Eastern Christian Worlds:

Eastern Christian Worlds Mahmoud Zibawi, 1995 This stunning book takes readers on a journey to spiritual galaxies which have been too long neglected With a majestic sweep the volume presents through both images and texts a breathtaking view of Middle Eastern Churches past and present specifically in Syria Armenia Egypt and Ethiopia Illustrations throughout Church and State in the Eastern Christian Worlds, 300-1500 John Haldon, 2014-02-28 The Writing of History in the Eastern Christian Worlds 300-1500 Muriel Debie, 2014-02-01 Doctrine and Debate in the East Christian World, 300-1500 Averil Cameron, Robert Hoyland, 2017-05-15 The reign of Constantine 306 37 the starting point for the series in which this volume appears saw Christianity begin its journey from being just one of a number of competing cults to being the official religion of the Roman Byzantine Empire The involvement of emperors had the perhaps inevitable result of a preoccupation with producing promoting and enforcing a single agreed version of the Christian creed Under this pressure Christianity in the East fragmented into different sects disagreeing over the nature of Christ but also in some measure seeking to resist imperial interference and to elaborate Christianities more reflective of and sensitive to local concerns and cultures This volume presents an introduction to and a selection of the key studies on the ways in which and means by which these Eastern Christianities debated with one another and with their competitors pagans Jews Muslims and Latin Christians It also includes the iconoclast controversy which divided parts of the East Christian world in the seventh to ninth centuries and devotes space both to the methodological tools that evolved in the process of debate and the promulgation of doctrine and to the literary genres through which the debates were expressed Looking East in Winter Rowan Williams, 2021-06-24 In many ways we seem to be living in wintry times at present in the Western world In this new book Rowan Williams former Archbishop of Canterbury and a noted scholar of Eastern Christianity introduces us to some aspects and personalities of the Orthodox Christian world from the desert contemplatives of the fourth century to philosophers novelists and activists of the modern era that suggest where we might look for fresh light and warmth He shows how this rich and diverse world opens up new ways of thinking about spirit and body prayer and action worship and social transformation which go beyond the polarisations we take for granted Taking in the world of the great spiritual anthology the Philokalia and the explorations of Russian thinkers of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries discussing the witness of figures like Maria Skobtsova murdered in a German concentration camp for her defence of Jewish refugees and the challenging theologies of modern Greek thinkers like John Zizioulas and Christos Yannaras Rowan Williams opens the door to a climate and landscape of our humanity that can indeed be warmed and transfigured This is an original and illuminating vision of a Christian world still none too familiar to Western believers and even to students of theology showing how the deep rooted themes of Eastern Christian thought can prompt new perspectives on our contemporary crises of imagination and hope Doctrine and Debate in the East Christian World Averil Cameron, Robert G. Cultures of Eastern Christianity: Greek Scott Fitzgerald Johnson, 2017-05-15 This volume brings together a set of fundamental contributions many translated into English for this publication along with an important introduction Together these explore the role of Greek among Christian communities in the late antique and Byzantine East late Roman Oriens specifically in the areas outside of the immediate sway of Constantinople and imperial Asia Minor The local identities based around indigenous eastern Christian languages Syriac Coptic Armenian Georgian etc and post Chalcedonian doctrinal confessions Miaphysite Church of the East Melkite Maronite were solidifying precisely as the Byzantine polity in the East was extinguished by the Arab conquests of the seventh century In this multilayered cultural environment Greek was a common social touchstone for all of these Christian communities not only because of the shared Greek heritage of the early Church but also because of the continued value of Greek theological hagiographical and liturgical writings However these interactions were dynamic and living so that the Greek of the medieval Near East was itself transformed by such engagement with eastern Christian literature appropriating new ideas and new texts into the Byzantine repertoire in the process
