thesis at Bayreuth University Germany The author challenges African Biblical scholars and Christian leaders to premise Biblical interpretation on the experiences of the often neglected underclasses The author argues that from a comparative historical cultural and material methodological point of view the experiences of the Zimbabwean underclasses whose collective ordeal is represented by the experiences of domestic workers are strikingly similar to those suffered by slaves among other underclasses in the biblical world In the same way religion was appropriated by the elite to validate oppression of the underclasses in the biblical world the author shows that since the colonial era Christianity in Africa through biblical interpretation among many other tactics has been an influential force on the side of the dominant class to advance their racial class and gender interests To date in Zimbabwe for example the Bible and religion in general is manipulated by the dominant minority to justify and entrench the exploitation of the majority underclasses On the other hand the author observes that the history of ancient Israel Roman colonial Palestine and colonial Zimbabwe evidences that when religion is appropriated and or the Bible is read and interpreted from the historical cultural and material conditions of the underclasses it can be a valuable resource not only for their mobilization to overthrow oppressive systems but also for justifying their resistance tactics Aluta Continua The Struggle goes on Political Pentecostalism Leandro L.
