Aging World:

An Aging World Barbara Boyle Torrey, Kevin G. Kinsella, Cynthia Murray Taeuber, 1987 An Aging World Kevin G. Kinsella, Victoria Averil Velkoff, 2001 Provides statistical information on the worldwide population of people 65 years old or older An Aging World DIANE Publishing Company, 1993-05 Shows that the world's elderly population is growing faster than the total population by 800 000 persons each month It is projected that by the year 2010 the worldwide growth of the elderly will be over 1 1 million people a month Consists of demographic social and economic data in 50 countries in both developed and developing nations Charts tables and graphs An Aging World II Kevin G. Kinsella, Cynthia Murray Taeuber, 1993 Preparing for an Aging World National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Committee on National Statistics, Committee on Population, Panel on a Research Agenda and New Data for an Aging World, 2001-07-26 Aging is a process that encompasses virtually all aspects of life Because the speed of population aging is accelerating and because the data needed to study the aging process are complex and expensive to obtain it is imperative that countries coordinate their research efforts to reap the most benefits from this important information Preparing for an Aging World looks at the behavioral and socioeconomic aspects of aging and focuses on work retirement and pensions wealth and savings behavior health and disability intergenerational transfers and concepts of well being It makes recommendations for a collection of new cross national data on aging populations data that will allow nations to develop policies and programs for addressing the major shifts in population age structure now occurring These efforts if made internationally would advance our understanding of the aging process around the world An Aging World Kevin G. Kinsella, Victoria A. Velkoff, 2002-04-01 Our global population is aging and aging at an unprecedented rate One focus of this report is a look at the numbers proportions and growth rates past current and projected of the elderly population A second focus is to summarize socioeconomic statistics for both developed and developing nations This report shows such data for 52 nations when available and reasonably comparative In 2000 these 52 nations contained 77% of the world's total population The report focuses primarily on people aged 65 years and older Illustrated with dozens of tables and graphs Preparing for an Aging World , 2001 An Aging World Kevin G. Kinsella, Victoria Averil Velkoff, 2001 Provides statistical information on the worldwide population of people 65 years old or older Aging in World History David G. Troyansky, 2015-10-05 In Aging in World History David G Troyansky presents the first global history of aging At a time when demographic aging has become a source of worldwide concern and more people are reaching an advanced age than ever before the history of old age helps us understand how we arrived at the treatment of aging in the modern world This concise volume expands that history beyond the West to show how attitudes toward aging the experiences of the aged and relevant demographic patterns have varied and coalesced over time and across the world From the ancient world to the present this book introduces students and general readers to the history of aging on two levels the experience of individual men and women and the transformation of populations With its attention to cultural traditions medicalization decades of historical scholarship and current gerontology Aging in World History is the perfect starting point for an exploration of this increasingly universal aspect of human experience

Shock of Gray Ted Fishman,2012-10-02 In Shock of Gray Ted Fishman explains the astounding economic and political changes we face as our world suddenly grows old

Munsey's Magazine ,1903 The Living Age ,1928 Epoch ,1903 Littell's Living Age ,1916 Munsey's Magazine for ... ,1903 Munsey's Weekly ,1903 The Aging World Anil Bagchi,2005 The world is full of disparities where graying appears as a new social element The demographic change along with the differences in wealth and knowledge will greatly influence the future Globalization will be faster and the knowledge network stronger The slender family and the empty home will see growth of new human emotions which will break away from the confines of biological compulsions Remaining in touch with the planetary network will be the way of the future man Working for the network will be his purpose of life The Aging World is an exploration of the developing challenge The future will not happen it will have to be created in the close world The billion strong elderly will have to join the mainstream economy as the age integrated society will not afford their leisure Prof Ranjit Kumar Chandra the noted immunologist writes Humans are complex organisms their evolution is a result of complex interactions of genes and environment Bagchi has attempted the almost impossible task of looking at the interplay of history demography macroeconomics and sociology and its impact on the aging of world populations His analyses appear convincing It will be interesting to watch how his predictions will unfold in reality
