Beyond Economic Interests Keiko Yasukawa, Stephen Black, 2016-02-10 Over the last two decades an increasingly economic discourse has dominated discussions about adult literacy and numeracy This book provides critiques of and alternative narratives to the dominant discourse Authors provide tools and methodologies of critique including ways of seeing how policies in the countries of focus come to be captured almost completely by the interests of business and industry as well as how to critically interpret the data that policy makers use to justify their priorities But adult literacy and numeracy practitioners and learners find spaces and places to pursue learning that matters for the lived experiences of adults and their communities Beyond Economic Interests presents the struggles and achievements of practitioners and learners that lead the readers of the book to critically appreciate that a counter narrative to the purely economic discourse of adult literacy and numeracy is much needed and possible Research Concepts for Management Studies Alan Berkeley

Thomas, 2006-09-27 This excellent companion volume to Research Skills for Management Studies Routledge 2003 provides students with an in depth introduction to five key research concepts and the constellation of ideas in which they are situated

Breaking the Boundaries B. Sanyal, 2013-03-09 Exploring the complex arena of international planning for development has until now been uniquely the privilege of influential senior western planners This book calls into question many of their hallowed principles and much of the conventional wisdom still evident in the halls of academe At a time of increasing enrollment of foreign students in North American planning programs the emergence of a new voice has coincided with a growing skepticism worldwide about old notions of planning and development in poorer and ex colonial countries Now there is a need for brave innovations to reshape our understanding of the global crisis and the potential for progressive and democratic local solutions in both rich and poor nations alike This new voice is given expression by academics and professionals from Third World nations who received their planning education in the west and who now hold posts in major western planning schools Breaking the Boundaries presents their views and those of concerned colleagues about the need for a radically changed curriculum based on a comparative one world approach to planning education Their personal experiences as young expatriate scholars and later as teachers of both Third World and First World students in western planning schools are seen as crucial to this need for change Through candid reflections and perceptive critiques of their own field the spatial environmental social design and communications disciplines the contributors explore crucial issues in development planning from theoretical and professional practice perspectives Developments in Sociology Robert Burgess, Anne Murcott, 2014-06-11 Appropriate as a supplemental text to courses in Sociology Providing an overview grounded in research Developments in Sociology focuses on the major areas of theoretical methodological and substantive developments in sociology Each author takes a field of study in which they are an acknowledged expert and highlights the way in which the subject has developed over the last fifty years Access to Information in Africa Fatima Diallo, Richard Calland, 2013-06-15 For a long time Africa has lagged behind global advances in transparency but there are now significant developments on the continent In a ground breaking book Access to Information in Africa brings together for the first time a collection of African academics and practitioners to contribute to the fast growing body of scholarship that is now accumulating internationally This is therefore an African account of progress made and setbacks suffered but also an account of challenges and obstacles that confront both policy makers and practitioners These challenges must be overcome if greater public access to information is to make a distinctive positive contribution to the continent's democratic and socio economic future This book offers a necessarily multi dimensional perspective on the state of ATI in African jurisdictions and the emerging new praxis a praxis that will entail a genuine domestication of the right of access to information on the continent

Methods, Sex and Madness Dr Derek Layder, Julia O'Connell Davidson, 2012-08-21 Social research yields knowledge which powerfully affects our daily lives The facts it generates shape not just how we see ourselves and others but also whether or not we see the existing status quo as normal just and legitimate This book examines and questions the methods used by social researchers to produce such knowledge It focuses chiefly on research into human sexuality and madness It introduces and critically assesses everything from survey methods to participant observation It opens up broader philosophical debates about the nature of knowledge and highlights issues surrounding the ethics and politics of research The book looks at the research community and the research process in detail before moving on to examine the main techniques used in social research the use of official statistics the survey method interviewing laboratory observation ethnography the use of documentary sources textual analysis By exploring both technical and conceptual problems in the work of researchers like Freud and Kinsey and by considering the difficulties faced by researchers concerned with phenomena such as rape witch hunts and prostitution this book makes methodological issues both interesting and accessible

The Statistician ,1981 Documentary Research John Scott,2006-03-27 Documentary research is one of the three major types of social research and arguably has been the most widely used of the three throughout the history of sociology and other social sciences The key issues surrounding types of documents and our ability to use them as reliable sources of evidence on the social world must be considered by all who use documents in their research VOLUME ONE Theory and Methods in Documentary Research VOLUME TWO Personal Documents Autobiographies Letters and Photographs VOLUME THREE Published Sources the Mass Media and Cyber Documents VOUME FOUR Official Reports Administrative Records and Official Statistics Making Research Work Dorota Iwaniec,John Pinkerton,1998-11-09 This volume examines issues associated with policy and practice in child care research It aims to help professionals and researchers recognise and respond to specialist issues which arise as problems at different stages of the research process Freire for the Classroom Ira Shor,1987 An anthology of essays by teachers using Paulo Freire s methods in their classrooms Growing Up John R. Morss,Tim Linzey,1991 The study of human development in New Zealand as elsewhere was long dominated by the theories of the Swiss psychologist Jean Piaget In recent years however Piaget s ideas have been increasingly challenged and even discredited Piaget it was discovered was unable to recognise the significance of social cultural or gender differences in development His only way of portraying development was as a universal sequence of stages Moreover Piaget s account of developmental change stopped at adolescence What are the implications of the eclipse of Piaget How do we study human development here and now after Piaget Growing up tackles these questions head on It does so in an accessible manner and in a New Zealand context Having summarised the reasons for Piaget s decline the contributors explore alternatives In particular they discuss Vygotsky and Bronfenbrenner which attempt to take account of the social cultural and historical contexts of individual development The emphasis throughout is on the need for explanation to be localised and specific Therefore special attention is paid to the New Zealand context and to issues of gender of race and of disability The role of research is also given critical attention since research in general has made the same assumptions of universality of which Piaget is now accused Growing up therefore introduces readers to a wide range of research methods and shows that the traditional psychology based methods are problematic Back cover Data Collection in Context Stephen Ackroyd,J. A.
