Uniform Fantasies Jeffrey Schneider, 2023-07-26 Starting in the nineteenth century in Germany colourful military uniforms became a locus for various queer male fantasies fostering an underground sexual economy of male prostitution as well as a political project to exploit the army's prestige for queer emancipation In the first decade of the twentieth century however a series of scandals derailed this emancipatory project Simultaneously public debates began to invoke homosexuality sadism transvestism and other sexological concepts to criticize military policies and practices In pursuing the threads with which queer authors and activists stitched their fantasies about uniforms Jeffrey Schneider offers fresh perspectives on key debates over military secrecy disciplinary abuses in the army and German militarism Drawing on a vast trove of materials ranging from sexological case studies trial transcripts and parliamentary debates to queer activist tracts autobiographies and literary texts Uniform Fantasies uncovers a particularly modern set of concerns about such topics as outing closeted homosexuals the presence of gay men in the military and whether men in uniform are more masculine or more insecure about their sexual identity     Business Rhetoric in German Novels Ernest Schonfield, 2018 Argues on the evidence of nine major German novels that literature and business have in common a reliance on language understood in a creative performative and rhetorical sense     German Film & Literature Eric Rentschler, 2013-10-15 First Published in 1986

This collection of essays by an international team of scholars is the first sustained investigation in any language of the historical interactions between German film and literature. It is a book about adaptations and transformations about why filmmakers adapt certain material at certain times. The major impetus at work is the desire to expand the field of adaptation study to include sociological, theoretical, and historical dimensions and to bring a livelier regard for intertextuality to the studies of German film and literature. It is concerned with the ways in which filmmakers in Germany from Pabst and von Sternberg to Fassbinder, Herzog, and Sanders-Brahms have engaged and been engaged by literary history.

Cinema of Collaboration Mariana Ivanova, 2019-10-03. From their very inception, European cinemas undertook collaborative ventures in an attempt to cultivate a transnational film Europe. In the postwar era, it was DEFA, the state cinema of East Germany, that emerged as a key site for cooperative practices. Despite the significant challenges that the Cold War created for collaboration, DEFA sought international prestige through various initiatives. These ranged from film exchange in occupied Germany to partnerships with Western producers and from coproductions with Eastern European studios to strategies for film co-authorship. Uniquely positioned between East and West, DEFA proved a crucial mediator among European cinemas during a period of profound political division.
