Miller,1987 Crossing Boundaries Eric Cambridge,Jane Hawkes,2017-04-30 Interdisciplinary studies are increasingly widely recognised as being among the most fruitful approaches to generating original perspectives on the medieval past In this major collection of 27 papers contributors transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries to offer new approaches to a number of themes ranging in time from late antiquity to the high Middle Ages The main focus is on material culture but also includes insights into the compositional techniques of Bede and the Beowulf poet and the strategies adopted by anonymous scribes to record information in unfamiliar languages Contributors offer fresh insights into some of the most iconic survivals from the period from the wooden doors of Sta Sabina in Rome to the Ruthwell Cross and from St Cuthbert s coffin to the design of its final resting place the Romanesque cathedral at Durham Important thematic surveys reveal early medieval Welsh and Pictish carvers interacting with the political and intellectual concerns of the wider Insular and continental world Other contributors consider what it is to be Viking revealing how radically present perceptions shape our understanding of the past how recent archaeological work reveals the inadequacy of the traditional categorisation of the Vikings as incomers and how recontextualising Viking material culture can lead to unexpected insights into famous historical episodes such as King Edgar s boat trip on the Dee Recent landmark finds notably the runic inscribed Saltfleetby spindle whorl and the sword pommel from Beckley are also published here for the first time in comprehensive analyses which will remain the fundamental discussions of these spectacular objects for many years to come This book will be indispensable reading for everyone interested in medieval culture Guide to Northern Archaeology Christian J Thomsen,RSNA Copenhagen,1836-05-03 It is not less certain that monuments and remains of antiquity other than literary have a just claim to be considered as indirect sources for the same historical result Christian Thomsen Guide to Northern Archeology Guide to Northern Archeology 1848 by Christian Thomsen is a comparative history of craftsmanship and technology Instead of considering the authenticity of individual objects however Thomsen looked at the way objects can define the ages of prehistory stone bronze and iron and he argued for the value of objects as historical sources The purpose of his book was to explain the comparative methodology he had developed as the Curator of the National Museum of Denmark while giving credit to the support he received from the Royal Society of Northern Archeology by taking their case to a wider European scholarly audience Travel & Tourism Bibliography and Resource Handbook Jeanne Gay,1981 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress,1976 A Research Guide to the Ancient World John M.
