The Aging of Communism Robert G. Wesson, 1980 The Aging of Communism Robert Wesson, 1980-08-01 Long Lives Deborah Davis, 1991 A Stanford University Press classic Communism's Shadow Grigore Pop-Eleches, Joshua A. Tucker, 2017-05-09 It has long been assumed that the historical legacy of Soviet Communism would have an important effect on post communist states However prior research has focused primarily on the institutional legacy of communism Communism's Shadow instead turns the focus to the individuals who inhabit post communist countries presenting a rigorous assessment of the legacy of communism on political attitudes Post communist citizens hold political economic and social opinions that consistently differ from individuals in other countries Grigore Pop Eleches and Joshua Tucker introduce two distinct frameworks to explain these differences the first of which focuses on the effects of living in a post communist country and the second on living through communism Drawing on large scale research encompassing post communist states and other countries around the globe the authors demonstrate that living through communism has a clear consistent influence on why citizens in post communist countries are on average less supportive of democracy and markets and more supportive of state provided social welfare The longer citizens have lived through communism especially as adults the greater their support for beliefs associated with communist ideology the one exception being opinions regarding gender equality A thorough and nuanced examination of communist legacies lasting influence on public opinion Communism's Shadow highlights the ways in which political beliefs can outlast institutional regimes

The Mediterranean in the Age of Globalization Natalia Ribas-Mateos, 2017-12-02 The Mediterranean in the Age of Globalization is a welcome corrective to the tendency to present globalization as a homogenous concept and the failure to describe how it operates in specific regions Ribas Mateos examines globalization and migration across the Mediterranean using an innovative integrated framework so as to map social places by describing how social political cultural and economic forces are embedded within a globalizing environment The author articulates an original and compelling narrative mapping the Mediterranean as a global place where international and regional forces are intertwined in multiple threads In doing so she identifies two key components of globalization affecting specifically forms of welfare and issues of mobility in the context of a weakening European welfare state and the relocation and reinforcement of Mediterranean borders Nine Mediterranean cities are investigated as gateway cities which shape two major effects of globalization welfare and mobility The book challenges conventional North South perspectives and focuses and systematizes the way international migration should be conceptualized The originality of the book results from the author's fieldwork which is rich in descriptive detail and from a theory centered around global perspectives Seven case studies in Southern Europe Algeciras Athens Barcelona Lisbon Naples Turin and Thrace deal with issues related to migration and the welfare state She also includes two ethnographies that represent two Mediterranean gateways in the North South Mediterranean division Tangiers in Morocco and Durrës in Albania which are mapped as border cities in the global Mediterranean context Because of its intrinsically multidisciplinary nature this superb volume will be of particular interest to academics and social science researchers as well as policymakers and international agencies
