Agnes Macphail Reformer:

Agnes Macphail, Reformer Doris Pennington, 1990 Encyclopedia of Women Social Reformers Helen Rappaport, 2001-12-06 The first comprehensive guide to women activists from every part of the world illuminating the broad range of women's struggles to reform society from the 18th century to the present Despite being marginalized disenfranchised impoverished and oppressed women have always stepped forward in disproportionate numbers to lead movements for social change This two volume encyclopedia documents the visions struggles and lives of women who have changed the world This encyclopedia celebrates the lives and achievements of nearly 300 women from around the globe women who have bravely insisted that the way things are is not the way they have to be Nadeshda Krupskaya the wife of Lenin spearheaded the drive against illiteracy in post revolutionary Russia American Dorothy Day founded the Catholic worker movement Begum Rokeya Hossain organized a girls school in Calcutta in 1911 Rachel Carson launched the modern environmental movement with her book Silent Spring The stories of these women and the hundreds of others collected here will restore missing pages to our history and inspire a new generation of women to change the world Agnes Macphail and the Politics of Equality Terence Allan Crowley, 1990 Passing years have only added new lustre to the figure of Agnes Macphail Canada's first woman MP In this biography Terry Crowley offers a heroine for our times with the depiction of Macphail the accomplished politician the committed feminist and the complex well rounded witty human being A democratic populist who emerged politically during the post World War One farmers revolt Macphail helped build the alliance that became the CCF party and ended the two major parties total domination of national political life She later served the CCF as Ontario's first woman MPP In all her activities Macphail was an outspoken advocate of equality and human rights She worked tirelessly to win recognition of women's rights to reform the nation's penal system and to secure international peace She pressed for controls on lobbying and for disclosure of business influences on the media Strong convictions openness to fresh ideas and devotion to democratic values were Macphail's distinguishing characteristics Page 4 of cover Radical Housewives Julie Guard, 2019-03-14 Radical Housewives is a history of Canada's Housewives Consumers Association This association was a community based women's organization with ties to the communist and social democratic left that from 1937 until the early 1950s led a broadly based popular movement for state control of prices and made other far reaching demands on the state As radical consumer activists the Housewives engaged in gender transgressive political activism that challenged the government to protect consumers interests rather than just those of business while popularizing socialist solutions to the economic crises of the Great Depression and the immediate postwar years Julie Guard's exhaustive research including archival research and interviews with twelve former Housewives recovers a history of women's social justice activism in an era often considered dormant and adds a Canadian dimension to the history of politicized consumerism and of politicized materialism Radical Housewives reinterprets the view of postwar Canada as economically prosperous and reveals the left's role in the origins of the food security movement

Women, Power, Politics Sylvia B. Bashevkin, 2009 Women's participation in politics matters very much. Yet in Canada women MPs have been stuck at a level of roughly one fifth since 1993 and Stephen Harper has fewer women in his government than did Brian Mulroney. Although we may believe women are making progress their representation in politics seems decidedly stalled. So it comes as no surprise that we hear little about issues of particular interest to women: breast cancer, violence against women or the poverty of single mothers. In this engaging, no-nonsense and witty book Sylvia Bashevkin argues that Canadians have a profound unease with women in positions of political authority, what she calls the women plus power equals discomfort equation. She explores the specific reasons why this discomfort is particularly severe in Canada. Bashevkin also evaluates a range of barriers faced by women who enter politics, including the media's role in assessing the leadership styles, personal appearances and private lives of female politicians. In clear, accessible terms Bashevkin explains concepts such as gender schemas and media framing in terms of key examples such as Belinda Stronach and Hillary Clinton. Finally Bashevkin outlines some compelling solutions to address the stalemate facing women in Canadian politics.

Religion and Public Life in Canada Marguerite Van Die, 2001-01-01 As this collection of scholarly case studies reveals, religion once played a major public role in all aspects of Canadian society, including politics, education and culture.

Women in World History Anne Commire, Deborah Klezmer, 1999 Presents biographical profiles of significant women from throughout the history of the world, each with birth and death dates when known, a time line, quotation and references, arranged alphabetically from Maa Mei.

Canadian Book Review Annual, 1989

Toeing the Lines Sylvia B. Bashevkin, 1993 This is the only book to examine the political history, attitudes and participation of women in English Canadian political parties. It reviews the background to female enfranchisement and the right to hold public office, sit in the Senate and entrench equal rights in the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. Bashevkin argues that relatively few women are active at elite levels in political parties, particularly in those that hold power or are in a competitive position in the
