Aids Issues Confronting The Challenge:

Confronting Challenges, Maximising Opportunities, 2007 Following the conclusion of the Second World War the countries of the Caribbean faced serious challenges that threatened their individual survival Political independence was meaningless without economic independence and the newly independent states of the Caribbean found themselves severely challenged by an international economic system founded on a development paradigm premised on the belief that the accumulation of wealth was the sole route to prosperity and that creating the conditions for more wealth was the preferred pathway to sustainable development There have been numerous changes to this scenario over the years and Confronting Challenges Maximising Opportunities traces the Caribbean's response to the varying challenges Using market access as the point to highlight specific challenges this collection examines Caribbean Diplomacy and paints a picture of the imperatives for social and economic development and the need for a proactive stance to the conditionalities inherent in market access negotiations

Healthcare Management Strategy, Communication, and Development Challenges and Solutions in Developing Countries Emmanuel K. Ngwainmbi, 2014-05-08 Healthcare Management Strategy Communication and Development Challenges and Solutions in Developing Countries analyzes the ways in which health services public health administration and healthcare policies are managed in developing countries and how intercultural intergroup and mass communication practices are weakening those efforts If developing countries are to reach their development goals their leaders must have a firm understanding of the impact of infectious diseases on their people and take prompt action to fix socioeconomic issues arising from the problems associated with poor health practices Drawing on experiences from international health organizations such as the United Nations Population Fund UNFPA commissioned in poor countries to assist national governments in improving the wellbeing of their citizens this volume analyzes maternal and child mortality and the spread of infectious diseases and offers communication strategies for the management of malaria HIV Aids Polio tuberculosis and others in Somalia Madagascar Ghana South Africa Zimbabwe Nigeria the Democratic Republic of Congo and India

Responses to AIDS Challenges in Brazil Mary Garcia Castro, Lorena Bernadete da Silva, 2005 Framework for Advocacy on Challenges Facing People Living with HIV and AIDS in SADC SADC HIV and AIDS Unit, 2006 Challenges Facing Orphans and Vulnerable Children in Zimbabwe John Ringson, 2026-01-01 This book examines the complexities of OVCs in Zimbabwe situated within the broader context of the Global South and the Southern African region The global community has recognised the importance of protecting children's rights and well being with the United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child CRC serving as a cornerstone of international child rights law In the Global South and Southern Africa poverty inequality and limited access to education and healthcare exacerbate OVC vulnerability Zimbabwe faces significant challenges in addressing OVC issues including the impact of HIV AIDS economic instability and social conflict The book draws on comparative theoretical underpinnings including Ubuntu Philosophy Neoliberalism and African Renaissance

Ubuntu Philosophy emphasises the importance of community and interconnectedness highlighting the need for collective action to support OVCs Neoliberalism prioritises individualism and market driven solutions which can exacerbate the vulnerability of OVC African Renaissance emphasises the need for African led solutions and development prioritising cultural sensitivity and community engagement By examining these theoretical perspectives the book provides a nuanced understanding of OVC care in Zimbabwe highlighting the importance of community led initiatives cultural sensitivity and collective action in supporting OVCs The book s findings have significant implications for policymakers practitioners and researchers working to support OVCs in the Global South Southern Africa and Zimbabwe emphasising the need for context specific and community driven solutions to address the complex challenges facing OVCs

The Challenges of Creating a Global Health Resource Tracking System Elisa Eiseman, Donna Fossum, 2005-03-18 The RAND Corporation conducted interviews consulted with experts and carried out detailed analyses of existing tracking systems that focus on health resources flowing to and within developing countries the objective being to determine how to provide a truly global health resource tracking system that will provide comprehensive accurate up to date data for policymakers and other users and will address the current systems limitations

Primary health care services delivery. Issues and challenges Makar Linus Iornenge, 2020-10-15 Case Study from the year 2020 in the subject Health Health system language English abstract The study attempts to explore the impact and challenges of PHC delivery system with the intension of generating data for policy and planning The goal of primary health care PHC was to provide accessible health for all by the year 2020 and beyond Unfortunately this is yet to be achieved in Nigeria and seems to be unrealistic in the next decade The PHC aims at providing people of the world with the basic health services Though PHC centers were established in both rural and urban areas in Nigeria with the intention of equity and easy access regrettably the rural populations in Nigeria are seriously underserved when compared with their urban counterparts About two thirds of Nigerians reside in rural areas therefore they deserve to be served with all the components of PHC Primary health care which is supposed to be the bedrock of the country

s health care policy is currently catering for less than 20% of the potential patients While most PHC facilities are in various state of disrepair with equipment and infrastructure being either absent or obsolete the referral system is almost non existent The goal of the National Health Policy 1987 is to bring about a comprehensive health care system based on primary health care that is promotive protective preventive restorative and rehabilitative to all citizens within the available resources so that individuals and communities are assured of productivity social well being and enjoyment of living The health services based on PHC include among other things education concerning prevailing health problems and the methods of preventing and controlling them promotion of food supply and proper nutrition material and child care including family planning immunization against the major infectious diseases prevention and control of locally endemic and epidemic diseases and provision of essential drugs and supplies The provision of health care at PHC level is largely the responsibility of local governments with the support of state ministries of health and within the overall national health policy Private medical practitioners also provide health care at this level
