might result in prejudices and discrimination The stereotypical division into East and West is evidently a too simplistic one since there is nothing matching these expressions in the world This research paper aims to reveal methods of postcolonialism to overcome binary oppositions like East and the West which have been constructed during colonial times through western conception and representation of the East After briefly showing constitutive and simplifying characteristics of language in general an introduction to Edward Said's work Orientalism is given as an example of the creation of the otherness of a specific group Orientalism focuses on how and to which extent the Orient or the East has been created in western notions By this means the necessity for postcolonial discourse is highlighted This so called rewriting of the past can also be observed in the Asian British diaspora The movies East is East and Ae fond Kiss can be interpreted as an example for postcolonial discourse and an attempt to break national or ethnic stereotypes and binary juxtapositions

Adaptation Revisited Sarah Cardwell, 2002 Offering a critical reappraisal of a prolific and popular genre this text also brings new material into the broader field of television studies It surveys the traditional discourses about adaptation unearthing assumptions and misconceptions and explores the problems of previous approaches

Women Write Back Irene Boada-Montagut, 2003 Short story writing has flourished in twentieth century Ireland and Catalonia The genre has attracted some of the finest writers but in particular women authors This book considers the disadvantaged position of women in Irish and Catalan society as refracted through the medium of the short story The writers under discussion include Edna O'Brien Julia O'Faolain Eilís Ní Dhúihne Mary Beckett Clare Boylan Mary Dorsey Angela Bourke Katy Hayes and Anne Devlin Women Write Back also explores the subordinate position of Ireland and Catalonia historically in relation to the metropolitan powers of Britain and Spain respectively The cultural implications of the colonial connection are considered from the viewpoint of women and men The study breaks new ground in placing Ireland and Catalonia within the same comparative framework There are of course differences between the two societies the languages and geographical settings are far removed for instance But on closer analysis it is the similarities which predominate Both are post colonial societies the status of women in many respects is comparable issues of identity and language are to the forefront of consciousness and national debate In this book feminist theorising and post colonial discourses are fruitfully brought to bear on the literary creations of Irish and Catalan short story writers in what might be described also as an exercise in literary decolonization Women Write Back was awarded the distinction of the VI Premios de Ensayo de Catal n Gallego y Vasco for the year 2000 by the Universidad Nacional de Educaci n a Distancia in Spain
