Desert Ecosystem:

Ecology of Desert Systems Walter G. Whitford, Benjamin D. Duval, 2019-08-20 Nearly one third of the land area on our planet is classified as arid or desert. Therefore, an understanding of the dynamics of such arid ecosystems is essential to managing those systems in a way that sustains human populations. This second edition of Ecology of Desert Systems provides a clear, extensive guide to the complex interactions involved in these areas. This book details the relationships between abiotic and biotic environments of desert ecosystems, demonstrating to readers how these interactions drive ecological processes. These include plant growth and animal reproductive success, the spatial and temporal distribution of vegetation and animals, and the influence of invasive species and anthropogenic climate change specific to arid systems. Drawing on the extensive experience of its expert authors, Ecology of Desert Systems is an essential guide to arid ecosystems for students looking for an overview of the field, researchers keen to learn how their work fits in to the overall picture, and those involved with environmental management of desert areas. Highlights the complexity of global desert systems in a clear, concise way. Reviews the most current issues facing researchers in the field, including the spread of invasive species due to globalized trade, the impact of industrial mining, and climate change. Updated and extended to include information on invasive species management, industrial mining impacts, and the current and future role of climate change in desert systems.

Desert Ecosystems Tammy Gagne, 2015-08-01 This title will introduce readers to desert ecosystems, the plants and animals that thrive there, its climate, its food web, any threats to it, and conservation efforts. Readers will also learn about the most well-known deserts and their unique characteristics. Aligned to Common Core Standards and correlated to state standards. Core Library is an imprint of Abdo Publishing, a division of ABDO.

Structure and Function of a Chihuahuan Desert Ecosystem Kris M. Havstad, Laura F. Huenneke, William H. Schlesinger, 2006-07-20 The Jornada Basin LTER is located in the Chihuahuan Desert, the largest in North America. This region of south-central New Mexico has a history of nearly 100 years as the basis for scientific research. This work gives a thorough, encompassing review of the tremendous array of observations resulting from experiments conducted in this ecosystem. Beginning with thorough descriptions of the most salient features of the region, the book then reviews a wide range of archived and active data sets on a diversity of biotic and abiotic features. It next presents a synthesis of important topics, including livestock grazing and remediation efforts. A concluding chapter provides a synthesis of the principles that have emerged from this body of work and how these relate to the broader fields of ecology and natural resource management. It concludes with recommendations for future research directions. The insightful views expressed in this volume should guide management of arid landscapes globally. This is the sixth volume in the Long Term Ecological Network Series.

Management and Development of Agricultural and Natural Resources in Egypt's Desert Ahmed A. Elkhoully, Abdelazim Negm, 2021-05-31 This book reviews the economic potential of various natural resources found in the Egyptian deserts that could help fill the food gap in Egypt, e.g., the date palm, olives, and domestic animals. Bearing in mind that the entire country is subject to arid or hyperarid climatic conditions only a small portion 3% of total area is agriculturally productive in comparison the dominant deserts These aspects combined with a growing population ca 100 million citizens and water resources scarcity have produced severe adverse effects on natural resource utilization This book presents innovative methods for addressing desert soil s key problems soil erosion salinity pollution decreased fertility minerals and weed and pest control Its goal is to help authorities reclaim the desert and optimally utilize the minerals and the available natural resources to support the sustainability agenda 2030 Besides it offers researchers guidance on remaining gaps and future research directions Lastly and importantly it provides essential information on investment opportunities in desert cultivation such as the fields of food fodder and medicinal plants
